During the period I have been in public life-nearly a quarter of a century-wonderful progress has been made in the development of the great natural resources of this Province and of other industries essential to the life and prosperity of a country.

New territories have been opened up by the enstruction of railways. The laws have been enacted by your own representatives, and have been justly administered. Civil and religious liberty is secured to all classes, and education is free and accessible in every section I think we have reason to be proud of the record of progress and material prosperity of our Province, and if we contemplate the depression, especially in the agricultural industry in other lands, we should be grateful for the measure of promiser youchsafed to On-

of Agriculture and Arts for the South Riding I receive with great satisfaction the expression of your feelings of sincere loyalty to our beloved Queen, and I shall cause them to be communicated through the proper channel,

I thank you for the hearty welcome you have given me to the County which bears the honorable name of Victoria. Your County is comparatively a new one, but the statistics to which you refer show very satisfactory progress in settlement, and that your people are keenly alive to the advantages to be derived from religious and educational establishments, and from the opening up of the County by means of railways. The enterprise you have shown in this respect deserves the success you have attained. I must also congratulate you on the great development which has taken place in the natural rescurces of your County. Vast tracts of timber however, still remain to be utilized, and vast mineral deposits to be mined, and from both these sources, you may expect ample returns for your people. I am sure that I will see among those attending this Exhibition, and in the exhibits of the produce of the field, farm, forests and workshop, good with other portions of Ontario.

Your kind approbation of my appointment to the important office of Lieutenant Governor of my native Province is very gratifying, and I hope I may continue to merit the good opinion you have formed as to the manner in which I shall discharge my duties.

It affords Mrs. Kirkpatrick and myself much pleasure to be with you to-day, and to assist in the opening of the tenth annual exhibition held under your auspices. From the manner in which you have received us to-day we isel assured that should it be our good fortune to again visit you, we shall receive a right royal and loyal reception

Mr Warden and Members of the Council of the Corporation of the County of Victoria.

I am deeply sensible of the heartiness of your welcome accorded to me on this the occasion of my first official visit to your county. It affords me much pleasure to meet so many of your people and to become acquainted with the men who have in so few years wrought so great a change in this county and changed it from a wilderness to a populous and thriving county, with stords means of communication with the markets of the world, and with The party then proceeded to the Benson

These Col. Kirkpatrick inspected and complimented very highly.

After luncheon the school children marched to the grounds, and at 1 o'clockethe guard of honor and the band led the distinguished party. There were in the carriagest Lient.

The statistics which you have mentioned in your address tell of the wonderful progress made in the development of your county and of the successful efforts made to cultivate and elevate the moral and intellectual sentiment of the people-all which is most gratifying to every well-wisher of his country. I appreciate your kindly references to myself and beg to assure you that it sffords Mrs. Kirkpatrick and myself much pleasure to visit your county and see the evidences of prosperity and progress among you.

The happy references to the late lamented George Laidlaw were well received. Speeches were then made by the Lieut .-Governor and Hon Mr. Dryden; the children sang "God Save the Queen," British Grenadiers", and "Rule Britannia", after which the exhibits were inspected and a pleasant afternoon passed.

scores of residents of Victoria were introduced to the distinguished visitors and nothing could be more pleasant, In the evening a reception and a visit to the fire works occupied the time. At ten o'clock His Honor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick retired to rest in their car, leaving at midnight for Woodstock. Lindsay and Victoria will long remember with gratitude and heartfelt kindness the visit of His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor Kirkpatrick and his more than accomplished lady, Mrs. Kirkpatrick. The fair is a good one this year. Lists and notes next week. A fine gray trotting horse broke its leg in the green race and was shot on the ground on Tuesday It belonged to Andy Brown of Lindsay. It was fitted up with a "pacing" harness. A subscription was promptly taken
