A space in this paper and pay the printer for putting ink on it. Then if the ink strikes your eye we have accomplished our object. The more printers' ink we get in your eye the better our business. You see the point? We want you to read our ads. and we want your trade.

Watches and watch repairing. We are old fashioned enough to believe that good and reliable goods and work will bring us custom and inspire our customers with confidence. Our increasing business confirms this belief.

Our aim is to excel in good work and to handle goods that will be a credit to ourselves and a source of satisfaction to those who deal with us.

We carry always a splendid stock of gold, gold filled, silver and nickel watches and can satisfy the most exacting either as to style, quality or price.

Our special watches the "MIDLAND" and "VICTORIA" lead the van. Made of the best material and with the utmost care they are in time-keeping qualities, durability, and beauty second to none and superior to most others.

They are made to order especially for us and we stake our reputation on their good qualities. Nothing is left undone to have the "MIDLAND" and "VICTORIA" worthy to bear our trade mark, and the public may rest assured that our name shall not be placed upon any but watches of superior excellence.

It must not be imagined however, that these are the only kinds of watches we have.

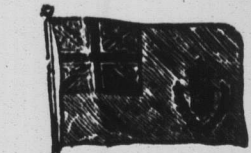

On the contrary there is nothing in watches desirable or suitable for the trade in this locality that is not to be found in our stock.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 10 1893

A union of hearts and a union of hands a union none can sever; a union of homes and a union of lands and the flag, BRITISH UNION, forever.

DESPITE KNIVES AND FOOLS CANADA HOLDS HER OWN.

"Remember that land in a Toronto business section sold for $2,800 a foot the other day, and then glance at the two following pictures: 'An estate at Caidge, in Essex, England, has just been sold for $3,400, although an offer of $8,500 was vainly made for it 20 years ago.

"D. B. Hill, Democratic Senator from New York, has just purchased for $25,000 a villa and grounds on the banks of the Hudson, near Albany, that represented an expenditure within the last two years of little less than $200,000."

The above extract merely serves to show the dishonesty of those who would lead Canadians to believe their farm lands and their only have fallen in value in recent years. People may as well be honest, and admit what a child can see, that wherever high priced lands come into competition with cheap or free prairie land the high prices must lower. Those who talk otherwise are either knaves or fools, perhaps both; i.e. knaves in their pretensions and tools in seeking to deceive an intelligent public.

MORE RELIGION IN SCHOOLS; BUT LESS CHURCH INFLUENCE.

Archbishop Tache of Winnipeg, wishes more religion in both protestant and roman catholic schools. So does THE WARDER. But, as religion and church influence are essentially different, we seriously object to any church influence whatever in schools.

When we are shown any necessity or benefit possible to arise from church meddling in schools then we will admit it. As yet superstition and bogus claims of "conscience" alone are advanced.

In turnip fields, lumber camps, threshing bees, logging bees people are congregated; then why not also have it law that churches should send preachers and priests to such gatherings? They might be called on to work, it is true; but they would be as necessary there as in the public schools.

Religion is man's duty to God. Teach by example what man's duty is to man and the duty towards God follows as a matter of course.

THE TORONTO NEWS IS RIGHT.

"Cleveland favors the annexation of the Dominion to the Republic. A canvass of Congress shows a surprising unanimity of feeling in favor of the same policy.

But Canada, the party most interested in the proposed deal, is decidedly opposed to it; and, until a change of feeling takes place here, unanimity of feeling on the other side of the lines will not count for much.—Toronto News."

There seems nothing likely to cause a change in Canadian sentiment.

MERCIEUR ON ANNEXATION.

New York, Jan. 30th.—Honore Mercier, ex-Premier of Quebec, who arrived to-day from Europe, said, "Three-fourths of the people of the Province of Quebec are in favor of annexation. All through Canada there is a general sentiment in favour of continental union. 'God placed no barriers,' said M. Mercier, 'no gates or anything else between this country and Canada. Why should there be any now?'"

From M. Mercier's view-point certainly there should be nothing in the way of annexation. But others have good and substantial reasons for objecting. It is unnecessary to discuss the subject.

WHAT DUTIES DO FARMERS PAY TO THE DOMINION TREASURY?

Some designing persons try to make farmers and townsmen believe that a portion of the taxes raised by their township collectors annually goes into the treasury of the Dominion of Canada. Very few farmers can be deceived by such doctrines. They know those taxes go to the township, the county and the province, but not a cent to the Dominion Government.

"But," says one, "do not farmers pay anything into the Dominion treasury?" Certainly they do. One would not find a farmer in Canada mean enough to wish to avoid paying his fair share of the public burdens of Canada; but the point to arrive at is do they pay more than their share?

Let us examine. Mr. Justice Armour last summer announced from the Bench at Stratford that the National Policy took $500 out of him yearly, in duties on imported goods. That was the intention of the founders, to throw the burdens on luxuries, and let farmers, mechanics, and the working classes off as lightly as possible.

The farmer under Reform rule paid millions into the public treasury in taxes on tea, coffee, spices, sugars, in short on almost everything used on the table. Under the National Policy these are free. Sugar is almost as cheap as sand; tea and coffee were never so low in price.

The ordinary wearing apparel of the farmer, cottons, woollens, leathers, are made at home and are sold more cheaply than in any other place where free labor can be had. In the United States they are much higher grade for grade than in Canada. This is proven by the fact that when residents of the United States visit Canada they buy up as much clothing as they require and take it back made up to their homes. The cause of the cheapness of such articles here is that the raw material is admitted free to Canada. This gives a double benefit. Employment is given at home to mechanics and artisans, and these in turn consume the produce of Canadian farms and industries.

In agricultural implements also the Canadian farmer has a great advantage over other nationalities. According to the Globe special reports agricultural implements are much dearer there than here. That merely tallies with official reports and general observation.

Binder twine on the authority of the Globe, as well as on every other, was an average of two cents per pound cheaper in Canada than in the United States last year. In coal oil the prices are not lower than in the United States, but they are as low as in many places there.

The farmers are protected in every article possible and year with year, that protection is a large item in their favor. Given free trade, and Mr. Justice Armour and thousands of others living in luxury would be freed from paying that extra $500. Those amounts would necessarily come out of some one. Under free trade there is always direct taxation, as the poor English farmer knows in his case to the tune of $5 per acre. The farmers of Canada with their broad acres would find that where each now con-

Collegiate Institute Notes.

The regular meeting of the Collegiate Literary Society was held last Friday evening Feb. 7th. The program consisted of the inauguration speeches of the newly-elected officers and the reading of Miss E. Minnie's of the letter from Miss Mary acknowledging the receipt of the New Year's gift from the Collegiate. The following is a copy of the letter:—

To the pupils of the Lindsay Collegiate Institute:—

Your New Year's greetings coming as they did in the form of so acceptable a gift accompanied by words testifying your good-will towards me gave me much pleasure. It is a source of regret to me that through some misunderstanding I was unable to meet you all once more and thank you personally, however I write to you now to thank you for this year kind remembrance of me, and to tell you that although I am no longer directly engaged in the work with you, my interest in the Lindsay Collegiate Institute does not cease, and that reports which may reach me of the success of the school or of your individual success will always be a source of the greatest satisfaction to me.

REPRESENTATIVE BODIES AND VOTE BY BALLOT.

Recently the council of the town of Lindsay selected the assessors by ballot, and the county council appointed the Warden in the same manner.

While it is undoubtedly fair and right that each individual in voting should do so by ballot, for he then represents himself, yet the representatives of the people should not be permitted to vote by ballot. No member of any representative body should cast a vote to which every elector should not have access.

Those gentlemen do not represent themselves at all. They are the servants of the people. As well have members of parliament vote by ballot. No man holding a position to which the people have elected him should presume to try to hide how he votes. No man is fit for public office who fears to face a vote.

IRISH HOME RULE.

The Irish Home Rule Bill has been introduced into the British Parliament, and is causing much discussion.

The weakest reason ever offered for a measure was that given by Baron Herschel the reform leader of the House of Lords, that it was desirable to pass it owing to the opposition that would otherwise be raised by the Irishmen in the United States. And has it come to that, that the man occupying the position of leader of a party, of a government in the House of Lords of Great Britain, admits himself influenced by a foreign mob? It was bad enough to set free red handed murderers. It is worse to cover before a lot of English-haters in the slums of the United States.

The reaction is already setting in against Gladstone he having lost a seat in a by-election last week. The issue was squarely the Irish question.

Ireland has no wrongs as compared with any other part of the civilized world. A portion of her people and leaders are demanding freedom from self-government as an integral part of the grand British Empire, and are seeking to substitute therefor the terrible tyranny of romanism. The loyalists of Ireland will be perfectly justified in resorting to arms before submitting to such measures. Junius truly says "The subject who is truly loyal to the chief magistrate will neither advise nor submit to arbitrary measures." Right to resist oppression is one of the cardinal principles of responsible government.

THE REVOLUTION GOES ON FROM ROMANISM.

Almost daily the public is informed of some new clergyman or prominent layman who has severed his connection with the roman catholic church. But recently a priest who was formerly in charge at Vroomanston in Ontario county bade adieu to romanism and adopted the protestant faith. He is n. w. we are informed, in charge of a large congregation in Pennsylvania.

A few weeks ago Rev. Dr. Snell of Baltimore, Maryland, secretary to the roman catholic college there, one of the leading clergymen of the United States, severed his connection with romanism. His views are very independent.

Victoria too furnishes a considerable list of young and middle aged men who have, since leaving this country, withdrawn from clerical control and are no longer members of the roman catholic church. They belong to the ablest and best families of the country. These are merely types of millions in Canada and the United States.

Rome, dreading the entire dissolution of her old dogmatic institution is playing the liberal role. Dr. McGlynn has been restored to the church without retracting or apologizing for one word of his liberal utterances. Other concessions are being made in the hope of retaining the more liberal adherents of that body.

Well, if romanism could be remodelled from within and become a reformed church, abjure all its tyrannies, superstitions and practices untrue to mankind, it would be entitled to respect as a protestant organization.

Let the spread of intelligent independence continue until all mankind shall be free, is the wish of THE WARDER. But protestant clergymen should profit by the gradual enfranchisement of roman catholics as well as protestants and not blindly condemn liberalism in religious thought. They are more human beings and must reason with reason. They too have many dark age barbarisms clinging to their grand old ship, which seriously retard its progress through the sea of life. Let these be removed, and passengers will be more numerous.

Bronchitis Cured.

CHATELAIN.—I suffered four or five years from bronchitis and a severe hacking cough, and could get nothing to do me any good. A friend told me to get Chatelain's Peppermint Cure, and I did so with good result. Two bottles cured me and I hardly know what a cold is now. ARTHUR STONE, Guelph.—72-2

As I look back over my life at the Collegiate Institute I realize more fully than ever before how pleasant you helped to make it by your hearty co-operation both in the work of the class room and in all projects formed for the advancement of the school. You seemed to understand that study carries with it great strength, in the school room as well as other departments of life, and that the best results can be obtained only by the united efforts of pupils and teachers.

But ever greater pleasure has been afforded me by the success which I found among you of a spirit of honor and loyalty, and it is this high moral sense that I wish especially to commend and to bring before your notice, for it lies at the foundation of the ideal character.

For the future I wish you even greater success in your studies than you have had in the past, bidding you remember that this success cannot be obtained without application. From what I know of you, and I have been in a position to know you well, I feel justified in saying that the pupils who are yet to graduate from the Lindsay Collegiate Institute will reflect honor on those who have gone before, and that like their predecessors they will be distinguished not only for scholarly attainment but also for high principle and nobility of character.

I hope that some at least, if not all of us, shall meet again, and that our meeting will be one of friends whose lives at one time touched and left an influence both beneficial and lasting. Yours sincerely,

A. E. MARY.

305 Gordon St., Kingston, 21st Jan., 1893.

We wish to acknowledge the kindness of THE WARDER in supplying the printed forms in connection with Miss Mary's presentation.

The annual sale of periodicals will be held on Friday evening, Feb. 10th, at 4 15 p.m. All the leading monthly and weekly magazines and journals will be sold by auction at reduced rates. We extend an invitation to the public to attend and thus form to their own interests.
