A LIVE MINISTER.

When young Mr. Daly, one of the members from Manitoba, became Minister of the Interior last fall many were in doubt whether or not he would be sufficiently experienced to grapple with such a large department, for it will be remembered, Immigration had just been placed under the Interior Department in addition to the many branches already there. The public will be pleased to know that not unly do North West questions receive Hon. Mr. Daly's prompt attention, but every branch is well looked after, his unsiring energy everywhere making itself felt. In immigration vigorous measures are being taken to secure the very best classes from Europe, and to prevent inferier persons from coming to Canada. It is not expected much will be done during 1893, but preparations are being made for great settlement in 1894 and succeed-

Residents of Victoria and Haliburton counties will be pleased to know that the mineral regions in their borders are to whatever development the recources of the Geological Department can produce. In response to our representations Hon. Mr. Daly writes as follows :-

OTTAWA, 1st March, 1893
DEAR MR. HUGHAS.—With further reference to your letter to me of the 9th ultimo requesting that a geological survey be made of the following townships:
—Dalton, Digby, Laxton, Somerville, Lutterworth, Anson, Hindon, Sherborne, Stanhope, Minden, Snowdon and Galway, I beg to say that arrangements have been I beg to say that arrangements have been made to commence the examination of these townships next summer.

Believe me, yours faithfully,

T. MAYNE DALY,

Munister of the Interior.

Last year he parted company with the conservatives, and has become a bitter opponent. His speech was a surprise to us. We had looked for a broad liberal utterance, especially broad op religious lines, but imagine our surprise to hear the honorable member f r L'Islet, Mr. Tarte, speak in French, and appeal to the worst prejudices of reman cathelicism. allowed the Act of the Province of Manitoba abeliabing separate schools. "The rights of the minority" were dilated on at great length, and dire threats of vengeance were made if the "rights" of the roman catholic enterch were not granted. "Count" Mercier of Quebec sat in the gallery and smiled approvingly en his friends below doing battle against the govern when D'Alton McCarthy, the anti French fire eater, in a bitter speech supported Mr. Tarte Much as he would have the people of Ontart believe he hates French Canadians he yet evidently loves them more than he does the government. No one a week previously would have believed D'Alton McCerthy or Col. O'Brien could be guilty of such chicanery, or would have j feed hand in hand with Mercier Learier and Tarte to condemn the govern-ment, Yet hey spoke for Mr. Tarte's amendment condemning the government, and they voted for it aim. The division was 70 for Tarte's amountment and 120 against it.

In their speeches each to k sp-cial round of als own. Tarte's role was roman eatholic and French "rights." McCarthy's was a dis tortion of the Government's curse. In his Mejer Corpenter, Dr. Roome Col. Terwhite seel to make a point he aciberately misquoted R. S Whit, D. Sproule, Mejer Hughes, W from Bagehot and was brought to task by Prof. Weldon of Halifax. Mr. McCarthy seemed greatly surprised to find that a score of members besides himself are familiar with of members besides himself are familiar with works on constitutional history, law, and usage. That was the greatest blow delivered to McCarthy. To be daught falsifying authorities or mis quoting is deemed in political life to be on a per with hen-roost robbery in civil matters. Prof. Weldon warned Mr. McCarthy in advance that he would expose him; but instead of taking time by the forefock and explaining his deception, Mr. McC rthy sneaked out of the House and was absent when Prof. Weldon delivered a wall deserved. when Prof Waldon delivered a well deserved and scathing exposure. The incident is merely one of many which prove McLarthy to be a very ordinery, ay, less than ordinary mortal after all, No public man in Canada so built up a rep tation on the suite of Od Sir John Masdouald; and now that the master genius is gone the inferior dominant qualities of Mr. McCarthy are asserting themselves. An incident in Friday's debate unmasked

An incident in Fridey's debate anmeshed the great O'Brien also. He paws the earth or rather the granite rocks of Muskoka, leading the electors to believe he is anxious to wade through French Canadian gore and to abe ish Separate schools, His alliance with Mesers. they alone, joined McCarthy and O'Brice in the vote.

What a speet sie for the friends of McCarthy and O'B ion to be seen leagued with Mercier, and nitramentane remeasen.

But, on Triday last, he wrecked the last plank in his at Mr. McCarthy's "independent" platform by coming out flat footed in favor of apholding reman-catholic and other separate schools is the Routh-West Territorities among the Indians. What weeks for There are many now who, in reviewing the brief spanmodic "independent" careers of those two "patriots," now assert that their course against French-Canadians, and their seeming opposition to separate schools were merely to create capital to Outerio. At all events from one end of G-made to the other they are rapidly becoming known. Their influence might have been great for good, but now also they are allied with the very elements they have long condemned.

Mr. McCarthy's silly remark ament "Star Chumber" practice is childish. Only two reporters in the entire press gallery but saw through the deception. His overdraw, comparison deceived no one but himself. He must remember that the public and also the press reporters are familiar with a few facts in constitutional history and knew that with responsible gavernment in the type of William.

We had the pleasure of a call on flow Principal Urant at his residence at Queen's College. The opportunity also presented itself for calling on fir, and fire Pilkie, send-lew and daughter of Mr. J. Glemmey Little Britain, and Mr. Foir and Miss Marty. All seem to the Queen's. Our old friends Mr. and Mrs. Juhn Macdensid and their splendid children were not forgotten in our hurried visit, The ban quat wis a success. Mr. Wallace made the speech of the evening, a telling one. Capt. Gaskin reviewed his trip to Great Britain; several Kingstenians speke well among them Rev. D. C. Bandereen, methodist elergymen there, a fine tellow. We also had our word.

This week we will prebably attend Grand Lodge one day at Orangeville. The cause is prospering all over Canada.

Hon, Mr. Wallace should feel highly honored. Despite the most persistent effects of the grits only a few orange lodges have failed to sudores his course in scorpting office under Sir John Thompson, while thousands of congravalations have been showered on him from all quarters. Some lodges have regretted he did not enter the Cabinet, but the concensus of opinion is go eral that the intrigue of grit heelers has been thwarted. Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec, Outaria East Grand Lodge all have marfully recognized the honor conferred on their Grand Master, and have refused to play the game of the Jesuits by dividing their ranks. In Outario West Grand Lodge a few are striving to play the Jesuits game of dissension but it will doubtless fail.

Hos. Mr. Blake is evidently "taking" in England as the following will show:

Mr. Blake is unquestionably a man of gradicapacity, and he is a ready debater. Houtterances, however, have the merits and demerits of transatientic oratory. He was diffuse, and he piled word on word in his sentences with needless redundancy. And the sentences! Never yet have I heard such lengthy ones.
