SPRING

To our Friends Customers, Buyers:

Gough Brothers desire to thank you for the steady support accorded them during the past year, and particularly that of the winter season just closed.

It is fitting that they should so do, for even after the strenuous exertions and untiring application now necessitated to secure and hold one's trade, individual preference largely determines where the customer will buy.

It is true we offer our best service. We would not do less. We can hardly do more. The preference given our store has encouraged as it has helped us to keep up to the work and in the van of competitors seeking trade.

Gough Brothers do not know what a bad season means, and will not if every legitimate business resource will aid to guard against it. Our last season was a fairly remunerative one. Our February and March sales of this year are ahead of all records of the House. We venture to assume that this shows that our way of doing business is a popular one.

Hoping to have the pleasure of meeting all our old friends, and of enlarging the number very materially, We remain, respectfully,

GOUGH BROTHERS

FARM SOLD.—Mr. William Channon has purchased the well known Williams' farm north halves of lots 23 and 24, in 8th concession of Mariposa, 138 acres, paying for it $11,000. Mr. Channon evidently does not think the country is going to the dogs as the blue ruin knight and his confederates are asserting. The reason is easily seen. Mr. Channon is one of the plucky conservatives of Mariposa, and has faith in the country and the liberal-conservative government.

SERIOUS, AT CRIMINAL. We believe has been the conduct of at least two of Lindsay's second rate butchers during recent weeks. One of these bought an animal with a lump on its jaw and sold it as "Easter Beef." The same man bought two animals each of which had broken a leg, and another that had gone mad and had to be shot while being driven from Port Perry or Mariposa way into Victoria. It is well known that animals with "lumpy jaw" are unfit for food, and it is criminal to use them. Their milk is well as their flesh is liable to convey the disease of cancer to human beings. Flesh of animals with broken legs is unfit for food, for inflammation renders meat dangerous. While it is not so serious a crime as the other, it is a criminal act to sell the meat of such. The flesh of the mad bull, also, was certainly unfit for food. The farmer selling a cancerous animal may be less criminal than the butcher buying it; but there can be no possible excuse for the butcher who deliberately sells the flesh. The sooner such practices are stamped out the better for humanity. There is another side to the question. Honest butchers are obliged to compete with those selling such cheap meat. It was our intention to have exposed the butcher chiefly guilty, but at the special request of honest butchers of the town we simply present at present the criminal aspect of the case. The decent butchers say the farmers know what butchers go to with diseased animals. But we want the town public to know. However, for the present we yield to the request of honest butchers and state the names of the unworthy offender. It certainly displays a forbearing spirit on the part of the decent butchers.

HYPNOTISM.—Success of Mr. Hodgson. This science long partially known under various names such as mesmerism, animal magnetism, etc., has been developed in recent years to a wonderful extent and exhibits the greatest power of the human mind. The science has long been used in many European centres to assist in surgery by relieving the nervous and mental shock under operations. On Monday night Mr. Hodgson who by the way is an old Port Perry and Whitby boy, now of Toronto, began a week's engagement in the Academy of Music here. His success has been marked throughout and the entertainments from the base of science, instruction and amusement amply repay regular attendance. Out of twenty-two subjects presenting themselves Mr. Hodgson was successful in hypnotizing sixteen, viz., up to Wednesday evening. The young men simply give way to their natural inclinations when under the influence, and the results are amusing. On Thursday night Mr. Hodgson proposed to have teeth extracted from some of those hypnotized. Dentists, newspaper editors, medical men and others were invited to the platform and from past experience Mr. Hodgson has no doubt of the successful result. The dentists of the town were to do the work. The result will be announced next week for we go to press on Thursday night. Some persons look on with surprise, with dread, but in the whole range of successful hypnotism not one injurious result has been known. On the contrary, many men have been cured of drinking, and other injurious habits by it; and medical and dental science has been vastly improved. For many a year as our readers know, we have favored a study of the science, as revealing a better understanding of the human mind, the great lever of the world. By all means let every citizen who can attend Mr. Hodgson's meetings do so, and it will never be regretted. In the form of amusement he reveals the science.

Y.P.S.O.E. NOTES.—The next meeting of the Lindsay local union of Christian Endeavor will be held in the Presbyterian church next Monday night at 8 o'clock. The programme will consist of five papers bearing on different phases of the young christian's obligations and an address by Rev. A. Macaulay of Woodville, president of the county union. Everybody welcome. The following officers were elected at the semi-annual meeting held last Monday night in the Cambridge St. church:—President, J. L. Allan; vice-president, A. W. Maund; Rec.-Sec'y, H. S. Porter; Cor.-Sec'y, Miss L. Rogers; treasurer, Miss L. Braden. This society is doing good work.

FIRE.—On Saturday night about nine o'clock an alarm of fire sounded, when it was found that the stable of Sam Bullock, in the east ward, was on fire. The firemen quickly responded, but from the inflammable nature of the contents it was found impossible to save the building with the contents, all of which latter which were saved being the horse and a cow. The loss is estimated at over $300, insurance of $70 on the contents. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lantern that Mr. Bullock was using in the stable where he was attending to his horse previous to retiring for the night. On Tuesday afternoon and night there were two alarms, one in the afternoon being caused by a burning chimney, the other from clothes in a closet taking fire from a lamp, fortunately neither required the interference of the firemen, although the alarm was sounded and they turned out promptly.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.—Mr. R. J. Matchett, the obliging station agent of the G. T. R. here for a number of years past, having severed his connection with the company for the purpose of entering into the insurance business with his brother-in-law, A. Bucknell in Michigan, was presented with a gold-headed cane and the following address by the employees of the company here on Tuesday last.

DEATH.—Robert T. Wallace, postmaster at Woodbridge, died suddenly on Monday of pneumonia. He was the youngest son of the late Captain Nathaniel Wallace, and brother of Hon. N. C. Wallace, Controller of Customs. The late Mr. Wallace was treasurer of the village of Woodbridge for some years; was for several years county master of the county of Orange, and of West York. The funeral on Wednesday was held under orange auspices, and was largely attended, a special train being run from Toronto, from which city a large number attended. Out of respect for our friend Hon. Mr. Wallace and the family we made one of the number going to pay the last tribute of respect to the deceased brother.

We congratulate Mrs. Moyne on continued good health, and hope she may live to have another birthday on a Good Friday, even though it be 73 years hence.
