Hon. Messrs. Wallace and Wood in Lindsay.

In accordance with personal notices sent to reeves and councillors some time ago as well as public invitations, requesting attendance to meet Hon, Mesers, Wallace and Wood to present grievances or suggestions re changes in the tariff enly about a dozen came last Monday. The notices were sent to the reeves in Peterboro, Durham, Victoria and Ontario. Special notices were also sent leading farmers everywhere, and public invitations were extended to all having suggestions to make.
These were mailed on Monday and Tuesday the week previously. Further, personal special notices were given every grit crank in the entire district. The meeting was open to the public, as may be judged when specimen farmers such as D. J.
MoIntyre and Dr. Burrows were let tret in and out freely.

Therefore, when only about a dozen regular delegates, cranks, and sensible men turned out it certainly indicates that there is very little fault to be found. About forty or fifty farmers and other citizens gathered into the Council Chamber, but more came out of curiosity

use of Ayer's Cherry Pectorals

"One of my children had Croup. The case was attended by our physician, and was supposed to be well under control. One night I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it strangling. It had nearly ceased to breathe, Realizing that the child's alarming condition
had become possible in spite of the medicines given, I reasoned that such remedies would be of no avail. Having part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given, the child's breathing grew easier, and, in a short time, she was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally.
The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved her life."

Theories are all very well in their way; but if theories were truths, why the world would have thousands of religions, as well as political leaders. As it is they are mere theologies, not religion; mere factionists not statesmen. That smple opportunity was given the re-form leaders and lesser lights cannot but be admitted. All were personally notified. As it was every opportunity was given any re-former to express his views, and the majority called on were purposely of that party. Mr. Weese gave practical evidence from hard experience in horses, which almost paralyzed such enthusiastic advocates of annexation as the good Thomas Fee or James Hopkins. They were simply dumb, as Mr. Weese gave conclusive proof of the superiority of Canada as a horse market. He showed that the Yankees believe and know that they nay the duty on horses from Canada, while pay the duty on horses from Canada, while some Canadians are simple enough to think it some Canadians are simple enough to think it comes off the Canadian. Those same persons affect to believe that the Canadian, in importing Yenkee horses, as many do even in the face of our tariff, pays the duty. As Mr. Woren Worsley very aptly put it "If as the grits maintain the Canadian farmer loses the duty when selling and pays it when buying; and if the Yankasa do likawise, it theories be duty when selling and pays it when buying; and if the Yankees do likewise, if theories be correct, but they are not, would not the price of horses in both Canada and the United p if both countries took off the ers and other citizens gathered into the Council Chamber, but more came out of curiosity than to air grievances or make suggestions.

As a matter of fact very few suggestions were offered or changes proposed. Mr. Thomas Fee was on hand with his bible—an old copy of the Globe, which Thomas undertook to read through. He was kindly told the gentlemen could read for themselves; what they wanted was his ideas and facts. Poor Tom got badly mixed up by trying to show that sait for farmers was taxed. Mr. Wallace colly showed from the tariff that English salt—which farmers use almost entirely for land and other purposes is absolutely free. Thomas also demanded that manufactured coffee from the United States be free. Messrs. Wallace and Wood again showed him coffee is free; but the manufactured article whether made from regular coffee or burnt corn and pease pays a duty. The farmers present were much tickled to see their brother Fee get educated. What Tom wanted is annexation.

Mr. James Hopkins steered clear of all questions by standing without argument or reason or answer to the "free trade and direct taxation" theory. In this he found no one to join him company.

special to The Worder.

At THE recent Agricultural shows at Linday and Victoria Road, Mesers. J. D. Naylor and Son succeeded in obtaining thirteen first, eleven second, and four third class prizes, on their Southdewn sheep, while at Bobcaygeon on Sept. 30th, they obtained six firsts, and four seconds, and we have no doubt but that the splendid record will be maintained on this herd of sheep and other stock from the same farm at Fencion Falls show this week. There were quite a number of so-called Southdewn sheep in this county when Mesers. Naylor and Son began raising and showing them, but they have since distanced all competition and have now little or no opposition. It must pay to keep good stock, as Mr. Naylor sells us that he can raise more mutton to the acre from the Southdowns than from any other kind he has tried, and we think there is a good deal in the feeding and raising of stock by those who understand the business.

On Tuesday the regular Division court was held in Dickson's hall, Judge Deau presiding, and the legal profession being represented by Mesers. McDonald, McLaughlin, McSwyn, and Hopkins of Lindsay. About eight cases were disposed of, some estifactorily, some "'vice versa.".....On the same day the "Travelling Dairy" gave an exhibition of butter making in Ingram's hall. From milk provided by Mesers. States go up if both countries took off the duty illustrated the absurdity joke clearly illustrated the absurdity of the grit contention. The fact is the grit says "but for the duty I could get $130 for that $100 horse," while the Yankee declares; "but for the duty I could buy for $100 that horse which now costs me $130." OPEN ORANGE MEETING. -Friday evening, would but remove their duty against my horse I could sell him in Canada for much more than I now can."

The meeting did much good. It exposed cranks. It brought out useful suggestions. It proved that beyond a few suggestions not touching the principle of the national policy there are no faults to be found.

Such meetings are a serious setback to the prefessional grit liar, who is in the habit of going about unchallenged making all kinds of wild-cat assertions. Here he must face statutory facts.

LORNEVILLE.

Special to The Warder.

Exhibition. — On Saturday last the young people of Lorneville and vicinity held their second annual fall fair. Though some grown people might be inclined to sneer at the like, yet many others look approvingly upon the efforts of the youth to emulate their elders, and I must say that in some respects they excelled. They were favored in having a beautiful day, and it was well that it was so as there is no covered hall. The fair lasted but one day and that was British day from early morning till dark night, for a very conspicuous Union Jack waved all day in the most conspicuous place in the grounds. The whole affair was conducted in a business-like way, and the exhibit would have done credit to many a larger place, and consisted of roots and vegetables of all kinds, grain, fruit, house plants, cut flowers, wax, flowers, tissue paper flowers, paintings, fancy work, etc. A great deal of this was the result of their own handiwork, and in which they took a pardonable pride.

Prizes were awarded and, unlike some other fairs, this was devoid of jealousy on the part of those whose exhibits failed to
