SHOES funeral of E. H. McEachern Esq. of Lorneville.—Friday last witnessed the funeral of one of Eldon's best citizens, E. H. McEachern, grain dealer of Lorneville. The deceased was aged only 56 years, but for some time he has not been strong, and could not rally from the grip. His father was one of those old Mull settlers whe have done such pioneer service in Victoria. His mother was Elizabeth McAlpine whose parents came from Napdale in Argyle. Mr. McEachern married Miss Ray, daughter of the late Angus Ray of Lorneville, and sister of Duncas Ray Esq. of Hugh Ray Esq. of Toronto. She is dead some years A family of two boys and three girls remain, of whom the youngest, a girl, is eight years of age. But kind friends will look after the little ones, children of such deserving parents The funeral on Friday was large and very representative. Rev. D. D, Macdonald assisted by Rev. A. MacAulay conducted the services at the house and also at the grave, New designs, made specialty for our Christmas trade. A Surar over the Elections.—There was considerable bad blood aroused in town on learning of the style of canvass carried on by Geo. McHugh, Tom Brady and others for Mr. Kylie for resve. With roman catholics the issue was made a straight church question. Two reputable roman catholics informed us last Thursday that such was the case, Meeting reeve Kylie on Thesday was well as a straight of the Grand Orange Insurance society of British America, of whom Major Sam is one, are here this week at work on the books for the quarter just closed.—Toronto World.

Sam says it occurred in a legitimate way — in splitting wood. As the customary eye discoloration was not present there is not much reason for deubting the story. The auditors of the Grand Orange Insurance society of British America, of whom Major Sam is one, are here this week at work on the books for the quarter just closed.—Toronto World.

last week said: Everybody is speaking in high terms of the Sawtelle Dramatic Co., many averring that it is the best that has yet visited Arnprior. Their plays are all of a class, while the ability of the company to present them lacks in nothing, both central figures and the support being excellent. An organization like this is in every way worthy of public patronage, and since Arnprior theatre-goers have a reputation for being generous in their support of a good thing it is probable that the Sawtelle Co. will have no reason to regret having visited the town." reason to regret having visited the town."
