Mr. Trew was successful in obtaining 3 first prizes, 3 seconds and 3 thirds, besides a special, making nearly a clean sweep in the classes he showed, and beating the prize winners who exhibited at the world's fair in Chicago. The show was pronounced to be the best ever held since the organization of the society, twenty years ago, both as regards quantity and quality there being over 1600 entries. Mr. Trew was also successful in making several sales which is no more than could be expected from the high class of poultry exhibited by him. At the business meeting held on Thursday, Hon. Mr. Dryden addressed the members expressing his great pleasure on the excellence of the poultry shown and the success of the show. The annual banquet was held on Friday evening when over two hundred members enjoyed themselves around the festive board, spending a pleasant evening in interchange of ideas etc. We congratulate Mr. Trew on his success, which is not only an honor to himself of which he may well feel proud, but to Lindsay as well.

DEATH OF MRS. BANBURY.—The death of Mrs. Thomas Banbury took place at the home on Lincoln avenue at 2 o'clock. While her death has long been expected, deceased being very low for several weeks, it was never-theless a sed blow to the family, in which there are several small children. Mrs. Ban-

OUR FRIENDS ARE INCREASING CON-STANTLY,—For years, as our friends know, the policy of the grit fenian party in this country has been slander and vilification of the most contemptible type. One by one they have been exposed in their crimes and either have skipped or are walking criminals detested by all. It is known that every lie detested by all. It is known that every lie that can be manufactured has been circulated sgainst us; it is known truth has been distorted in every imaginable way; it is known this is done under a direct system. But, it finds us the greatest pleasure to see weekly additions to our large list of friends. Men and women of all creeds and parties for a time misled by lies and slanders en finding themselves deceived, turn and become eur firm friends. They know when we say a thing it is true, or at least we believe it to be true; and when we advocate any man or cause he or it is just. They also know when we say a thing it is true, or at least we believe it to be true; and when we advocate any man or cause he or it is just. They also know when we dip our pen to expose any man or cause he and it are rotten. The stern shadow of fate is steadily but surely following every one of our elanderers, as it follows every bad man. The public have repeatedly been warned by this journal to guard against certain men. Surely, time has unravelled and exposed enough to show that we knew whereof we spoke. And let us again remind the public that there are a few more of the dishonest set left upon whom the sable manual of stern retribution will ere many years fall. Again The Warden thanks its friends for the trust and confidence reposed in us in the face of such slanderous and persecuting epponents. Always await the truth.
