DEAR SIRS.—I write you to say that for some time I had been suffering from acute indigestion or dyspepsia, and of course felt very great inconvenience from same in my general business. I thereupon decided to try Purdock Blood Bitters, and after taking two bothes I found I was quite another man, for B. B. B. Cutirely cured me. I have also used it for my wife and family and have found it the best thing they can take, and from past experience I have every pleasure in strongly recommending B.B.B. to all my friends.

I write you because I think that it should be generally known what B. B. B. can accomplish in cases of indigestion.

Yours faithfully.

Special to The Warder. A NARROW ESCAPE. - As G, W. James and son Stanley, were driving to William Cress-well's camp on Thursday 8:h inst., they reached Miserable Creek, which had to be crossed. The team had no sooner stepped on the crossway when the logs raised to the surface of the water, when they went down leaving nothing to be seen but their noses By hard struggling the team raised on a stringer or log below, enabling the sleigh to be freed from them, and by an effort managing to turn them looking homeward. The team was in the water half an hour unable to get out until they floated perfectly helpless; but by courage of father and son they pulled each horse out to the bank, standing in two feet of water to do it. Had the sleigh been on the bridge all must

Special to The Warder. Foster on Feb. 28th, and presented Miss Mida Foster with the following address and a well filled purse: — DEAR FRIEND AND SISTER,— Like woman's influence, music is calming, soothing, restraining and at the same time elevating and purifying. Music has always occupted an important place in the services of the house of God, and the individual, gentleman or lady, who presides at the instrument holds no unimportant place in the church of the living God, and adds no inconsiderable interest to the services. Music hath attractions. And often the choir has almost as much to do with a full church as the man who stands in the pulpit. What beauty is to the stands in the pulpit. What beauty is to the eye, what sweet is to the taste, or fragrance is to the smell, music is to the ear. It at once reached the heart, absorbing every feeling and faculty of the soul. All ideas of the material, the solid and tangible, are supermaterial, the solid and tangible, are supermaterial, the solid and tangible, are supermaterial, the solid and tangible, are supermaterial. That Cow's Milk Very Quickly Absorbs Impure Air?

An eminent authority on the "Feeding of Infants" says:—"Milk absorbs impure air as readily as a sponge does water. Milk need not be kept long in the house before it is absoluted by unwholesome. When it has but slightly changed, it might, possibly, be used by some with powerful digestive vigor without causing uncomfortable symptoms; but to feed a baby milk of such a quality is a sin, and to that grave error may be attributed many cases of diarrhoes and cholers infantum."

This theory accounts for the large mertality amongst bables. Instead of using the lifeguing Lactated Food, many mothers foolishly o ing to cow's milk which often carries with it

Mothers who have used Lactated Food successfully, and all physicians who know its composition, will tell you that there is no other form of food so well adapted to promote the growth and health of the baby. Lactated Food has saved thousands of frail and sickly wabies from death.
