THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

In the house of commons on Tuesday night last Hon, John Haggart, minister of railways and canals announced that the government would this year begin work on the Trent Valley canal. Two sections will be put under contract i.e., that from Balsam Lake to Lake Simcoe, passing near Victoria Road, Kirkfield, Balsover and Beaverton: and the other from Peterboro to Lakefield.

carefully done, and of the estimates being exceeded. There is a further disability. When contracts are rushed through there is a greater demand for men and labor generally, than where it is proceeded with deliberately. That is the cause of the importation of foreigners who have no intention of becoming citizens of Oanada. These deprive honest Canadians of the steady employment by right belonging to them and temporarily introduce among the people a very undesirable canal, we never used it in our elections, always squarely refusing to canvass a vete on that basis. However, the report of the Commission to inquire into the advisability of constructing the canal having been brought down on our metion in the House of Commons, and it showing strongly in favor of the work, enly one course was open to us, i.e., to urge the completion of the work. In this we were ably seconded by Mr. Fairbairn and all the members along the route as well as others. The result will prove the development of this portion of the country.

VICTORIA. EAST AND WEST.

The liberal-conservative candidates in those two ridings are meeting with re-newed expression of confidence every day, the only question is the majority they will each be returned by. Messre Bryans and Carnegie place themselv before the electors as supporters of V before the electors as supporters of W. by steamer Crandella, R. Meredith and the policy advocated by day, June 16th. Mowat government with its long list of political sins of omission and commission. As we intimated last week Dr. McKay if elected would support the government as he has done in the past, while Mr. Campbell in the west and Mr. Thurston in the east are patrons pure and simple now. but have been and no doubt are good grits yet, they claim of course to be inde-

high time the army of officials and place men were disbanded, and the government as Oliver Cromwell said to the parliament 'get you gone and make place for honester men," a consummation that the electors of east and west Victoria will send two representatives on 26th to assist in the laudable work of carrying out.

RBITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Carnegie is making excellent headwhere well received. His opponent having received "official notice" of the entire lack of sympathy of the reform party with his candidature has now swallowed the whole patron platform giving a written pledge to that effect although during the early part of his canvas he reserved a few of the clauses. thinking thereby to pacify his reform friends and secure their vote; his sudden change of platform, after the Fenelon convention, will now be looked upon with grave suspicion, even by the patrons, who must see through his change of base. hat from Balsam Lake to Lake Simcoe, assing near Victoria Road, Kirkfield, Balsover and Beaverton; and the other rom Peterboro to Lakefield.

The work is to be begun from the this aid? Mr. Thurston has made a great this aid? Balsam Lake, or height of land end. It mistake, even at the eleventh hour, to is the intention of the government, it is adopt this clause; he never at any time understood, to push forward the work stood even a fair chance for election, but steadily but not with unnecessary haste.
Where contracts are rushed through there is always danger of the work not being why even at his own home at Bobcaygeon where they have been agitating for years for a much needed railway, which they cannot possibly get without large government aid.—Minden Echo.

Next followed Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, who was received with rounds of applause. In a speech most forceful and energetic he laid bare the intrigues of the government, upheld the platform of the opposition. He began by impressing the electors with the grave responsibility which rested with them in the choice of representatives, advising them not to neglect their duty through any over-confidence. He urged the advisability of appointing inspectors, registers and other over-confidence. He urged the advisability of appointing inspectors, registrars and other similar officials by the municipal authorities instead of by the government, and showed that the whole tendency of the Mowat government was towards centralization, their robbing the municipalities of their rights, and taking away from those who paid the salaries any control over the appointment of their own officials. He arraigned the government on the ground of weakness and cerruption, in that they had subverted the administration of the affairs of the prevince for the purpose of providing lucrative positions for their friends. Turning next to the school question, he criticized severely the course which the government had followed in the matter of school books and in connection with their expenditure on the new Upper Canada matter of school books and in connection with their expenditure on the new Upper Canada college. He spoke at some length on the question of separate schools fully endorsing the stand taken by Mr. Meredith, and blam-ing Archbishop Cleary for his extreme and unwarranted utterances.

Electors of Victoria are not to be nor will they be misled by spurious promises; the Mowat government have done enough she was a consistent member until her demise For considerable time past she had been it failing health, but not until the last three years did her disease, which was an inward tumor, assert its power so as to lead friends to be apprehensive of a speedy departure, But in all of these things was "more than conquer-She was one of the most triur sufferers we have ever known. It is not strangs that being cut off from the privileg of God's house that it was such an inspirati to her to have her pastor and praying friends visit her, and from the word of God (which she praised so highly) read those precious promises which through all the days of weariness and pain was such a comfort and consolation to her. Truly Gcd gave to her in advance "the white rebes and the annointing for her burial." And thus was translated from earth to heaven one of the saintlies from earth to heaven one of the saintliest of characters. Thus while earth is made the poorer by the departure of this beloved one, heaven is made the richer. The funeral obsequies took place last Tuesday afternoon from the family residence to Zion church and was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Emberson of Little Britain, who based his remarks on the words found in Rev. 14-13, "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." A large concourse of serrowing friends and relations assembled of scrrowing friends and relations asset to pay their last respects to the depasted and join in sympathy with the family in their great loss, of a loving and devoted wife, a tender and affectionate mother.

essle to The Warder THE PATRON CANDIDATE ARRIVED on Mon THE PATRON CANDIDATE ARRIVED on Monday afternoon, the Mowat government officials were conspicuous figures in our village. About train time Mr. Alexander Niven, P.L.S. of Haliburton, strolled to the station to greet the advent of Mr. Thurston, the patron? candidate on his arrival to hold a series of meetings beginning on that avaning. At the meeting advent of Mr. Thurston, the patron? candidate on his arrival to hold a series of meetings beginning on that evening. At the meeting Mr. Thurston was introduced by Mr. John Pearson of Lindsay, who for the past few years has been in the Provincial government employ, as overseer of the dams and alides in this section of the country. In introducing the candidate Mr. Pearson asked the electorate to vote for the patron candidate, who was then called upon to address the meeting. He neglected however to define his position on many important and live issues and said that he would not oppose Mr. Mowat in the formation of the government, that doubtless the patron candidate would vote according to their former political proclivities, an admission which caused no small amount of laughter. On the question of the granting of government aid to railways, as objected to in the lith clause in the patron platform he said he did not understand it to mean the aid required to build colonization railways, but thought it referred to the great grants of money and lands made by the Deminion government to the C.P.R. He was an independent in politics, had always been and proposed to follow along these lines if elected. Mr. G. S. Houston of Norland, who appeared in the interests of the liberal-conservative candidate was the next speaker and in coming forward was greeted with prolonged applause. He gave a record of the mahadministration of the Mowat government admitted that many of the reforms sought by the patron were in
