The Victoria Warder

FRIDAY, JANUARY 25, 1895.

WILBERFORCE.

Special to The Warder WE were glad to see Rev. Mr. E. Cook return again after spending a few Christmas holidays with his friends in Stanhope. early days have not been realized. It Mr. Cock is the presiding minister here has been discovered, after a long series of in the methodist church, and is a very crop failures, that the rainfall is insufficearnest young man and well liked by all the land has been abandoned. The who has formed his acquaintance. Their settlers, after an ineffectual attempt to is a great deal of work for a young man establish homes, became discouraged and on this mission. Mr. Cook has six ap. moved away. With few exceptions the pointments: on one Sabbath he travels about 32 miles and preaches three times; on the next Sabbath he travels sixteen miles and preaches three times. This besides visiting and studying is a lot of work for a young preacher, but Mr. have been removed little by little or deseemingly happy. We wish him every success on this field of labor.....We were happy to see Rev. Mr. Fusee, methodist minister of Janetville, paid us a short visit on Saturday the 12th, and stopping over Sunday, holding missionary services at the different appointments on this mission. We would have been glad if he sould have made a longer visit with us, but he took the early train at 5 o'clock on Monday morning for home. Mr. Fusee has many old friends here, he being our fically prepared, and when used according to directions in the home, the results are pleasing and truly grand. It would require a good sized volume to describe their uses and possibilities, and to tell the comfort, joy and pleaaure they are capable of giving.

Mother's and daughter's dresses are made new by them; their wraps, jackets, shawls, ribbons and hose are with little trouble renewed for home and street wear. Father's and son's suits are made to look brand new; and any cast off article of apparei can be made to ossom as the rose. Tais work of transformation, remember, mation, remember, be successfully accomplished by the in Diamond Dyes.

15 Years of Itching. Wm. Golding, commercial traveller, 30

Wm. Golding, commercial traveller, 30
Esther-st. Toronto, says: For 15 years I suffered untold misery from Itching Piles, sometimes called pin worms. Many and many weeks have I had to lay off the road from this trouble. I tried eight other pile ointments and so called remedies with no permanent relief to the intense itching and stinging, which irritated by accratching would stinging, which irritated by scratching would bleed and ulcerate. One half a box of Chase's Cintment cured me completely.—42.1,

Don't be imposed Upon

when you ask for Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Go to a reliable dealer. He will sell you what you want. The ones who have something also to urge upon you in its place are thinking of the extra profit they'll make. These things pay them better but they don't care about you.

None of these substitutes is "just as good" as the "Discovery'." That is the only blood-cleaner, flesh-builder; and strength-restorer so far-reaching and so unfailing in its effects that it can be guaranteed. In the most stubborn Skin, sonly, or serefulous effections, or in every disease that's caused by a torpid liver or by impure blood—if it ever fails to cure, you have your money back.

The Drouth in the West.

Northeastern Colorada is an undulating plain, varying in altitude from three thousand to five thousand feet. Near the foot hills it is an arid waste, destitute the foot-hills it is an arid waste, destitute of vegetable life except for a scattering growth of sage-bush and cactus, but eastward it merges into a beautiful pastoral region, clothed with luxuriant grasses. The Platte, rising high among the snow-clad mountain peaks, and the Republican having its source far out upon the plain, are the only flowing streams. Much of the land is remote from living water. The rivers are fringed with cottonwoods, but the hills and valleys sweep treeless to the horizon. Isolated buttes and deep rocky canons relieve the otherwise monrocky canons relieve the otherwise mon-otonous centour of the rolling surface, and give to a limited area an aspect almost Alpine.

The climate is uniformly delightful.

The summers are cool, the winters mild, with but little snow. The atmosphere is remarkable for its aridity and consequent healthfulness. The winds that blow at certain seasons of the year are, however, imost unendurable.

The development of the country was phenomenally rapid. Within two years most of the land had been entered under the government laws. Many thousand acres of prairie sod had been turned and planted to grain and other crops. Comfortable houses had been creeted and ether improvements representing a large outlay of money and labor had been put upon the claims. Flourishing towns sprang into existence along the lines of railroad. Substantial business buildings and nest and commodious dwellings were built, All branches of business were carried on. Bonds to a large amount considering the newness of the country and the general uncertainity, were voted tos various public improvement. Public money was lavishly expended. The people had unbounded faith in the country of their choice, in the wonderful fertility of its soil, in the marvellous healthfulness of its climate, in the exist-ance of vast undeveloped resources. These were the days of unprecedented prosperity on the plains of eastern Colorado. Unfortunately the anticipations of the claims were mortgaged. The mortgages have been foreclosed, and the land is now owned by Eastern investors, to whom the high rates of interest promised stroyed by prairie fires. The lands lay unproductive, useless, consumed by taxes.

And now the terrible year of 1894 has intensified the misery of the few who reside still, through force of circumstances, in this most unfortunate country. Notbing has been raised since the season of 1891, and then nothing was produced except in scattered localities, and under exceptionably favorable circumstances. The prairie is parched and brown. There is no pasturage for stock. The ponds

All branches of business were early established, and on a scale far beyond the necessities of the communities. Some of the towns have been depopulated, and few have half their former population. Dwellings and business houses, built often with the savings of a lifetime, stand tenant less, deserted, falling apart, and represent a total loss to their owners. Property has depreciated in value until it has become unsalable.

As a result of the abandonment of the surrounding agricultural lands, the towns have suffered in a corresponding degree. In anticipation of rapid development, the towns assumed importance. Within a short time after the opening of the country many had attained populations of from five hundred inhabitants, The general appearance of presperity stimulated building operations to an extraordinary extent. All branches over 80 lesomotives of the total number built in 1894 were built for export.

The record of the car builders is even worse than that of the locomotive build ers. In 1894 only 27 companies have reported as having built any freight care, the output is being 17,029 care. In 1893 51,216 freight care were fulled by 48 companies. There were fifteen important par-building companies which did not turn out a single car in 1894, ten of these
