planter has but little use for finely spun theory, whether it pertains to the relation of his condition to politics or whether it deals further question, and the planter finds it to be a substantial fact when harvest time comes.

Another idustration of the value of this method is found in Ferry's seed annual, in which there is nothing but fac's. Facts that prove of the greatest value to every planter; facts about how, when where to plant, that can be had from no other source. There are no worthy facts left out, and no unworthy theories left in. This book is sent free to every one who asks for it. A postal card with your name and address sent the firm will bring it to you.

with the results that he wants every reader of this paper whoever handles the reins over an logue, spirited or otherwise, to profit by Dr. Britt's valuable invention. Under the influence of this wonderful and humans bit the wildest mustang, the highest strung thoroughbred are brought completely under the control of the rider or driver. Breaking the most under a pleasant pastime of but ruly colts becomes a pleasant pastime of but short duration when this bit is used; and the most commendable thing is that there is absolutely no pain or punishment inflicted unpon the horse, yet he is completely arbitageted, thoroughly conquered, What a remarkable invention! A victous animal made as a lamb without any severity and with scarcely any expenditure of forces. How is this accomplished? So easily that a child can do it You simply pull the reins, and the pade attached to the bit do the rest. A horse
