"THE SANTA FE ROUTE"

A PULLMAN PALACE CAR

On arrival down the slope at Rubio Cauon a local photographer took a view of the descending car. One was forwarded to us and is an interesting mement of the trip for it includes our good triend Wincup, Prof. Lowe and also the comrades Dr. Allan's children with our party. We climbed part way up the opposite mountain and hanging to a tree took a snap view of the inclined railway. It is very good as far as it goes but as our position was not more than one hundred feet up the view shows but a portion of the great incline.

The return trip to Los Angeles was delightful. On every hand the most beautiful groves, avenues, lawns, residences, orchards and gardens met the

TO SANTA MONICA.

With Bruce Williamson and the youngsters of the company, a trip was made to Santa Monica on the Pacific ocean. On the way a stop was made at the "Soldier's Home" where a very good view of the "OLD BOYS IN BLUE" was obtained. Santa Monica wharf extends upwards of 6000 feet into the ocean, and from its extremity beautiful views were obtained. The town is beautifully situated, the beach is very fine and an ostrich farm close by proves of interest. TO SAN PEDRO.

the Mr. Wincup favored us with a trip to San Pedro and Long Beach also. The harbor of San Pedro is reported by U.S. engineers to be the best south of San Francisco. It certainly is a good one. Opposite, about thirty miles off tower aloft the mountains of Catalina island, a favorite summer resort. For miles on each side of the entrance to San Gabriel river the beach is fine for bathing. Excellent views were secured of the party and the scenery. A great trade is done at the port. In summer regular trips are made over the Terminal railway to San Pedro and thence by steamer to Catalina

This harbor is noted in connection with the well known story "Two Years Before the Mast.' CHINAMEN AS FARMERS.

Throughout the greater part of the district the farmers are chiefly Chinamen. They are very industrious and thrifty; their money and returning to China, they are not good "citizens,"
The leading men of Southern California are therefore desirous of getting in the better class farmer from Great Britain, Canada or the United States.

The great development of the Los Angeles part of Southern California in recent years is due to the fact that irrigation from the mountains and from artesian wells has rendered that locality much more productive than formerly. There certainly seems a very bright future be-fore the district between the Coast range of mountains and the sea.

NO PLACE FOR CLERKS ETC. What the locality seems to want is good hard working farmers. Such going in with large capital should do fairly well. The towns and cities are overrun with young men looking for "something easy." Many persons go there with a little wealth and look for other income from light work just to make both ends meet. Others retire there for their health and are open to earn a dollar whenever chance presents one. Thus there is always overplus of laborers of clerks, and of nearly every class except the farmer.

HOMEWARD BOUND. "What's your hurry away" said our friend Wincup one day when we were planning to set out homeward. "What's the use in your rushing away so soon. We've only a few years to live, but we've got to be a mighty long time dead. Don't be in such a great hurry." The practical I logic kept us over Sunday. Talk of laws, to compel Sabbath observance. There are no such laws in California and yet in the great city of Los Angeles with its 80. 000 souls made up of distinct nationalities, British, United States, German, French, Spanish, Mexican, Chinese and Indian, the Sabbath was as strictly observed as W. F. McCARTY'S, the Sabbath was as strictly observed as in "Toronto the good," with all its blue The Jeweller. laws, hard shell preachers, and Inspector Formerly Sunday was not observed in Los Angeles. But a number of the better class of citizen determined, and made cost of a nurse he had to engage when there their intention practically known, that was scarlet fever in his family. The amount any store, shop, establishment or saloon, doing business on Sundays, would not be patronized by them on the other days of the week. The effect was magical. It developed a healthy loyal spirit in all classes, and has brought about the healthful condition now existing.

THE CHURCHES ARE WELL ATTENDED. The clergy are not of the maudlin goodygoody type who want their hearers to shut the eyes and with open mouth swallow all the sense and nonsense thundered or thumped from the pulpit. They "tom-tommery" superstition and ignor-

After the most enjoyable week possible our party left Los Angeles on a Monday evening. Assembled at the "Santa Fe" depot to bid adieu were many Canadians. Views were secured of the party but the kind memories of those far away friends of other as well as of present days require not the aid of photographs to preserve them deeply impressed on our mind. However, they are pleasant mementos of

The beautiful towns, villages, and residences snugly resting along the base of the mountains and adown the plains were passed; Mount Lowe and Echo mountain with the great electric light and observacory faded from view; San Bernardino with its charming surroundings was passed, and as night closed in, the deep windings of the mountain passes deepened the darkness, almost to obscure the lofty bald peaks on either hand; and we sat musing on the pleasing happy meetings and incidents of one brief week in Los
