

Another Waterloo of Prices.

A "Sky Rocket" Stock Taking Boom far Reaching in its Benefit.

The last day of January ends our year's business—a successful one in every respect, in spite of the hard times. We are getting closer to the people every year, and we are gratified that the people appreciate our efforts so unmistakably. Growth is proof, continuous growth is proof positive. Our business proceeds on SOLID IDEAS PERSISTENTLY FOLLOWED, and not upon spasmodic excitements. We have sold more goods, counted more dollars, and entertained bigger crowds than ever before. Our best expectations have been more than realized and we enter upon a new year with our stores standing solidly on our past records, more than ever determined to beat that record, if possible.

Starting Saturday Morning we Commence our Annual Stock-taking Sale

The recollection of last year's and previous season's mammoth sales will be ample to incite enough people to crowd our stores from end to end. Unbounded attractions will prevail in every department, and another triumph will be added to our long list of irresistible bargain sales.

MEN'S OVERCOATS AND SUITS,
BOY'S OVERCOATS AND SUITS,
FUR COATS AND CAPS,

MEN'S HATS AND CAPS,
BOY'S HATS AND CAPS,
ALL OUR UNDERWEAR,

ALL OUR FURNISHINGS.

Everything included in the great price wreckage—nothing reserved—nothing held back. They ought to go like smoke—for about

ONE-HALF VALUE is the PRICE WE SET ON THEM.

We must clear them out. We won't carry them over. If you can't see what tremendous efforts are directed your way, who have you to blame for not catching the biggest bargains ever let loose in Canada.

Plans have been made to accommodate a large number of purchasers with the greatest possible comfort. The goods are new, quality strictly first class, and those who want trash will have to look elsewhere.

THE AGE OF DRESS.

It is the age when we care about dress; when we care about it is the age of forgetting the age when the environment of the soul is of little significance. We are in danger of losing the things that are deepest, most earnest, most lasting and most momentous, because it is an age of supreme material interests. And then the age is characterized by its love of pleasure. It is the age of sport. My Christian friends, we want to enjoy ourselves, but there are people who go away from the house of God saying to a friend, "How did you enjoy it? Did you enjoy the sermon? The singing? Was not that a lovely prayer?" Oh, my Christian friends, when I hear these things and see them which are characteristic of the age, I ask myself, "What are we here for? For enjoyment, for entertainment, for pleasure for sport?" Now, I say that in those very expressions, "did you enjoy it, etc.," we give utterance to what is in our being and show what is characteristic in the age. I want to be instructed, lifted up, I want to live in an age that is not a question of entertainment, not enjoyment and pleasure, but something deeper and more momentous. As far as our usefulness in the social problem is concerned, the first great aim, is the spirit of self-culture. We shall have better men, better women and more Christlike personalities, more of the divine image, more of the love of God. I would say that in becoming something, we are to be the embodiment of some idea. What are we the embodiment of? What idea has laid hold of us? Well, this man has got an idea, he has learned something, now, but has the idea got the man? Has it? We speak of getting religion. Has religion got the man? That is the question. We want the embodiment of some idea, some thought that will make us a power unto others.

"Days, weeks, months are taken up by what we call social duties. Unless there is some grand change in this respect, some transformation, I see no hope for the solution of the social problem. I do not mean to do away with social refinements, social culture, but what I want is to do away with the miserable annoyances which we call society life and which destroys the best things in society, and that I believe is the sphere of woman, for she makes society, she determines the character of society and she can put Christ in the place of frivolity which now largely prevails in society."—Dr. J. W. H. Stucken-berg in Womankind.

Are Our Moral Standards Shifting?
One of the evidences of a moral shifting is that so many people suppose that private and public affairs have two standards; that it is wrong to use an employer's time for private gain, but right for a public officer to draw his salary and then leave the regular duties to a deputy; that it is wrong to secure a privilege for oneself by bribing a city council, but right to subscribe money to a campaign fund to buy votes for a party's advantage; or that a distinction may be made between the private and public character of public men.—January Forum.

An Earl's Skirt Dance.

Elouquet accounts have appeared in the papers of the performance of the Earl of Yarmouth as a skirt dancer at a charity entertainment in Tasmania. His Lordship's talents in this direction are, I believe, not unknown in his native land, but they have never kindled public enthusiasm here as they seem to have done at the Antipodes. A Female Executioner.
Since the death of Seyfert, the Vienna executioner, the authorities have received scores of applications for his place, of which the most curious is that of a pretty woman, who sends her photograph, with the following letter: "I am eighteen years old, and possess great physical strength. My sex and, above all, my beauty, fit me for the employment I solicit. The fact is that the last person on whom the condemned man fixes his gaze is the executioner, who nine times out of ten is repulsively homely. How much more consoling it would be for a criminal before entering into eternity to have the knot adjusted by the soft hands of a woman whose bewitching glances would cause him to forget for an instant the terrors of a mortal agony worse than death!"
