Kenny, V.S., Durham-st., was on fire, brought out the firemen on Mondey afternoon. Fortunately their services were mot required, the fire being put out before it got any headway. On Monday night about eleven o'clock two young men whe wase going home from a meeing of the true fine lodge discovered smoke issuing from the cellar under of the alarm, when the fire brigade with that promptness for which they are noted, were soen on the spot and succeeded, at great risk, in putting out the fire which had not made alapsed a different story would be told, as the fire, which was apparently the work of an incendiary, was started close to a tank of turpentine, the intention evidently being that the fire would communicate with the turpentine and cause an explosion. Fortunately the disbolical intention, if it was the work of an incendiary, was frustrated.....Since the foregoing was written an attempt was made on Wednesday night to burn the store occupied by Gough Bros. The fire which was discover. ed by constable Reeves was started in the rear of the building on the outside door leading into the cellar, the door was burned through. and in a short time would have communicated with the contents of the cellar, consisting of empty packing boxes, loose paper etc. From with the contents of the cellar, consisting of empty packing boxes, loose paper etc. From the feet prints in the snow it would appear that there were two persons engaged in the attempt. CERTAIN CRIT LEADERS in Lindsay and also in North Victoria have been laughing among those they deem of their own party, and boasting that, by well planned lying about what conservatives say, and by making false promises of support which are treely admitted to be for the purpose of "stuffing," they will manage to keep a third candidate in the field to split the conservative vote in North Victoria. They even go so far as to assert that, to split the conservative vote in North Victoria. They even go so far as to assert that, in order to insure one being in the field, they will pay through a relative in Toronto the necessary $200 deposit; and they hugh at how they induced him to promise to remain in the field by pledging there would be no grit candidate. They say all they want is to work up a quarrel among the conservatives, and then their dupe "can hunt his hole." They actually urge their friends to write him or tell him that the tories are blowing of how he can be b ught off that he is no good, and he can be b ught off that he is no good, and similar falsehoods made out of "whole cloth" in the grit camp. The grit instructions are "guarantee him that you will support him"; "assure him that the tories are slandering him?". "assure him that the tories are slandering him"; "impress on him the certainty of victory"; and say anything and everything to work up a row. The grits have long tried those tactics. They are as despicable now as ever; but people take no stock in any such men. Conservatives fully recognize that Canada is a free country and that every elector may set himself up and run for perliament if he chooses, and no fault will be found for that. And none has been.

THE HORRIBLE SCHOOL QUESTION.—The Northwest Baptist, the official organ of the baptists of Manitoba and the Northwest, says in a recent issue: "The position of the Northwest Baptist on the school question, all along, has been that our legislation is not on such an ademant basis of righteousness and angelinsayable principle that it can turn its teeth to the storms until they blow their cheeks empty. When rights or supposed rights of a legal sort have been peaceably enjoyed for a term of years, sufficient generally in civic affairs to quiet titles and give undisturbable possession, it is impossible to allay feeling and heal wounds, when such rights are confiscated by a pretence at reverting to fundamental principles. Had the clean straight thing been done in 1890, eliminating from our public school system every yestige of so-called religious instruction, the unnecessary presence of which has confirmed roman catholics in the opinion that it was not common lies in the opinion that it was not common called religious instruction, the unnecessary presence of which has confirmed roman eathors well known lumberman, has a book now in press, the title of which is "Up To Dats," or "The Life of a Lumberman." It is the first work of its kind and is meeting with a very large sale. The book contains a number of bautiful illustrations, showing life in the lumber woods, river and rafting scenes. The work is highly spoken of by quite a number of the most eminent men in Canada and the States. The book abounds in original sketches which are both highly instructive as well as intensely interesting. The history of Capt. THE GRIT CONVENTION meets again in Lindsay to-morrow, Saturday. It is understood that the men who have so long ridden to office and power by pendering to roman catholics as such, and not appealing to them as electors, freemen of Canada, have decided that Mr George McHugh is a very capable genial gentleman to asset in setting the boys into Mne during electrons. But when he sets himself up as a candidate, horror of horrors! it is suddenly learned by the wire-pullers for THE GRIT CONVENTION meets again in Lind himself up as a candidate, horror of horrors! it is suddenly learned by the wire-pullers for other grit candidates that "the good, the blind, the noble George McHugh" is, as one said, nothing but a "papiet." It is reported he is to be sidefracked for another. Such ingratitude is rarely seen. A candidate for the registrarship Mr. McHugh was set aside on account at his religion by the year man the registrarship Mr. McHugh was set aside on account of his religion by the very men who were raised into prominence by him and his fellow catholics banding together to elevate them. He was won back lest June. and again made believe he was solid in the hearts of the reform party. But surely his eyes have been opened, He now sees himself in the same fix as the fellow in the story. In West Virginia General Mahone always rode into power on the strength of the negro vote, which he secured by making all kinds of promises. These were forgotten by the time the next election came on, only to be renewed on the eve of polling day. One morning General Mahone was canvassing a shrewed negro who declared he had had a strange dream the night previous. Pompey dreamed that he was dead, that he rapped at the "golden gates" for admission and that St. Peter addressed him from within—"Who's there?" "It's me," says Pompey, "Pompey is there?" "It's me," says Pompey, "Pompey Peter addressed him from within—"Who's there?" "It's me," says Pompey, "Pompey Caesar Washington." "Is yo' mounted or is yo' afoot?, said Peter. "Is afoot, san' said Pompey. "Den yo' can't come in here" said Peter. Wandering about in chaos Pompey in his dream met General Mahone — Pompey surprised to find his friend in "spirit-land" sainted him — "Hello General to yo' here? saluted him — "Hello General! yo' here? When'd yo' drop off?" "Yesterday" said the general. Pomp declared it would be useless for the general to attempt to enter the "pearly said the general to attempt to enter the "pearly said told the story. general. Pomp declared it would be useless for the general to attempt to enter the "pearly portals" and told the story. The general thought awnils and, brightening up, said—"I have it. You just get down on your hands and knees, I'll mount you, ride up to the gate, and rap. Peter will say "who's der?" I'll say, "It's me, General Mahone of West Virginny." Peter will ask "Is yo' mounted or is yo' afoot," I'll say "Ise mounted, sah." Then he'll open the gates and say, "All right general ride right in." Well general, I got down on my hands and knees and yo' mounted on my back and I climed away up de hill to de gate. Yo' rapped loud, Peter say, "who's dar?" Yo' say "It's me, General Mahone ob West Virginny". Peter den say "Is yo' mounted or is yo' afoot," "Ise mounted, sah" says yo'. Then Peter opening the meter said, "All right general, hitch yo' hess up outside and come right in." Now general, says Pompey dat's de way yo' hab been riding us around here in West Virginny. Yo' use us to get elected and den nebber remember us till yo' want us anoder election." Those who for years have been banded together as the roman catholics have in this county at the beek and nod of the grit party leaders should learn to act as freemen, electors of Cansda in politics and not as mambers of a church. The lesson should serve as example for many a long year that a man gains nothing by sacrificing his manhood.

NEWTON VS. SCULLY .- In the court of appeal for Ontario, judgment was given in this case, which will be of interest to our Lindsay readers :- On appeal by defendants from order of the Queen's bench division court (Armour, C.J., and Street J.) dismissing by a division of opinion an appeal from judgment of MacMahon, J., in favour of plaintiffs in an action against the executors and widow of Michael Tracey to enforce a mortgage made by them to plaintiff. Defendants contended that the money had never been advanced to them upon the mortgage, but had been left in the hands of Mr. O'Leary, a lawyer formerly of Lindsay, the agent for plaintiff, who had diverted it to his own purposes. The question was whether the solicitor was also agent of defendants to receive the money on their behalf. Appeal dismissed with costs, the court holding that the question was one of fact, and that no reason was shown for of fact, and that no reason was shown for reversing the judgment of the trial judge, with which the court agreed.
