WATCH REPAIRING

When done right is done cheapest, even if it costs more than to do it improperly. But it doesn't cost more in the long run—really not so much. It is cheape to pay $1.00 once than 75c. twice, to say nothing of the satisfaction of carrying a reliable timepiece instead of a dummy.

In fact the cost of watch repairing like that of any other service or commodity is largely governed by its quality. It often happens that incompetent artisans try to conceal poo work behind high prices; but eventually the quality (be it good or bad) proclaims uself.

We are prepared to do good watch work. No shop in Canada is better equipped for this purpose than ours. It means a large outlay for fine tools and applianc s. It means care, study and long practical experience, and a determination to make QUALITY the first consideration.

These we have. That these things are appreciated by people who want value for their money is proved by the scope of our business. In addition to our customers who live in this vicinity there are a considerable number wt. send work to us f om long distances, even as far away as the Rockies. Why do they send to us, past all the intervening towns and cities? Because IT PAYS THEM to do so.

We want your work.
WE WANT YOUR WORK if you are not already a customer. Try us next time you need any-thing in our line. Send by mail or parcel post if you are too far away to some yourself.

A CAPABLE MINISTER AND THE TRENT CANAL.

Hon. J. Haggart, the capable minister of railways and canals, has authorized radical changes in the mode of constructing the greater portion of the Trent Canal Instead of digging a canal alongside the river stretches be will erect dems in the river bed, and utilize the channels thereof. These changes possess many advantages, among others the following: The undertaking will cost much less than estimated. The navigation will be much superior for there will be no injury to the banks from rapid transit. Vessels can go at full

Much country now swampy and unhealthy will be converted into lakes whose waters will always be fresh and at constant level. These will also constitute extra nunting and fishing grounds.

Additional water power will be available. These changes chiefly affect other sections than the one from Balsam lake to lake Simooe. This one will be proceeded with forthwith.

The minister of railways and canals, finding the great advantages of his new plan, has determined to push the entire work from Georgian bay to Bay of Quinte, so spendy completion. There will annually be expended as large sums on the work as were intended under the old plans; thus the earlier completion by some years is assured.

Meeting a North Victoria farmer this week the conversation turned to the elections. The day has gone by in this county when electors are influenced by such tactics. If those gentlemen could but hear the joking and laughing of the persons canvassed their course would be quite different. The electors of Victoria resent as impertinence the conduct of any candidate who approaches them and solicits votes. The people of this county are capable of using their own judgments. They know what are facts and what are not. Their judgment decides how they shall cast their vote.
