What shall we have for the emblem dear On the flag of our native land, To take the place of the cognizance queer, Which but few can understand? It must be a token, indeed to tell Of our country fair and free; Neath the shade of the maple tree.
For the emblem budge of Canada,
Oh, say what shall it be? The Maple Leaf on the silver disc.
And the flag of the old countrie.

What must we have for our emblem, then, To be known throughout the world: To be loved, to be feared respected, of men. Wherever that flag is unfurled! Should we filch a fraction (to make or mar) From our neighbours' spangled rag? No! never a "bar" nor a single "star"

Must be seen on the British flag. For the banner of our Dominion, Then say what shall it be? The maple Leaf on the silver disc, And the flag of the old countrie, Galt. Sept. 14. H. SPENCER HOWELL.

Harvest Hymns.

Come, ye thankful people, come, Raise the song of Harvest-home: All is safely gather'd in, Ere the winter storms begin: God, our Maker, doth provide For our wants to be supplied; Come to God's own Temple, come; Raise the song of Harvest-home

All this world is God's own field, Fruit unto His praise to yield; Wheat and tares therein are sown, Unto joy or sorrow grown; Ripening with a wondrous power Till the final Harvest-hour: Grant, O LORD of life, that we

Holy grain and pure may be. For we know that Thou wilt come, And wilt take Thy people home; From Thy field wilt purge away All that doth offend, that day; And Thine Angels charge at last In the fire the tares to cast, But the fruitful ears to store In Thy garner evermore.

Come then, LORD of mercy, come. Bid us sing Thy Harvest-home: Let Thy Saints be gather'd in, Free from sorrow, free from sin;
All upon the golden floor
Praising Thee for evermore: Come, with all Thine Angels come Bid us sing Thy Harvest-home.

Praise, O praise our God and King Hymns of adoration sing; For His mercies still endure Ever faithful, ever sure. Praise Him that He made the sun

Day by day his course to run; For His mercies still endure Ever faithfu', ever sure;

And the silver moon by night, Shining with her gentle light; For His mercies still endure Ever faithful, ever sure.

Praise Him that He gave the rain To mature the swelling grain; For His mercies still endure Ever faithful, ever sure; And hath bid the fruitful field Crops of precious increase yield; For His mercies still endure

Ever faithful, ever sure. Praise Him for our harvest-store, He hath fill'd the garner-floor; For His mercies still endure Ever faithful, ever sure;

And for richer Food than this Pledge of everlasting bliss; For His mercies still endure Ever faithful, ever sure.

Glory to our Bounteous King; Glory let creation sing; Glory to the FATHER, SON, And blest SPIRIT THREE in ONE.

In spite of the protests of inventors, and of those who believe they have investigated everything since the deluge, that there is nothing new under the sun, the Paulmist was right when he put that shought into the colloquial language On the Assyrian slabs, and on more than one old European fresco, is seen the paddie wheel for boats, aithough the propeller is not in evidence. The bicvele seems to have been known in China more than He was twice married, first to Miss two hundred years ago, and be velocified was Clementer of Port Hope, who died a few years seen in Europe even before that. On a pane afterwards, leaving one daughter, who resides now in mochester, N Y, his second wife being at Stoke Pogis, England, may be seen the reof the ancient painted gises in the old church presentation of a young fellow satride of one of these machines. > Britain Callous to Cholera in Europe.

New York, Sept. 22.- A London cable says. Ever since Hamburg had her terrible cholera visitation, and it di-covered hat even then these islands escaped the centagion, the British public has flatly declined to be interested in builetins about the pisgue on the continent. The lapse of curiosity this year may be said to be complete. Dispatches have come from Russia chronicling thousands of deaths in the western provinces, and the London papers did not eyen print them. It is bri-fly announced now that the choiers is established in Constantinopie, but all its intermediate strides, in its advance southward through the Australian empire, the ugn chroncled abroad, are never mentioned here. Reports indicate the proportion of deaths to cases to be much larger in Voluis, this year than it has been known anywhere before since the opening of the year of 1884 but Volnia is a long way off and nobedy cares. Apparently too, we are going to have an early winter, for

THE saddest marriages that might havebeen are those disaspointments which come from merely wordly obstacles—those obstacles which are so abundant and gigantic in older countries and so much more easily evaded here. In countries where every place seems filled where self support is so d fficult as to seem impossible, it may be needful to wait for middle life and a comfortably income before marriage. But here, where the openings are still so much greater, the standards still so much simpler, it is different. Latead of a gospel of worldly prudence as regards marriage; we need rather a gospel of brave imprudence, that young people who have health and love and energy should take them as their capital, should marry on faith and hope and not on a certain supply of bank stock and railway shares. Who has not seen the happiness that comes from the need of mutual sacr fices, the joy of little successes achieved together, the gradual building of a home? The happiest marriages, enrely are those which begin in this way and not those which are presponed till the freshness of youth is passed—marriages which, in order to have something to live upon, forego the actual joy of living. That poet of the people, Riley, touched a cord wellnigh universal when he sang: "Let's go a-visitin' back to Grigsby's Station,

There where we used to be so happy and so
