MARCH.—February is over and March is here with its windy blasts and mischievous tricks. Our citizens will now with care round a corner, the little ones will allow for a stiff head wind, while an umbrella will be a thing of terror, a very balloon. If you mise your paper during this month don't get mad and make a raid on the office. It is only the wind that has carried it off to give your neighbor a piece of good reading, perhaps to induce him to become a subscriber.

Burglars — Burglars wet at work last Friday night, obtaining entrance to three business places, Sadler, Dundas & Flavelle Co.'s mill office, Rathbun Co.'s offices, and Cowdry's grain warehouse By smashing the window sash they obtained an entrance into the mill office and next morning that department would lead one to believe that a cyclone had been dissporting there, so therough was the search for money. Something over a dollar was realized from this adventure, Cowdry's warehouse next furnished $1 01 to the thieves while Rathbun's office did even worse giving them only 67 cents. In all three places a considerable amount of money was passed over them only 67 cents. In all three places a considerable amount of money was passed over by the burglars, being placed in unsuspicious looking places. The burglaries, although evidently the work of amateurs, were very boldly carried out. No care was used in breaking into the different offices as pauels, sashes, etc., were smashed and destroyed, evidently by a heavy size. The oatmeal and barley departments were running and the night watchman on duty at the time of the mill office robbery.

FIRE ON KENT STREET,—About ten o'clock Menday night fire broke out on Kent street over the Ontario Bank and but for the prompt attention given to it by the firemen might have resulted very disastrously to Squire McDonell's buildings. It seems that a lamp exploded on the third fist, occupied by Mr. Edney, caretaker of the bank, and his wife, and catching fire to some clothing the whole place was quickly enveloped in flames. On the arrival of the fire brigade it was found impossible at first to enter the flat owing to the dense volumes of smoke issuing therefrom, so that they were compelled to throw water from the street. Eventually the hose was dragged up the stairs and the fire quenched. dragged up the stairs and the fire quenched.
Insurance to the amount of $300 covers Mr.
Edney's loss, while $400 is placed on the building. Morton's confectionery suffers $50 damage, while the Ontario Bank and Mc Intyre & Stewart's office and contents are slightly damaged. Undoubtedly the firemen would have made a better fight and very little damage would have been done had the truck and ladder wagon been so housed that it could have been immediately placed in use for a fire.
As it is the wagon cannot be utilized inside of twenty minutes after the first alarm. Such a state of affairs should receive the immediate superintendence of the conneil.

BIOYCLE CLUB RE-ORGANIZED FOR THE BICYCLE CLUE RE-ERGANIZED FOR THE SRASON.—A most en husiastic and representative meating was held Monday evening in the new Y.M.C.A. hall for the purpose of reorganizing the bicycle club for the coming season. After the constitution had been drawn up and adopted, a new clause of much importance being that the club joins the C.W.A., and the outlook for the season reviewed, the election of officers followed amid much enthusiasm with the following results: much enthusiasm with the following results:

were made honorary members of the club, while the total fee for the gentleman riders was fixed at one dollar. Committees were appointed to look after uniforms, club rooms, and other points of minor interest. Perhapthe most important decision of the meeting was to declare itself in favor of the half holiday scheme. Altogether the meeting betokened a

On Wednesday three rinks from the Peterboro Thistles met the veteran Lindsay men, skips Brodie, Needler and Luttle, in which game they came out 33 shots behind, thus giving Lindsay the cup. Little and Kennedy put up a great game for Lindsay, and seldom has finer generalship and curling been seen on the local ice, Little's rink being 20 up at the close of the contest. Brodie and Needler held up their ends well, being 8 and 5 shots respectively up.

A TEXING ORDEAL.—The many friends of at her head the burgiar made a thorough search of the room securing a gold watch and chain, two diamond riugs, a broach, a set of earings, a gold pin and a knife. The shock to Mrs. Keeve was very great, but her many friends in town will be pleased to know she nas recovered sufficiently to be out once more.

Congregational Meeting.—The Cambridge street methodist church held the annual congregational meeting last Monday evening. The different reports and statements demonstrated that a most successful work had been carried on during 1895 and presented a promising outlook for 1896. The following reports were read: juvenile mission band, Miss Edith Flavelle; young ladies' mission band, Miss A. Workman; ladies' mission pand, Miss A. Workman; ladies' mission pand, Miss A. Workman; ladies' mission band, Miss A. Workman; ladies' missionary society, Mrs. Koyle; Y.P.S.C.E., Mr. R. B. Irvine; ladies' aid, Mrs. J. Mc-Laughlin. Mr. F. C. Taylor, treasurer, gave the financial statement showing $97 of a surplus over expenditures, also $900 of a decrease in the church debt. Perhaps the Sunday school report showed the most progress of any department. In spite of the fact that the church had to bear unexpected and heavy expenditures and that death and removals lessened the roll everything was most satisfactory to the members and adherents. After the business portion of the meeting a pleasant social hour was spent,

SPRING.—The few pleasant days that we have had lately seem to have put new life into the town. With the sun shining brightly and the days mild every one is out and in his happiest mood. The shop boy whistling merrity as a lark keeps time with the click, click of his axe and after a while there is a nice clean walk which is quite suggestive of thronged sidewalks, of gayly dressed people and new spring bonnets. It is beyond the power of the small boy to refrain from throwing a nice packed snowball, just to get his hand in for the baseball season, you know, and even the elder ones can scarcely resist trying to see if they can round as nice a ball as in days of yore. They find they can, then of course they throw it. With such days, with the occasional chirpings of the robin, with every one talking in the gayest of strains, and with a few citizens minus an overcoat. one imagines that spring is coming. But the season of spring flowers, spring poets, buds and green swords, etc., are a long way off for this is such a wonderful climate.

CAMBRIDGE ST. METHODIST CHURCH .- On Sunday evening last, the Rev. Mr. Shorev presched to a large assembly. His text was taken from from Job 23rd chap., 3rd verse. "Oh! that I knew where I might find him." He thought the blame for man's indifference He thought the blame for man's indifference towards the gospel, could not be placed wholly in the pulpit or the pew. The utmost truth, he did not believe had been revealed to men, or apprehended as it ought to be; men did not know adequately how to find Christ. In times of trial some people pray to God, in hope of receiving material things with which to comfort themselves; they do not appreciate blessed communion with God. God wants us to understand that He is with us all the time; that the question of finding Him is not a question of time or place, but a question of man's willingness and desire. There is only one way in which to settle this question, "will I find God if I seek him," That way is to come to Him, pray to Him. Others have
