THE weather is very inclement at present, but signs of spring are at hand.

The old man who looks out at the world with clear and healthy eyes cannot help feeling great gratification at the thought that his children have inherited from him no weakness nor tendency to disease. The healthy old man who has throughout his life kept his old man who has throughout his life kept his digestion good and his blood pure. Not one in a thousand does do it. Germs go through the healthy body without affect. Let them once find lodgment or let shem find a weak spot, they will develop by the million and the blood will be full of them. Instead of civing strength to the tissues, it will force giving strength to the tissues, it will force giving strength to the tiesues, it will force upon them innurtitious matter, and the man will lose fiesh and the more susceptible he is to disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the only medicine that absolutely and infallibly cures all blood diseases, and almost all diseases are blood diseases. It isn't a medicine for some one particular so-called disease. It is a medicine for the whole body. It forces out all the germs of disease, and re-places impurities with rich, red blood.

Paine's Celery Compound Releases All From Its Bondage.

A well known writer declares that dyspepsia is a "home fiend." It is truly a cruel and torturidg monster, and makes its slaves miserable specimens of breathing humanity.

This enemy of thousands is effectually conquered by the mighty power and gentle virtues of Iain's Celery Compound, and the yotims are released forever from the awful tormentor. This is, perhaps, the worst season of the year for the victims of dyspepsio indiges-tion, and stomach troubles. The great nerve system requires strengthening; the not work, eat or sleep. Day after day I was getting weaker, when a triend advised me to take Paine's Celery Compound. I did give the medicine a trial, and before the first bottle was finished, I experienced a great change. I can now eat, sleep and work as well as any ordinary man, and I can truly say that Paine's Celery compound is a wonderful medicine, and worthy of all the praise that people can give it. I advise all to use it for dyspepsia; as a purifier of the blood; it surely oures -35 1.

A Boy's Opinion.

Sometimes a young lad will strike a truth in his random talk. Talking to a middle-aged woman one day, a young fellow said, confidentially: "You see, Mrs. R—, my sisters think so much of the conventionalities. They are always the conventionalities. They are always telling me that only common girls do so and so, and that girls who have been taught properly don't do this thing or the other thing. Now I think sometimes they are mistaken. Lots of nice girls do hings they didn't use to do. They ride bicycles, and they go in parties or clubs with their brothers or friends. They can be jolly and good comrades with a boy, girls any worse? What about the boys?"

"It makes the girls more friendly and pleasant than those who stay at home and never see anything!" he exclaimed, emphatically. "And it does something else. It makes us fellows more careful in what we do and say when girls go everywhere as well as we do. Isn't a bioyele tour," or a "camping out," or a tramp in the country, as good sport, and don't it make the fellows better-behaved, when girls are along? Yes sir! I don't don't it make the tellows better-behaved, when girls are along? Yes sir! I don't want to go to places where the girls can't go; but I do think that the girls ought to give way too, in the matter, and try to go around to all the places and take part. The boys want the girls, and I do believe it would do the girls good too, and wouldn't hurt them a bit."

And this expression of the opinion of a well-brought-up young American boy is something for the mothers of girls to think over.—Harpef's Bazar.

No Such Thing as Old Age. To Those Who Use South American Nervine. A Lady of 80 Years Permanently Oured.

Wordsworth speaks of "An old age serene and bright, and lovely as a Lapland," and elsewhere this same writer talks of "An old age, beautiful and free."

These are conditions that come to the man or the woman, though their years may border close on to a century, when in the enjoyment of good he-lth. In fact it is difficult to think of some of the old men and women on the stage of to-day as old people, there seems to be such a perennial youthfulness about their every ovement and act.

Mrs. John Dinwoody has been a redent of Flesherton, Ont., for over forty years, and there is no person in the town and country side around better known than this lady, and none more highly than this lady, and none more highly esteemed. Three years ago it was her sad lot to lose a daughter who had been all the world to her. The shock sustained by this event completely broke up the system of Mrs Dinwoody. She supposed her end had come. She dectored for one year with three doctors and they gave her ease up, saying that is was one of old age, and no one; nor any medicine, could age, and no one; nor any medicine, could do her good. Made of the kind of stuff that gives beauty to old age at any time, she did not despair. She was influenced to try N rytae. She took three bottles and this was sufficient to show that her end was not yet. From these she obtainend was not yet. From these she obtained relief. She persevered, and in all took twelve bottles of the medicine, with the result that she is to-day completely cured of that breaking up of the system that threatened her three years ago.

There is nothing wonderful in the fact that Mrs. Dinwoody would proclaim to the thousands of old people throughout this broad land that with old are does this broad land that with old age does not necessarily come decline, decrepitude and disease. Why should we not live into the eighties and nineties and cross the border of the sentury?

South American Nervine, whether the person be young or old, gets at the nerve pentres, and when they are kept in proper condition the system is as well able to withstand disease at 80 as at 80. With this prospect in view, who would not live to an old age and enjoy the pleasure of fo an old age and enjoy the pleasure of family, friends and society, and take part in watching the marvellous progress and developments of these closing days of a wonderful century, which marks as not the least of its wonderful discoveries the discovery of South American Nervine? Finally she tried Burdock Blood Butters, and after taking six bottles was entirely cured. That is now more than two years ago and she has had no return of the malady. of the malady. New York, March 7.—Ballard Smith sends the following special cable dispatch from London: Monsigner Kelly, the rector of the Irah College in Rome, has, by the authority of Leo XIII, seet the following communication to John Dillon, M. P.: "I am to report that to-day, after a discourse with the Holy Father, in reply to an address from the Sacred College, said: "Holy Father, our members of Parleament have recently elected a new chairman in the person of——." Here His Holiness interrupted me saying: "Dillon, is it not? Has he accepted?" I answered: "Yes, Holy Father, and today he charges me to lay at your feet his homage and felicitations, and, at the same time, to implore your benediction."

The Pope mansfested, by his look and attitude, particular and paternal acceptance of your message. Then he said:

GENTLEMEN,—To say all I ought to in favor of B B.B. would be impossible. It has been a great health restorer to me and I do swear by it.
