CONFIDENCE never has its citadel in the breasts of those who have weak, shrunken, undeveloped or diseased organs. The evil that men do through ignorance in boyhood and errors of early manhood leaves lasting effects.

RESTORED to vigorous vitality you might be successful in business, fervent in spirit. Our curative methods are unfailing. Write for our booklet, "PERFECT MANHOOD," sent free sealed.

Items of Interest.

It is reported from Quebec that a farmer engaged in the smuggling whisky business had a figure made of tin to imitate a stout old woman, and this hollow figure, filled with liquor and muffled up with straw, was carefully strapped to the seat on the sleigh along side of the farmer in his trips from the lake of Orleans to Quebec. An upset the other day revealed the dodge.

Many people are not aware that printers have a language of their own unintelligible to the uninitiated. The following "up to date" orders give an idea of the printing office lingo: "Billy, put Sir Charles Topper on the galley and finish up that under you commenced yesterday. Set up the column of Heronston and distribute the smallpox. Look up Laurier and slide McCarthy into the bell box and leave the pi slots until after dinner. Put the ladies' form to press and go to the devil and put him to work on Deacon Fogg's article on "Eternal Punishment." Now this is all simple enough when translated into English and not nearly so rough as the reader may imagine.

The departmental stores are teaching the small dealers the advantage of the cash principle as they could not learn it from any other source. On anything but a strictly cash basis the establishments would live for a year, for that is the very essence of their success. The money is paid before the goods are delivered in every case. It has had the practice with other merchants in the past many would not now be mourning heavy losses, while those who honestly paid for their goods would not have been charged a double profit to make up for the failure of neighbors to pay their debts. In fairness to his best customers and to himself every merchant should follow the example of the departmental stores and get cash for his goods.

A St. Louis man said the other day that he had long desired to become the possessor of a bicycle, but he had not bought a wheel because he could not afford the luxury. He had at last, after months of weary thinking, devised a scheme which would give him a "bike" for nothing. "Yar see, dis is how it is. I buys a 'bike' on de installment policy. See? Well, I takes de wheel and takes a header and lame. De accident policy pays me twenty-four dollars for the bruise. Well, I gives it to de man who I buys de wheel from. When I gets my money I goes again and gets another bump on de polley. Well, by de time I falls off de wheel four or five times I've got de 'cracker jack' paid for, and it costs me nuttin', see? Yar bet it's a great game and I've got de nerve ter do it."

been selected to manage the new summer resort, and his many sportsman friends will be delighted to learn this fact. Negotiations will be completed within a few days and the work of erecting the buildings will be pushed forward rapidly so that the new place will be ready to open the coming season. The above is all very well, and we hope the improvements are made. When they speak of that section, though, as being the summer resort for fishing, etc., we beg to differ. In an hour's paddle from Lindsay, north or south, you can get just as good, and Victoria county is full of "fines" places.

Goldwin Smith, that old man voluble, has been telling the Yankee interviewers that Mr. Chamberlain's proposition of free trade within the Empire would never be agreed to by any of the colonies because it would interfere with the privilege of self-government. Inasmuch as the two most important boards of trade in Canada have already endorsed the principal of imperial free trade, Mr. Smith's public opinion in the country of which he is a nominal citizen.—Mail and Empire.

The Montreal Herald comes out against the street lotter in the following style:—"Our street corners abound with those who jostle at the passers-by; the unshod and uncleaned of conglomerate races; there is no cause of food, no reason for enmity; like the semi-tamed animal they keep up the tricks of some wild savages. Nor is it the badly educated and uncivilized mind alone that reveals this ill-bred nature, but the very certain faculties have been left unlearned for produces the same result. The demagogue of some small coterie will show the same spirit, he will denounce and rant against any who are not in accord with his concepts; born, bred, and brought up in a limited circle, he knows very little of the thoughts of others; he deems the man of another opinion as an enemy and metaphorically leaves his bricks at him."

Bad Blood Between Them. The ever-availing farmer's wife, her delicate sister in the city, suffer more than they care to tell. The dark rings round the eyes, headache, dizziness, palpitation or rheumatic twinges, belated a run-down system. The blood is poor, and is a bar to enjoyment of life. Scott's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, strengthens and vitalizes the system, and speedily restores the bloom of health to the cheeks. It cures when all others fail.—94-y.

FIRST GREAT REQUISITE! Pure Blood and Strong Nerves. PAIN'S DELERY COMPOUND GIVES THESE BLESSINGS TO EVERY SUFFERER. The Only Medicine that Thoroughly Banishes Disease. An Ontario Lady's Experience.

The first great requisite for a condition of perfect health for every man, woman and child at this season, is pure blood and strong healthy nerves. They give us the health, strength, vim and activity that we so eager to possess, so that we may be fortified to meet the enervating weather of hot summer days. Three-fourths of our people run into the portals of summer with systems clogged with deadly impurities and poisons. The blood is foul and stagnant; the liver and kidneys work imperfectly, and are very often diseased. With many, rheumatism, dyspepsia and indigestion are daily tormentors. Constipation, headache, dull head and heavy brain, weak and tired feelings and sleeplessness, are life a misery for thousands.

The Sacredness of Motherhood. MRS. ELIZABETH POWELL BOND.

"The Lord cannot be everywhere, so He made mothers." This statement, attributed to a Jewish rabbi, although it be a poetic rather than a scientific statement, conveys to us the scope of the mother's calling. She stands, in very truth, the handmaid of the Lord, called to His holy of holies to work out His law of creation. Alas, that the ignorance and thoughtlessness of the world should rob this sacred service of its sanctity, and make it to be held of less account than the harvest of grain or the return from the orchard and vineyard!

A thoughtful woman once said to me: "I wonder that any woman dares to become a mother, that she dares to think her child will thank her for the gift of life." It is a fearful responsibility, indeed, to create another being, who must accept life with all its limitations and possibilities, its weeping and its gladness, its failures and its successes. The woman may well pause where "angels would fear to tread." To dwell upon the responsibility which she assumes would be to dwell upon the highest good of the child to whom she stands as creator and providence! And, besides, how short is the time of this close devotion of the mother! Only a few dependent years of the child begins, and then the mother may go back to her citizenship in society, all the more a queen; or she may take up her books, or her pen, enlarged and enriched in nature by the deep experience of motherhood.

THE GREATEST PROBLEM Of the Nineteenth Century has Been Solved. ELECTRICITY IS APPLIED WITH WONDERFUL RESULTS IN THE MANUFACTURE OF "STOCKMAN'S COTTON CURE"—A DISCOVERY AS IMPORTANT AS THAT OF DR. BENTON'S CATHARTIC BATHS.

The introduction of electricity in the manufacture of the "Stockman's Koolony Cure," and the astounding results therefrom, have startled the public mind and aroused the interest and amazement of scientists. The large variety of diseases which it has successfully treated is causing a profound sensation and has absolutely dumfounded the doctors. Thousands of afflicted men and women all over the Dominion are writing with grateful thanks, and letters announcing are being received daily gratefully testifying to the marvellous curative powers of this life-giving remedy, including many cases of long standing which have heretofore been pronounced incurable and baffled the skill of the highest medical practitioners.

Never before in the history of medicine have so many permanent cures been effected, of rheumatism, catarrh, kidney and skin diseases, in so short a space of time for the number taking it. It is time for the number taking it. It is time for the number taking it. It is time for the number taking it.

For Tired Feeling. EXHAUSTION IS WASTED—OVER WORK MEANS SHORTER LIFE—DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS MEAN REST FOR THE KIDNEYS.

Overwork is what you do after common sense has been exhausted. Overwork of any kind does more than tire, it exhausts you. Just a little more after you ought to quit is the "too much" that uses you up. The blood goes out to all parts faster than it can be replaced.

A COMBINATION OF RARE, SEARCHING AND POTENT ESSENTIAL DISTILLATIONS FOR INFLAMMATION EXTERNALLY For Pains, Aches, Sore Joints, Sprains, Bruises, Stitches, Burns, Stings, Bites and Chilblains. INTERNALLY For Colds, Sore Throat, Croup, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diarrhoea, Piles, etc.

he comes to his own place—a place that will be his and no other. The first years of the child's life must be given largely to his physical nurture. Good food, good stomach, sound flesh, steady nerves, steady nerves—these are the foundations of the present life, and it is in the spirit of importance that these be secured to the child. And they do not come in a hap-hazard, matter-of-course way. They need the direct, personal supervision of the mother. She can buy for money the service of cook, parlour maid, or seamstress; for the time being, her children, and the sex interval for her society, she has her own intellectual pursuit, rather than trust to hired service her baby's physical nurture.

But it is not to the physical needs alone that the mother must so closely devote herself. The spirit begins to assert itself almost with the first breath, and along with the work of nurture must be taken up the work of guidance. Especially in infancy, the habit of personal purity, it belongs to the mother, not to trust or to guess, but to know that her child is safe from the malaria that infects the moral atmosphere, and from childhood through nurse or playmate, or later, through the printed page. It is a hard thing to require of the mother that she shall devote herself so closely to her child? Let her remember that motherhood is her business, now. She has had her school-life, she has had society, she has had literature, she has had widowhood—she is a mother, pledged by the sacredness and the infinite import of this new calling to self-abnegation, to the highest good of the child to whom she stands as creator and providence! And, besides, how short is the time of this close devotion of the mother! Only a few dependent years of the child begins, and then the mother may go back to her citizenship in society, all the more a queen; or she may take up her books, or her pen, enlarged and enriched in nature by the deep experience of motherhood.

Putting It In. Never use a liniment for rheumatism, says a high medical authority. Rub it in—drive it out.
