DEATH OF A WORTHY MAN.—After a somewhat protracted illness Mr. Alexander Gough, father of Messrs. R. P. and A. J. Gough of Peterboro, and E. J. Gough of Lindsay, passed away at his residence, 379 Hunter-st., Peterboro, on Monday evening, May 7th, at the age of twenty-six, when he removed to Kleinburg, York county. At this place he successfully conducted a large copage business and stove factory, and was also, at different times, interested in lumbering in the Parry Sound district. About five years ago Mr. Gough retired from active business and came to Peterboro. The deceased was married about forty-nine years ago to Miss Ellen McKelvie, who preceded him to the grave a few years ago. Mr. Gough was a gentleman who was widely respected in the community in York county where he had resided for over half a century, and although only a resident for a few years, he had many friends and firm friends in Peterboro. He had seen many active scenes during his career. Although he would never consent to accept any municipal honors, notwithstanding that he was repeatedly elected to the office of his country and his municipality. During the rebellion of 1837-38 Mr. Gough served under Col. Hamilton, being then, as he remained until his death, a loyal and patriotic citizen of the Dominion. In politics he was a strong reformer, and was for several years president of the Vaughan reform association. The deceased was a gentleman who possessed those excellent qualities that commended him to all who made his acquaintance, and he died honored and mourned by all who knew him. The funeral took place on Monday morning from the family residence, 379 Hunter street, and proceeded to the C.P.R. station at 4.42 o'clock, and thence to Kleinburg, where interment took place in the family burying plot.—Peterboro Review.

OBITUARY.—Mrs. L. Brown, whose funeral took place from the family residence, on Thursday of last week, to Riverside cemetery, died very suddenly, the cause of death being blood poisoning. Her death came as a surprise to her many friends, as she had been sick such a very short time very few were aware of the fact. Mrs. Brown was a devoted mother, and was well liked by all who were acquainted with her, and they were many, having lived in Lindsay for twenty or more years. She was left three children, one son and two daughters, and an aged mother, who mourns her loss. The family wish to thank the many friends and others for the kindness shown to them during their mother's sickness, and in their subsequent bereavement.

CHALLENGE.—In this week's issue of the WARDER staff. This is just what we have been waiting for. Unfortunately, however, our twister while practicing the snake curve, with variations, yesterday at noon, so wrenched his arm that he will be unable to play for at least three children, one son and two daughters, and an aged mother, who mourns her loss. The family wish to thank the many friends and others for the kindness shown to them during their mother's sickness, and in their subsequent bereavement.

NEXT DOOR TO THE TRUTH.—"Catherine, you are a brunette, I believe?" "Yes, madam." "Are you engaged to the coachman next door?" "Why, no, madam—I never saw him." "But there was a red hair in your soup last evening."

"Ah, madam, you forget that monsieur, your husband, has auburn hair."—Le Monde Comique.

OUR MAIL. Our mail brings us every day dozens of letters about Burdock Blood Bitters. Some from merchants who want to buy it, some from people who want to know about it, and more from people who do know about it because they have tried it and been cured.

One of them was from Mr. J. Gillan, B.A., 39 Gould Street, Toronto. Read how he writes:

GENTLEMEN.—During the winter of 1894 my blood became impure on account of the hearty food I ate in the cold weather. Ambition, energy and success forsook me, and all my efforts were in vain. My skin became yellow, my bowels became inactive, my liver was lumpy and hard, my eyes became inflamed, my appetite was gone, and the days and nights passed in unhappiness and restlessness.

For some months I tried doctors' and patent medicines of every description, but received no benefit. Being advised by a friend to try B.B.B., I am glad to have the opportunity of testifying to the marvellous result. After using three bottles I felt much better, and when the fifth bottle was finished I enjoyed health in the greatest degree, and have done so from that day up to date. Therefore I have much pleasure in recommending B.B.B. to all poor suffering humanity who suffer from impure blood, which is the beginning and seat of all diseases.
