GRAY'S RED SYRUP of SPRUCE GUM

THE OLD STANDARD CURE FOR COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA and all LUNG AFFECTIONS.

Gray's Syrup has been in trial for more than 20 years and the verdict of the people is that it is the best remedy known.

KERRY WATSON & CO., PROPRIETORS MONTREAL.

The Victoria Warden

FRIDAY, JULY 3, 1896.

In the Newport Hunt.

They're up at break of morning, Gallants and ladies fair; Their chargers fleet adorning The landscape here and there.

But as they leap the terraces And breeze with dash and bound, The foxes chase to distress, The titled lords to hounds.

Mother's Oradle Song.

Mother will blow out the candle light And send her baby away, Away in the dreamy, shadowy night With the fairy sprites to play.

Just one more kiss on the dimpled chin And, dear little Buzz, will I tuck you in, O' my cradled nest you will rock and swing To drowse where the fairies sleep.

Mother will lift up the curtain high So the cloud-washed silver moon Will cast in rays from the mystical sky To shine on this night in June.

When our wee Buzz in travelling gown Goes swinging away to Sleepy-Eyed Town To the mystical clime where children go When the summer sun is low.

Mother will rock her little one's crib Till the lashes droop down, The deep, pink cheeks—blushing softly away The bright eyes, large and brown, And baby will see in the silent night All the fireflies lanterns of gold light Where little folk nod at each zodiac strand To the songs of Oradle Land.

Mother will wake with a morning song, With a crooning lullaby, Her baby son—when the night time long Has crept from the azure sky.

And baby will wake with curls in a fuzz, With soft round arms outstretched, little Buzz Will come to the heart that will take him in When the playtime hours begin.

A Wheeling.

Have you never felt the fever of the twirling, whirling wheel, Of the guiding and resisting of the shining cranks of steel?

Never felt your senses reel In the arm both quick and steady of the misty morning sky, As the white road rushes towards you, As the dew-bathed banks slip by, And the larks are scaring high?

Never know the boundless buoyance of the billow, breezy hills, Of the pleasant swirl around you, and the rousing, rippling hills.

Changing memory of life's hills— Dashing, dashing through the sunshine, by the wayward and the plain, The distant heights luring onward, up-ward, to the strain Of the whirling wheels' refrain!

Fled from prison, like a prisoner, sped the turning, spinning wheel, Changed the city's air and struggling, jar, and with its separate, straining above the tower's low reach, Found a tender satisfaction, which the steel-fretted wheels teach!

In the sunshine—fullest speech, Never know the wistful wailing back, in pleasure's pain!

Met the star from milking cantering to pasture and again, You have never felt the gladness, nor the gleam of the dream That exalts, as tired eyes linger still on sunset, road, and stream!

Have these things passed that bliss supreme, —The Sketch.

UPHILL.

The hill is steeped of gently here, Out of the city's heart at District 19, Digby and No. 1, the majority Hughes got was 48, this was indeed a great victory in the face of trouble.

That with a small majority, but a strong opposition and the result of the workings of their leader, will soon change the political scene into a parcel of sore, sick men.

Mr. Porter has returned from Waukesha, Miss O. Henderson of Lindsay is visiting here, Messrs. J. W. Porter had a few days' vacation among the rocks of Longford Island, Mr. Jas. McCaughey paid Lindsay a visit, Miss R. Pringle is visiting.

A picnic of Uphill people attended a picnic at the Wesleyan picnic last week. A good time is reported. A pestilence of grasshoppers has taken possession of this community, every species of grasshopper was being badly ruined.

He—"Miss Kitty, I've heard it said that a kiss without a mumble is like an egg without salt. Is that so?" She—"Well, really, I don't know—I can't tell—for in my life I never—"

A Sad Blunder.—Leading Prohibitionist—"And how far is your home from the nearest rumshop?" The Inebriated Farmer—"Why, it's only half a dozen rods or so. You could easily crawl home on your hands and knees on the darkest night, and not miss the way."

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot wait for any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He does not care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to self-scrutiny, or consumption. "That" he will write to a doctor, "do with the case."

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a microbe hunter and killer. Many persons of uncertain blood, encourage the breaking out of unwholesome sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 95 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all lingering bronchial, throat and lung diseases.

Simple Precautions Insure Complete Victory.

A Child Can Use Diamond Dyes Successfully.

When using the world-famous Diamond Dyes for home dyeing, use fresh, clean, soft water; hard and impure water will mar the beauty of the shades.

Old articles before dyeing should be well washed with soap and water to remove dirt or grease, and rinsed in hot water, and dyed while damp.

If these few precautions are observed you will be able to produce richer, brighter and more lasting colors than any steam dyeing house can give you.

Harsh Coughs, Heavy Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma and Bronchitis cured by Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. The best in the world.

Victoria Carbolic Salve cures Cuts, Burns, Cold Sores, Bruises, Wounds, Chapped Hands and Sore Throat. Price 25c.—50c.

Geneva, Switzerland, is one of the strongholds of the European system of state regulated vice, and recently an effort has been made to take away from the evil any recognition by the state.

It was submitted to the electors at a special election recently, and the keepers of bad houses and people of ill repute became so violent that the one writer says: "I never saw so deep down in the pit as I have now done."
