Helps the Liquor Men. Dr. Grant's arguments much resemble those need by the liquor men in their conventions, and they must feel proud and encouraged by the fact that they have such an advocate against probibition But, indeed, it is almost an indictable offence for a gentleman and echolar in his position to give such aid and comfort to the enemy. It is not too much to say the arguments against the use of intoxipating drinks as a beverage, and in favor of prohibition have been fully proved to the satisfaction of reasonable people and consequently they have passed beyond the regions of controversy and have become established facts upon which one can lay the toundation for further progress in this the greatest movement of the century. It is unnecessary at the present advanced stage of the temperance reformation to again prove from figures and quotations that the liquor traffic is the sum of all villanies, the great cause of the svils that effect humanity, a very parent of crime. In fact a great authority, Mr. Gladstone, says it is more de structive to mankind than war, pestilence and famine combined, and it is by our help and sanction still entrenched in our midst, doing its deadly work as of yore—still seeing whom it may devour.—W.

Gill, Granby, Que.

Every Law is Violated Everybody admits that every law is violated in one section or another of every etvilized country. Also that those whose duty it is to enforce law often shirk the unpicasant ordeal. Why point the finger at Maine, or at prohibition, when we know that we have entirely too much of the same sort of thing right here in Kingsion and Toronto, and in many smaller places? And not in cities only. Quite a gaug of men have been making a bad living in an Ontario county, burning down houses and barns for the insurance. For years their dast-rdly work went on, undetected, and even winked at by neighbors. Valuable farming machinery was moved ab ut and pid for, several times over, by different insurance com-panies. What would we think of the gumption of a principal of a New York or

Have struggled with disease and blight,

Moderate Drinkers.

Dr. Grant is paying too great a price for the personal liberty to drink alcoholic liquors when he insists that the licensed har rooms, and the licensed shops, with all that inevitably follows, shall remain permanently in our Dominion. "Moderate" and "respectable" drickers take a heavy responsibility when they rotain the liquor traffic, as we have it, with all its rulnous effects and lawless spirit, and have the power to abolish it, as undoubtedly they have, but will not because of their personal convenience and gratification. We, then, that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak. Any sitisen who is strong enough to drink or leave it alone, ought to choose the latter for the sake of those who are not strong enough to drink moderately and then stop.—Christian Guardian. Moderate Drinkers.

That Principal Grant, a minister of the gospel and the head of an important seat of learning, should have gone out of his way to plead the anti-prohibition side of the question is a thing that causes much surprise, to say the least, to many good men and women throughout the land. He has approached the subject from the standpoint of one who has deliberately gone to work to prove a theory, and in doing so has proved nothing more than the difficulties of carrying out prohibition. He stands out beldly and advoates the cause of the anti-prohibitionlets, and with all the charity he can His Besetting Sin. and advocates the sause of the anti-prohibitionists, and with all the charity he can employ and with all the charity he can expect, we say, he might have been better employed than in thus poisoning the minds of those who look up to him in matters of education and also in religious affairs. Could be not have sacrificed his desire for notoriety (his becatting sin)? to desire for notoriety (his becetting sin)? to put it mildly, rather than to sagrifice his triends and the principles so many are fighting for, to preserve their homes and didren from the great evil that is blighting the life and energy of our youth in this nineteenth century. - Alexandria

The Liquor Men His Chents Dr. Grant has voluntarily taken the Dr. Grant has voluntarily taken the position of a special pleader and constituted himself a veritable King Dodds and virtually made the liquor sellers his clients in the controversy he has raised, into which he enters with all the carnestness of a person determined to win and who thinks he has a good cause on hand. There is no accounting for the vagaries of the human mind, but he seems sadly out of please in the position he has chosen. of place in the position he has chosen, when we consider that he is a christian minister and the privelpal of one of the foremost educational institutions of the country, which is attended by hundreds from all parts of the country, many of whom may, and probably will, be influ-enced by his teaching for many years to come, and perhaps some of them to the ends of their lives. -W. Boy Was Killed.

St. Thomas, Ont., Jan. 19.—This afternoon about 4 o'clock a span of horses belonging to Mr. Siple, a dairyman of Yarmouth township, was being driven down the Backwood Hill attached to a cutter, when they ran away, throwing the rig over and tossing the occupants into the road. One child, 8 years of age, a and build up the blood, and strengthen son of the person above mentioned, was instantly killed and a young lady had her leg broken. The other two occupants of the rig received a bad shaking up, but no bones were broken. One of the horses was badly hurt and will likely have to be killed.

Two Cases in Which They Restered Health and Strength After All Other Means Had Failed-What They Have Done for Others They will Do for You. Oculist and Aurist, 60 College St. Toronto, -97-ly. At Benson House, Lindsay, on Saturday, March 6th, all day.

From the Colborne Express:

There are few if any people in Murray township, Northumberland county, to whom the name of Chase is not familiar. Mr. Jacob Chase who has followed the occupation of farmer and fisherman and fishdealer, is especially well known. He has been a great enflerer from rheumatism, as all his neighbors know, but has fortunately succeeded in getting rid of the disease. To a reporter he gave the following particulars. I had been a sufferer from rheumatism for upwards of twenty years, at times being confined to the house. At one time I was laid up for the house. At one time I was laid up for sixteen weeks, and during a portion of that time was confined to my bed, and perfectly helpless. I had the benefit of excellent medical treatment, but it was of no avail. I believe, too, that I have tried every medicine advertised for the cure of rheumatism, and I am sure I expended at least $200.00 and got nothing more at any time than the merest temmore at any time than the merest temgive Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and from that time I date my good fortune in getting rid of the disease. I continued using them for several months and daily found that the trouble that had made my found that the trouble that had made my found that the trouble that had made my life miserable for so many years was disappearing, and at last all traces of pain had left me and I was cured. I say cured, for I have not since had a recurrence of the trouble eure it may also be mentioned that they restored Mrs Frank Chase, a daughterin law of the gentleman referred to, to health and strength after other means had apparently failed. Mrs. Chase says: "I can scarcely tell what my trouble was, for even doctors cannot agree as to the nature of it. One said it was consumption of the stomach, while another was equally emphatic in declaring that it was liver trouble. One thing I do know, and that is for years I was a sick woman. I know that I was afflicted with neuralgia, my blood was poor and I was subject to depressing headaches. My a petite was not good at any time, and the least exertion left me weak and despondent.

A ledy friend who had been benefitted by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. advised me to try them, and as they had also cured my father-in law, I determined to do so, and I have much cause for rejoicing that I did, for you can easily see that they have made a well woman of me.
