

DOUGALL SINCLAIR,
General Blacksmith and Carriage Manufacturer, The Market, Lindsay.
Horse shoeing a Specialty.
Jobbing Promptly Attended to.
(1140 ME A CALL)

The Victoria Warbler.

DOUGALL SINCLAIR
Is prepared to furnish at reasonable prices
WAGONS, SLEIGHS, BUGGIES AND CUTTERS.
as good as any to be had in the West. Call on me at The Market, Lindsay.

$1 Per Annum in Advance. 5c. a Copy.

LINCOLN, ONT., FRIDAY, APRIL 1, 1898.

Vol. XL.—Whole No 2141

J. SUTCLIFFE & SONS

MILLINERY,
MANTLES.

DRY GOODS.

MEN'S & BOYS'
CLOTHING.

We don't expect to get a big clothing trade in one day—but we are bent on gaining your confidence by selling you reliable, Ready-to-wear Clothing and charging you only a Dry Goods profit. We know all about the Clothing we sell and we are determined to place before you the very best qualities for the least outlay.

- Boys' Blouse and Coat Suits (2 pieces) 99c.
- Boys' Strong Tweed Suits (2 pieces) $1.25, $1.50
- Boys' Extra Quality all wool Tweed Suits $2, and $2.50
- Boys' 3 piece Serge & Tweed Suits, short pants, $2.99
- Boys' all wool Serge and Tweed Suits, $3.50, $3.95, $5.00.
- Men's Fine English Venetian Black Worsted Coats and Vests, very dressy, well trimmed, fit perfect, special $6.00
- Men's Black, all wool worsted pants, $2, $2.50, and $3.00.
- Men's Strong English Tweed Suits, Coat and Vest lined $2.99.
- Men's Strong Canadian Tweed Suits $3.50.
- Men's all wool Serge and Tweed Suits, $3.99 and $5.00.
- Men's fine all wool Tweed Suits, Skirt or Sacoque coat $7.50, $8.50, $10.00, and $12.00.

J. SUTCLIFFE & SONS

COMPLETE IN EVERY DEPARTMENT.

R. B. ALLAN & CO'S SPRING STOCK

Is now complete in Every Department.

New Spring Dress Goods and Trimmings, New Blouses and Shirt Waists, New Hosiery and Gloves, New Ribbons and Laces, New Caps, New Dress Skirts, New Corsets, New Parasols and Umbrellas, New Dress Silks, New Blouse Silks, New Staple Dry Goods. All lines in this Department are fully complete. New Gray and Bleached Cottons, Towellings, Tickings, Table Napkins, New Prints, and all lines of New Staple and Fancy Dry Goods.

For Elegant
New SPRING MILLINERY We are in the lead.
Don't fail to inspect our stock of Millinery Goods when in Lindsay.

R. B. ALLAN & CO. The Bargain Givers of Lindsay.

BERS & OVERSHO

ASK FOR

THE CANADIAN RUBBER CO.'S

WELL KNOWN BRANDS.

BEST QUALITY
LATEST STYLES

STANDARD NEVER LOWERED.

Advertise in The Warbler.

Newspaper Misrepresentation

might draw you to our store once—might sell you once—but it would be your last purchase here. Our desire is to be honest in our advertising and honest in our store.

We want no trade but what is ours by virtue of honest goods at low prices.

GROCERIES

We have just received another large quantity of

Art Baking Powder

BOOTS AND SHOES

Something especially attractive in Ladies' Chocolate Shoes—extension sole—laced or buttoned, at $1.75. Exceptional value.

DRY GOODS

We will be pleased to show you our new line of

Spring Prints

W. M. ROBSON, West End 3 Stores

The Victoria Warbler

EVERY FRIDAY MORNING
At the Office

Cambridge St., South of the Market,
Lindsay.

W. M. ROBSON, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

REMOVAL SALE.

Having leased the premises formerly occupied by Mr. L. V. O'Connor,
Corner of William and Russell Streets,

I have decided to discontinue my present stock of FURNITURE, CROCKERY, GLASSWARE, CHINAWARE, and all articles of the kind. All parties indebted to me by note or book account are kindly requested to settle same within six days; any not settled then will be placed in other hands for collection.

JAR. H. LENOX.

Executors' Notice

Pursuant to the Revised Statutes of Ontario, Chap. 110, Sec. 50, the creditors of Esther Robbitt, late of the Township of Fenelon in the County of Victoria, widow, deceased, who died on or about the twenty-third day of October, 1897, and on or before the SIXTEENTH DAY OF APRIL, 1898, to send by post, prepaid, to Messrs. McQuay & Anderson, Lindsay, P. O., solicitors for said deceased and Angus Jamieson, executor of the estate of the said deceased and occupying, full particulars of their claims, and the nature of the security (if any) held by them. The said creditors shall, after the said sixteenth day of April, 1898, be at liberty to distribute the assets of the said deceased or any part thereof, and shall not be liable for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person whose claim such executors have not notice of at the time of such distribution.

Messrs. McQuay & Anderson,
of the County of Victoria,
are the solicitors for the said executors.

Dated the 10th day of March, A. D., 1898.—30 &

The Weather.

Report for the week ending Saturday night, Mar. 26, 1898, from Lindsay Observatory:—

TEMPERATURE.
Highest..... 55° 50..... Saturday
Lowest..... 16° 00..... Thursday
Warmest day, mean of..... 48° 75..... Saturday
Coldest..... 27° 25..... Thursday
The week..... 37° 35

FREQUENTATION BY STORMS.
Greatest fall of rain in 1 day, 0.49..... Tuesday
Least fall of rain in 1 day, 0.00..... Thursday
Greatest fall of snow in 1 day, 0.00.....
Least fall of snow in 1 day, 0.00.....
Total rain fall, 0.60

THESE, NAME!

Riches of the Klondike.

Yankee, R. G., March 27.—Lindsay, Goodwin, Long and Dunlop, four Americans, have arrived here direct from Dawson City, on the steamer Kalkan. They bring the latest and best news yet out from the Klondike. They made the trip in twenty-nine days. They describe the hardships as terrible. It was so cold that respiration froze from their clothes to their bodies. The quartzite was in last July and silver with a quarter to a half million each. They estimate that at least $30,000,000 will be brought out in the next twelve months. On Hunker, Eldorado, Bonanza, and Bear creeks the strike is so thick that it is almost sufficient, and runs on ranging from 50 cents to $100. Many estimate the amount at $50,000,000, but this is considered too high, although not impossible. Men cannot be dug out any more from these mines. The United States Revenue Service offered $15 a day and board to men to work Birch creek, in American territory, where they are taking out $300 a day per man, and only one man responded. There is no more room on the Klondike, and a change will soon be made to the American side, where strikes are made almost daily.

Permanent Pastorate.

A prominent officer of the Methodist General Conference in authority for the statement that the coming meeting of the great Methodist parliament will be asked to legalize permanent pastorate. During the past eight years considerable progress has been made in this direction. Eight years ago, at the Montreal meeting of the General Conference, the extension of the three years term was voted down. One of the chief reasons was Mr. Warriner Kennedy, who declared that the adoption of fixed pastorate in the place of itinerancy would be changing from Methodism to Presbyterianism. Four years ago a five years' pastorate, under various legislative restrictions, was legalized, with the result that in Toronto Conference alone a large number of pastors have, this quarter, received and accepted invitations to remain for a fifth year. The following year, however, the same point out that where pastors secure a firm hold upon their congregations, all kinds of efforts are made to get their ministers back after the shortest legal interval, to the great inconvenience of the churches and the people affected. The discussion upon it will also be colored by those likely to have the ministerial "plum" kept further out of their reach by the adoption of the proposal.—Toronto Star.

The Funeral of the Late J. P. Clemens.

The following, from the Mail and Empire of Monday, March 23rd, will be of interest to our readers. One of the best known and most favorably known to many of our citizens.—The funeral of the late J. P. Clemens, whose death occurred suddenly on Thursday evening will take place to-day at Fort Hope. The funeral services will be conducted by the members of the family and deputations from the Parkdale Methodist church, the Wholesale Fuelers' Society, the Retail Grocers' Association, and the Parkdale curling club. The body will be met at Fort Hope by the 46th Battalion, of which Mr. Clemens was major, and will be buried with military honors.

All day yesterday large numbers of friends and acquaintances called at the family residence to express their sympathy for Mrs. Clemens in her great bereavement. The floral offerings were very numerous, and if flowers can be taken as a mark of friendship Mr. J. P. Clemens will be mourned by many. Among the flowers received was a wreath from Mrs. and Mr. St. John; a wreath of lilies from the Women's Methodist Missionary Society; broken columns, carnations and lilies from the Parkdale Methodist church; wreath of roses from the Retail Grocers' Association; a wreath of roses and lilies from the 46th Battalion; cut flowers Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Biggs; anchor of lilies and roses, Fort Hope Methodist church; pillow of roses, Clemens Bros., employer; wreath of roses, Parkdale Sunday morning class; "The Gates Ajar," Montreal wholesale fruit trade; curving stone of roses and carnations, Parkdale Curling Club; lilies and carnations, Mr. and Mrs. Westwood; lilies and roses, Mr. John T. and Isaac Anderson; cut flowers, Mr. H. H. Cook; wreath of roses and mixed flowers, Mr. George Walker, Guelph.

Funeral of Mr. Kribs.

Hesperia, March 26.—(Special).—The funeral of the late Louis P. Kribs, the well known journalist who died in Ottawa on Thursday last, took place here this afternoon, from the residence of his parents, and was largely attended. Among those present from a distance were Messrs David Creighton, W. T. Howard, John Sturmont and E. Dickie, of Toronto; Arch Beemer, of the London News, Hon. James Young and Theo Todd, of Galt; Messrs G. A. Clare and George Patterson of Preston, besides others from Guelph, Berlin and Waterloo. The floral offerings were very beautiful and included a pillow from friends in Waterloo, wreaths from newspaper men of Toronto, press articles, Ottawa; the Globe staff, Toronto, McKinley Orange Lodge, Toronto, and sickle and sheaf from Mr. Thos. Raphael, Ottawa. The pall bearers were prominent business men, Messrs J. S. Scott, of Galt; Messrs G. A. Clare and George Patterson of Preston, besides others from Guelph, Berlin and Waterloo. The floral offerings were very beautiful and included a pillow from friends in Waterloo, wreaths from newspaper men of Toronto, press articles, Ottawa; the Globe staff, Toronto, McKinley Orange Lodge, Toronto, and sickle and sheaf from Mr. Thos. Raphael, Ottawa. The pall bearers were prominent business men, Messrs J. S. Scott, of Galt; Messrs G. A. Clare and George Patterson of Preston, besides others from Guelph, Berlin and Waterloo.

Five Cents an Acre for Land

T. W. O'Brien, who has resided in the Yukon district for over eleven years, as a trader and miner, has arrived in Ottawa. Mr. O'Brien left Dawson City on the 20th of January. He took about 20 days to drive by dog team to Skagway. He says that there will be enough food in Dawson to supply the wants of the people until such time as the boats arrive. Asked as to the necessity of a railway, Mr. O'Brien said that the miners were all in favor of getting some railway construction, and they were not bothering themselves about the cost. In his own opinion there was but one route, and that was the one the government had selected. The Americans, he said, will make a strong effort to keep the trade of the country to themselves, and it would be a mistake to have the line running to Dyea or Skagway, although it would be the easiest road to build.

As to the Lead Grant, he says that the lead is not worth 5 cents an acre, and the miners could make just as good a prospect with Messrs Mackenzie & Mann for its development as they could with the government. Of course he had not seen the contract and knew very little about the details. He has met Mr. Mackenzie who spent some time in the Yukon in the interests of the San Francisco Examiner, which was owned and controlled by the Alaska Commercial company. Mr. O'Brien says that the stories told by returning miners as to the wealth there, especially in the Yukon, are greatly exaggerated. He got a claim on the Eldorado from which he had taken $65,000 in gold, but it cost over $50,000 to get it. Mr. O'Brien goes out and in to the Klondike country every season of the year. He comes out last winter by dog team. He is a strong, heavy built man, and residence in that country evidently agrees with him.

A Woman's Hate.

"I hate you, I hate you!" the maiden said,
And her eyelids dropped and her face grew red,
And she turned from her lover and hung her head.
The flash came up to her rich brown hair,
And she plucked to pieces a ruffled fair,
And she stole a glance at her lover there.
And he—these men are so full of guile—
His eyes a-glittering with a deathly smile,
Looked calmly on with a mocking smile.
"I hate you, I hate you," she said again,
And she tapped her toe on the carpet then,
As if each tap were a stab at man.
Her lips were a quiver, her eyes in mist,
Her cheek and throat, as the sun-gods kissed,
Were bathed in the essence of amythist.
And then her lover with a ghastly look
Grew serious and his face grew black,
The confident glow which it erstwhile took.
And "Oh very well," as he rose to go!
"And if I please you, to have it so,
Why, so shall be, as you doubtless know."
He took one step, but a sudden turned;
Oh, much the sweetest is eyes unsmiled;
And looked in the tear wet eyes that yearned.
No word he spoke, but her arms entwined
Around his neck. Oh, a woman's mind
Is a puzzle to which no key you'll find.
Upon his shoulder she laid her head,
And he kissed her cheek, which was still red;
"You know I hate you!" was all she said.

Rudyard's Regrets

At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration. At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration.

At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration. At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration.

At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration. At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration.

Whiskey in the Yukon.

Tuesday afternoon Senator Parley in the Senate Chamber, Ottawa, said from returns brought down in the Commons it appeared that 11,000 gallons of whiskey had been taken into the Yukon country during the past year under Federal permits. This was a disgrace to a Government which professed to be favorable to prohibition. These 11,000 gallons of whiskey would no doubt have been increased to thirty thousand gallons by adulteration and for a country insufficiently policed, as the Yukon was, this was nothing more than placing a premium upon lawlessness.

Funeral of Mr. Kribs.

Hesperia, March 26.—(Special).—The funeral of the late Louis P. Kribs, the well known journalist who died in Ottawa on Thursday last, took place here this afternoon, from the residence of his parents, and was largely attended. Among those present from a distance were Messrs David Creighton, W. T. Howard, John Sturmont and E. Dickie, of Toronto; Arch Beemer, of the London News, Hon. James Young and Theo Todd, of Galt; Messrs G. A. Clare and George Patterson of Preston, besides others from Guelph, Berlin and Waterloo. The floral offerings were very beautiful and included a pillow from friends in Waterloo, wreaths from newspaper men of Toronto, press articles, Ottawa; the Globe staff, Toronto, McKinley Orange Lodge, Toronto, and sickle and sheaf from Mr. Thos. Raphael, Ottawa. The pall bearers were prominent business men, Messrs J. S. Scott, of Galt; Messrs G. A. Clare and George Patterson of Preston, besides others from Guelph, Berlin and Waterloo.

Five Cents an Acre for Land

T. W. O'Brien, who has resided in the Yukon district for over eleven years, as a trader and miner, has arrived in Ottawa. Mr. O'Brien left Dawson City on the 20th of January. He took about 20 days to drive by dog team to Skagway. He says that there will be enough food in Dawson to supply the wants of the people until such time as the boats arrive. Asked as to the necessity of a railway, Mr. O'Brien said that the miners were all in favor of getting some railway construction, and they were not bothering themselves about the cost. In his own opinion there was but one route, and that was the one the government had selected. The Americans, he said, will make a strong effort to keep the trade of the country to themselves, and it would be a mistake to have the line running to Dyea or Skagway, although it would be the easiest road to build.

As to the Lead Grant, he says that the lead is not worth 5 cents an acre, and the miners could make just as good a prospect with Messrs Mackenzie & Mann for its development as they could with the government. Of course he had not seen the contract and knew very little about the details. He has met Mr. Mackenzie who spent some time in the Yukon in the interests of the San Francisco Examiner, which was owned and controlled by the Alaska Commercial company. Mr. O'Brien says that the stories told by returning miners as to the wealth there, especially in the Yukon, are greatly exaggerated. He got a claim on the Eldorado from which he had taken $65,000 in gold, but it cost over $50,000 to get it. Mr. O'Brien goes out and in to the Klondike country every season of the year. He comes out last winter by dog team. He is a strong, heavy built man, and residence in that country evidently agrees with him.

Praise for the Militia.

Ottawa, March 27.—Major-General Gascoigne has a good word to say in his annual report of the Toronto military corps, in connection with their annual field day. He says:—"The militia of Toronto set a good example to the rest of the country in having a field day there, which takes place annually on Thanksgiving day, and was very much pleased with what I saw. Toronto is proud of its militia, and deservedly so, for a finer and more enthusiastic body of men is not to be found anywhere. If they had been otherwise, this year's operations would have been evidence, at a more unfortunate day, although not unaccountable for the end of November, could hardly have been experienced. Any efforts you could make to have Thanksgiving day changed to about the middle of October would be greatly appreciated by the Militia of Halifax and Toronto, and, possibly, by the rest of Canada, and if you should succeed in having it done, I think it very likely that other cities, Montreal and Ottawa, for instance, would also be encouraged to hold a field day."

He Talked to the Galleries

The following war news is from Wednesday's papers. We publish the speech of Mr. Mason to show the feeling of the war party in the States. Three months would give Mr. Mason and the States about all the war they want.

Washington, March 29.—Interest in the Cuban situation—the interest might almost be termed excitement, so intense was it—reached a climax in the proceedings of the Senate today. As on previous days of discussion of the Cuban question, thousands of people flocked to the Capitol, only a few of whom, comparatively, could gain admission to the galleries.

At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration. At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration.

At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration. At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration.

At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration. At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration.

At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration. At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration.

At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration. At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration.

At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration. At the dinner of the Kipling Club of Yale University, held on May 14, 1898, the following verses were read as an answer by Rudyard Kipling to an invitation to attend the celebration.

CASTORA

For Infants and Children.

THE GREAT
GREAT

Anglo-Saxon Union.

London, March 29.—The Daily Mail, under the caption of "A Voice from the West," this morning prints a poem by Alfred Austin, the poet laureate, which is based on the idea of sympathy and co-operation between Great Britain and the United States. The poem follows:—
"What is the voice I hear
On the wind of the Western sea?
Sentinel, listen from our Cape Clear,
And say what the voice may be.
'Tis a proud, free people calling loud
To a people proud and free.
'And it says to them, Kissme, hall,
We've served here too long;
Now let us have done with a warrent tale,
A tale of an ancient wrong,
And our friendship last long as love doth last
To die as stronger than death is strong.
'Answer them, some of the self-same race,
And speak with such other acts to face,
Let us break with each other less to face,
And answer as man to man,
And loyally love and trust each other
As none but free men can.
'Now fling them out to the breeze—
Samsark, the tale, and rose,
And the Star Spangled Banner unfurl with These
A message to friends and foes.
Wherever the sails of peace are seen
And wherever the war wind blows.
'A message to bond and thrall to wake,
For wherever we come, we twain,
The threat of the tyrant's cloak and guile,
And his menace be void and vain,
For you are lords of a strong, young land,
And we are lords of the main.
'The final verse, which is not cabied, re-echoes the second.

A Tale of Hard Times.

Two gay young frogs from inland bogs,
Had spent the night in drinking;
At morning broke and they awoke,
While yet their eyes were blinking,
A farmer's pail came to the swale,
And caught them quick as winking,
Ere they could gather scattered senses,
Or breathe a prayer for past offences,
The granger grins—the gullies man—
Had dumped them in the milkman's can.
The can filled up, the cover down,
They soon are started off to town,
The milkman's frog begins to quake,
And sobs up on old milk snake,
They quickly find their breath will stop,
Unless they swim upon the top,
They swim for life, and kick and swim,
Until their weary eyes grow dim,
Their muscles ache, their breath grows short,
And, gasping, speak one weary word,
'Dear old boy, let's pretty tough
To die so young, but I've enough
O' kicks for life. No more o' it try it,
I was not raised on a milk diet.'
'Tut tut, my lad,' the other cries,
A frog's not dead until he dies,
Let's keep on kicking, that's my plan—
We may yet see 'n' inside this can.
'No use, no use,' faint heart replied,
'Tured up his toes and gawdified,
The braver frog, undrained still,
Ere his kicking was a right will,
Until, with piteous groans to utter,
He found he'd chucked a lump of butter,
And climbing on the lump of grease,
He doctored round with greatest ease.

Church Notes.

On Good Friday, April 8th, the St. Andrew's Methodist church, at Lindsay, will have a special and entertainment under the direction of the Ladies' Aid, to which they cordially invite the congregation and the general public. Proceedings to commence at 8 o'clock. A suitable programme is being given for men on that evening.

Mixed Marriages.

Mr. Sept. 1897, in a review of the case of the Episcopal clergyman in Ottawa, writes the Western Chronicle, the Anglican organ of the North-west, as follows:—"I know that I have a warning service held in Methodist churches and in other churches that both the clergy and the laity have increased. As yet the progress is only average about 50 percent. If many of our church members had married Episcopalian husbands, my conversion would be much larger. There are many such cases here, and I believe that they are not only really a hindrance to the cause of religion, but have been trying to form a church of their own for some time past. They have been fourteen at an ordinary church service on Friday night. There is a strong feeling of opinion voiced"—Rev. Father Times.

CRISIS AT HAND.

Big Preparations for War.

London, March 28.—A despatch to the Times from Hong Kong says: "Orders were issued yesterday to the naval establishments there to make urgent preparations to place themselves on a war footing. The staff included, was augmented and mobilization was ordered. The despatch further announced that 20 French cruisers have sailed with the Hong Kong, the British battleship, Barfleur, has gone to Nagasaki, Japan. All the warships are coaling and provisioning to be in readiness for immediate action and the navy yards are working day and night. What action they will take against the great Army and Navy bought by Gough at $3 cents on the dollar we don't know, nor do we presume Gough care, for he is working day and night with this great stock, and although he is well fortified and prepared he has all he can do to accommodate the great Army of eager buyers who are besieging his store all around to get one of the big bargains during the triumphant sale of the Army & Navy at $5. At the same time in conversation with Mr. Gough today our reporter informs us that in the event of an invasion of our country Canadians have nothing to fear from the United States for Gough would fire into them a volley of those $10 units at $4.98 that is so electrifying our own people would knock the wind out of Uncle Sam in the first round. Long live the great Gough and his still greater Army & Navy sale—they are both ours.

Ask your grocer for

Windsor Salt

For Table and Dairy, Purest and Best

60-7