Great Britain Rejolocs

New York, April 10 —Referring to the decisive defeat of the Dervishes on the Upper Nile by the Angle Egyptian forces, the London correspondent of The Sun

*The rejoicing over the great victory in the Soudan is universal in Great Britain.
The fall of Khartoum is regarded as assured, and not long to be delayed. assured, and not long to be delayed. The tardy avenging of General Gorden has stirred the patrio is pulse of the nation. It is believed that the defeat of the Der ishes is so overwhelming that a sudden collapse of the Khalifa's rule is not improbable, in which case the advance upon Khartoum will be prompt and almost unopposed."

FREDERIC FORESAW IT.

Cabling on the same subject to The Times Harold Frederic says: "When military tolk here were bragging a little prematurely of the great doings on the Indian frontier and talking lightly of the ease with which the Afridis were to be swept off the face of the earth, I pointed swept off the face of the earth, I pointed at that Gen. Kitchener, in Egypt, was the man who was really making history. Yesterday's brilliant victory over the Dervishes and the capture of their leader, Mahmoud, practically brings the Soudan campaign to a close till the rising of the Nile gives this most competent soldier his great opportunity of striking at Occupant great opportunity of striking at Omdur-man and Khartoum. For the Government here this news comes with special grace to cheer the hearts of those follow. ers who have been grumbling at the policy of "backing down." Those gentle critics of the European press who vary their insults against America by sneers egainst the presumably passive England, will learn the useful lesson that there is still some leading and fighting power left in the Angl>Saxon."

Mr. Ford, in his cabled letter to The Tribune, saye:

"The situation on the Nile has been cleared by the brilliant victory of the Sirdar's forces over the Dervishes, and is wrong to lie and steal in politics and they will soon couclude that it is not wrong to lie and steal anywhere.

In his early life Wendell Phillips formed a purpose expressed in these words:
"Whatever is right, in God's name I will do; whatever is wrong, in God's name I will strike down?" Young man, can you conceive of a better motto?

Sirdar's forces over the Darvishes, and Englishmen can keep the Easter feast, both with the old leaven of patriotic pride and the new leaven of Imperial interests. The British soldiers and the Egyptian troops fought with almost equal steadin as battle planned that the defeat of the Dervishes was the most decisive one in the whole history of desert campaigning.

The story is not yet told in detail, but evidently this splendid, irresistible charge directly in feont of a strong intrenehed position will rank among the most brilliant achievements of the British arms.

The road to Khartoum has been opened, The road to Khartoum has been opened, the pacification and redemption of the Soudan have been hastened, and the Sirdar's title to the peerage has been established. It requires courage for any-body to avow himself a little Englander in the face of such exhibitions of old time British valor and military skill in organizing vietery."
