Montreal, Sept. 5.—Mr. R. Meigher, the president of the Woods Milling Company, received the following telegram this morning from Mr. W. A. Haskins, the vice president of the company, who has been making a tour of the province: "Fully 90 per cent. of the Manitoba crop has been cut, and about 50 per cent, in the territories. Weather showery throughout the wheat country, preyenting threshing and stacking. Very little stacking done except in the Mennonite country. Can expect no deliveries with present weather."

Another telegram from the weet this morning stated that the first deliveries of wheathave been received by the Lake of the Woods have been received by the Take of the Woods Milling Company at Gretne and Altone, in the Mennonite reserve. The wheat has been forwarded to the milis at Keewatin.

An Imperial Policy

The United States has prespered as no other nation under the sun eyer did. Its course has ever been caward and upward to-ward better things. In the pursuit of this high position, it has never needed an imperial policy to help it. It does not need it to day. Never have our prospects been more satis factory if we refuse steadfastly to touch the Dand Sea fruit of imperialism. The moment we do that, our power will begin to weaken; we do that, our power will begin to weeken; the fruit that seems so fair will crumble is our grasp. Were we to yield to the seductive influence of territorial expansion, we would, of necessity, be compelled to abandon the Monroe Doctrine, which has proved a very bulwark of defence to us so far; it would be necessary for us to establish new and delicate relations with other powers; our governmental expenses would be immensely increased without compensating reture; opportunity for out compensating reture; opportunity for political and other crimes would spring up ke gourds in the night, but, worst of all, we would be brought face to face, day after day with the consolousness that we had falsified

If it is a fact, and of that there is no doubt, that the world's "bread-eating" population has increased 18 per cent since an acre was added to its bread-bearing areas, and that only average acre yields can be expected for any considerable term of years, then the prosperity of American farmers, as well as those of other countries who own the lands they splittents is assured so long as there are those of other countries who own the lands they cultivate, is assured so long as there are people with the ability to buy food. Prosper-ity on the part of the agricultural class assures reasonable prosperity for the nation, as a whole, so long as agriculture turnishes large exportable surpluses of food and fibre, and turnal workers are in such numbers relatively to the entire working force, as to absorb a large proportion of the products of munufacture. We, the United States, cassed some ten years ago to add materially to the number of farms as well as to the number of cultivated longs proportion of the products of munufacture. We, the United States, cassed some ten years ago to add materially to the number of farms as well as to the number of cultivated acres. The new farms added between 1870 and 1890 averaged 95,000 per annum, or the equivalent of an average-sized state, and coorded and farnished employment for, for all time, a fourth more people than reached our shores during the tweaty years. But it must be borne in mind that new instead of new farms furnishing employment for more people than we import, the practical exhaustion of the cultivable portion of the public domain precludes the opening of any canadiers able number of new farms, and that the greater employment of "labor leasening" devices upon the farms forces a steadily increasing number of rural labor units off the farm and mot the racks of those employed in mine, forge and factory. From "Prosperity: Present and Future," by C. Wood Davis, in Self Calture for September.

The injured were taken to the City Hospital and to the Continental knitting mill, the former not having sufficient ambulance service to care for them all.

The bloody corpses were picked up and placed in boxes, but most of them unrecognizable. The crash was frightful in its results. Headless women with their gay summer dresses bathed in their own and the blood of others; limbs without trunks or any means of indentification; women's and men's heads, with crushed and distorted features, bodies crushed and flattened; these sights constitute a scene most horrible to behold.

The following dead bodies were indentified up to one o'cleck this morning:

Archie Champeaux of Cohoes, James Temple of Lanringburg, Edward Barney of Cohoes, Mirs. John Craven of Cohoes, Mirs. Kittle Craves of Cohoes, Joseph Sanez of Cohoes, Nellie Swett, 15 years old, of Cohoes, Mrs. Eitzs McElroy of Cohoes.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 5.—The schooner J. M. Coleman which has arrived from St. Michael's brings news that two prospectors were embushed and shot while drifting down the Yukon in a boat. Indians fired upon the boat, killing one and wounding the other. The wounded man escaped and reached a police camp. The police started and found the Indians enjoying the prospectors' supplies. They were brought to Dawson, where one of the Indians made a confession.

Mr. Frank, who came on the Coleman, says when he left Dawson there was a stampede to Dowey and Sampson creeks, from which fine reports came. Both are in American territory.

They were critered to prevent the broken memy from returning to Omdurman, five miles distant. They charged to within 30 yards of the dervishes, when suddenly they found themselves confrouted by 2000 hidden reserves. They did not hesitate, though they were exposed to a withering infantry fire, but began to hack their way through the enemy, who stood 20 deep. The brunt of the fighting fell on No. 2 Company. A corporal of this company who sarrived on the far side of the enmy, drenched with blood and reelling from weakness, and was ordered to fall out. Waving his bent lance, he shouted, "Never!" and called to his aquadion: "Form up, No. 2"

After cutting lanes through the enemy, the Lancera, bleeding and blown, reformed at and to pour a carbine fire into the dervishes.

This fire drove the enemy back into the line of the Anglo-Egyptian fire. Another incident of the charge was the gallant attempt of Lifeut. Montmorency, Captain Keuna and Corporal Swarback to recover 'he body of Lieut Granfell. They kept the enemy off with their revolvers and placed the body on a horsa, which however shied, rendering their attack fraitless.
