REARERO.
Hazardous to the Warbler.
Rearero folks say that Lennon's is the cheapest place in town to buy furniture, crockery, tinware, crockery and glassware.—78 1.

HARTLEY.
Methodist church anniversary is coming off next Sunday and Monday, Dec. 18 and 19. Rev. W. B. Tucker, R. A., B. D., Manila, will preach on Sunday at 10 and 7 p.m. On Monday evening Rev. J. R. Ballar and G. Ross, Daleyville, will speak. Duette, solos, recitations, etc. will make up a grand programme. Admission only 15 cts and 10 cts.

CANNON.
Rev. Charles E. Ferry, the well known Methodist of-ine, and Grand Orange Lodge organizer will be here on the 18th and 19th inst. On Sunday he will deliver T. Snowdon's appointment at 10 and on Monday evening he will give his celebrated lecture, "The Word of God for the foundation of our civil and religious liberties." Lecture will be free to all.

JANETVILLE.
The Janetville L.O.L. No. 44 held their annual election of officers for the year 1899, in their hall on Thursday evening, Dec. 15th, when the following were elected—Bro. W. A. Arthur, W. M. J. J. Bobbs, P. M.; Jas. H. J. Chapman, G. McNeil, sec. gen.; G. H. Stuart, Jr., sec. 2; C. Chertle, pres.; J. Clark, D. C.; Douglas, Fisher, 1st. comm.; J. Logan, 1st. alt. comm.; O. Armstrong, Jas. Fennie, A. Sisson, F. Redwood and Jas. Fennie acted the books and their report speaks well for the lodge.

SURPRISE.
A few evenings ago the young people of Janetville assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. with well filled baskets filled the house to its utmost capacity. After all had been seated they sat down to a sumptuous repast and after satisfying the inner man, Mr. H. W. was presented with a well filled purse as a farewell present. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. are going to live with their son in Pittsburg. This act of the young people shows the respect and veneration in which the old gentleman was held.

KINMOUNT.
Col. SAN. F. HUGHES, M.P., will address the Orange Hall here, Monday, Dec. 19th, in the Orange Hall here, subject, "His recent visit to Ireland and Derry Walls." This address will no doubt be very interesting. Admission free, all are welcome.
The Royal Tins Blues of Kinmount will give a grand concert in the Orange Hall on Friday, Dec. 18th. An excellent programme will be given including that grand solo drama "The Slave's Revolt" which is more worth more than the price of admission. Everybody partakes this concert as the proceeds are in aid of the Orphan's Home.

We have our full quota of snow. Farmers and teamsters are on the move. Our merchants appear to be doing a good business.

AMBER.
Special to The Warbler.
Crowded out last week.
The health of our village is very good and escaping the grippe this year. Mrs. Hart, North Manvers, will be sorry to hear of their illness, they are doing as well as can be expected under the care of Dr. Cornwall; also Mrs. Windim, sister of W. A. Sutherland.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.
The London Daily Mail of November 8 says: H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, the anniversary of whose birthday will be celebrated to-morrow, is undoubtedly the most genial, as he is the best dressed of men. His good humor is a pattern for all men of light and leading.

ENGLAND ALONE RESPECTED OUR MOTIVES FOR WAR.
When the people of the United States decided that the condition of things in Cuba was shocking to humanity and could no longer be tolerated by a liberty-loving nation in close proximity to the scene of so many outrages and of such terrible misery, the great Powers of the Continent of Europe were alarmed and suspicious. They imputed to the United States motives of selfish aggression, only transparently cloaked by a hypocritical pretense of humanity and disinterestedness.

THE HORSE MARKET.
As usual at this season of the year the general horse market is somewhat quiet, but as is always the case, there are constant demands for good substantial animals up to and over six hundred pounds, and just the right kind are very scarce. During the past week Mr. Harland Smith, of Grand's Repository, has received a number of demands for big individuals and well matched teams, but he has been unable to supply them.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.
The Prince of Wales, like so many of the world's great men, is a very short sleeper, rarely retiring to bed before two o'clock "in the wee sma' hours," but he is always down, looking fresh and bright, from a cold bath (in which he indulges all the year round), at half-past eight.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.
His Royal Highness, when he is employed as a class by themselves, once installed under the Hair-Apparent's roof, they never leave, save from ill health, and their fidelity never fails.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.
Among life's busy bees he is one of the most active; as an indication of this just read the following summary of nine months' engagements of the Prince as reported in the press: Eleven attendances at the House of Lords, on forty-five occasions he had official and charitable engagements, his appearances at dinner parties, balls, garden parties and concerts total to forty-three, twenty-eight race meetings were honored with his presence, and on thirty occasions he visited the theatre. Not bad for thirty-one weeks.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.
One is not surprised at His Royal Highness's numerous attendances at the theatre when it is recalled that, like all the members of the Royal family, he has a keen dramatic appetite. He is an excellent judge of all plays, and did not greater responsibilities require his more immediate attention, he would be a valuable recruit to the ranks of the critics.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.
The smallest detail on the stage does not escape his vision. When the Prince visited the Adelphi during the run of "One of the Boys," he discovered that the ribbon of the Victoria Cross worn by Mr. Torries was incorrect. This he at once pointed out, and it was at once put right.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.
Concerning the theatrical side of the Prince's life, a good story is related. Accompanied by the Duke of Edinburgh and Teck, His Royal Highness called upon Miss Genevieve Ward. While talking, the actress heard the tinkle of her pet dog's bell, and she called out, "Come here, Teck!"

THE PRINCE OF WALES.
The visitors started, and Miss Ward hastily apologized: "My little dog's name is Teck—short for Thecla." They all roared at the idea, and the animal nuzzled at the Duke of Edinburgh. "Basket, Teck!" exclaimed the actress, and the dog obeyed. As the gentlemen went down the stairs they were laughing heartily, and the Prince of Wales, as he slipped his cousin on the back, said merrily, "Basket, Teck!"

ENGLAND ALONE RESPECTED OUR MOTIVES FOR WAR.
Great Britain, alone, basing her judgment on her own feelings and experience, sympathized with the national sentiment in America, and, believing with Mrs. Browning, that—
Unselfish—shiver a lance
(As the least of her sons may, in fact),
And not for a cause of finance,— sought for the spring of action, not in the excesses of jingoism or the greed of interested individuals, but in the great moral forces which move a free people in the presence of injustice and wrong, perpetrated against helpless men and innocent women and children.—
From "Recent Developments in the United States," by the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, in the December (Christmas) Scribner's.

ENGLAND ALONE RESPECTED OUR MOTIVES FOR WAR.
The Toronto Evening News speaking editorially, says:—"From the fact that no coal beds occur in Ontario it has hitherto been taken for granted that this province could never hope to take rank as a manufacturing country. It now looks, however, as if our immense peatbogs might supply the deficiency. The Canadian Peat Fuel Company are possessors of process by which peat, through the application of great pressure, can be converted into a fuel capable of doing all the work that coal is able to accomplish. A successful test of the new fuel was made by the Central Ontario Railway Company at Trenton on Tuesday last when twenty-two freight cars were drawn thirty miles over a track a considerable portion of which was heavily graded. The energy produced was apparently equal to that obtained from coal. Moreover the compressed peat possesses two distinct advantages over coal. It is far cheaper, and it is almost smokeless. Should it thus prove on further trial to be equal to coal as a fuel, there is no physical reason why Ontario should not soon rival the great manufacturing countries. In that event manufactured articles ought to become cheaper, owing to the comparative cheapness of the new fuel, and a reduction should also take place in railway fares and freight charges. In fact, if all the claim put forward in behalf of compressed peat are genuine, Ontario is about to enter on an era of rapid industrial development and cheap facilities of transportation. In this district there exist many first-class peat beds and it is only a matter of time until they are used. Peat is the coming fuel of this province."

ENGLAND ALONE RESPECTED OUR MOTIVES FOR WAR.
The result of the voting in West Huron and Hallowell elections last week was the return of both Liberal candidates, Hon. Mr. Garrow and Mr. J. R. Barber.
