SOMETHING WRONG.

Business failures in Canada last week numbered sixty, against thirty-eight for Fergueson. the corresponding week last year. There must be a mistake somewhere. The grits used to say that once Mr. Laurier held the reins there would be no more failures. Will the grits please account for this deplorable state of affairs?

THE WHEAT QUESTION.

The Trade Bulletin of Nov. 6th says the wheat question continues to gain in interest every day, as there appears to be a general impression that a new era of an era of business prosperity. values has set in, and much higher prices are considered certain by quite a number of legitimate traders, who are backing up their opinions by purchasing the actual grain for account of their English correspondents as well as the rown. That there will be sufficient wheat for the world's requirements, and some to spare, is pretty certain; but the fact that supplies everywhere have undergone a ma-terial shrinkage has simply enabled values to regain the r normal status from which they had been driven by excessive sur-pluses, and allowed to drift a long way below their intrinsic worth. This is the to News of a recent date says :-- "John real sequel of the late advance in prices. A. HUNGRY OFFICE SEEKERS.

The Cobourg Star says:

"The declaration of a policy by the present men in power to decapitate every man against whom a charge can be laid of having intertered in the late elections, has whetted the office-seeking appetite of a very large section of the liberal party, hence the demand for place is overwhelmingly large, and will soon busy the unhappy expounders of the doctrine of "to the victors belong the spoils" under an aval-anche of applications and comp aints.

Montreal, Nov. 10.-For the past few days a conference has been going on between Mr. C. W. Spencer, superinten-dent of the eastern division of the C.P.R., seven of the divisional superint seven of the divisional superintendents and seven delegates representing the train operators in the same divisions. Quite a few matters were discussed and grievances were gone into and this evening a final understanding was reached and an agreement signed regarding the men's duties, pay, etc., which will hold good for one year. All parties state that the differences have been disposed of in a manner satisfactory to the men and the company.

Devoured by a Wild Beast.

Troy, Mont., Nov. 10.—Alexis Burk, a young methodist minister from Chicago, who has been preaching on a circuit in the Flathead mountains, started out through the hills with a hunting party last Thursday. On Saturday he sought adventure alone. That night he did not return, and when morning came a relief party was organized. Several miles from the camp the searching party found blood on the snow, and later came to a place where a struggle had taken place. The trail in the snow to the point where the animal had dragged the body was fol-lowed, and what was left of it was found mangled, torn, shredded and frozen. From tracks in the snow the fight must have been a fearful one. The body had been partly devoured by the animal.

A Hint for the Victoria Ploughing Association.

The Toronto Globe of Thursday, Nov. 5th, has a special report of the North York ploughmen's annual matches for prizes, from which we take the following: We recommend the "handsome ploughcompetition to our county

Nobleton, Nov. 4— (Special) — The annual ploughing match under the auspices of the King ploughmen's association was held here to-day on the fine farm occupied by Mr. Jacob Gould, and like all its predecessors it was abundantly successful. It is claimed that no other part of this wide Dominton can turn out such an array of really first class plowmen as the town-ship of King and the adjoining township of Vaughan. Between these two townships a very strong but good natured rivalry exists, and the annual ploughing match is always looked forward to with great interest. It is the talk of all the surrounding district for weeks before and after the advent has taken place. Nor is the interest all confined to the sterner sex, for the wives and sweethearts of the farmers and their sturdy sons are every whit as enthustastic and always attend the matches in great numbers. As there is generally a "grand ball" to wind up the proceedings the affair has now become Mr. Farrow's office, and has been making to the good people of North York, and the usual secret charges, that he acted as King township in particular, of just as a political partisan in order that the much importance as Woodbridge fair is government may have an excuse for dis- to the public of West York. It has also missing him. It will be interesting to see received great encouragement and assistand Hon. E. J. Davis. Both gentlemen have, whenever at all possible, been present at the matches, and their presence has always been appreciated.

HANDSOME PLOUGHMEN. The weather to-day was somewhat disagreeable, but notwithstanding this over 2,000 spectators were present, including four or five hundred ladies. Many of these remained on the field until the last sod was turned, so eager were they to ascertain who were the winners, es pecially in the competition for the best looking ploughmen. The task of giving this decision was assigned to three of King's fairest young damsels, and their decision when announced later was received with great applause. The best looking ploughman in the sod they de-clared to be Mr. Joe Lemon, and they added a rider to the effect that "if he only had a moustache he would be the best looking man in the field." Mr. Joe Wilson was awarded the prize for the best looking ploughman in the stubble, but his judges thought "he should have had his moustache waxed."

The ploughmen were entertained at luncheon by Mr. Gould and the judges and officers by Mr. Frank Trent. There were 39 competitors in the different events, or 14 more than at last year's match, and the ploughing by all was of a very high grade, so much so that the judges had a hard task in deciding the winners. They nevertheless gave general satisfaction.

The judges to adjudge the best looking ploughmen were—Miss Malloy, Nobleton; Miss Maggie Gilles, Strange, and Miss Nellie Wells, King Creek.

THE Lindsay Post is wasting a lot of maudiin sympa hy over the brute Howell who was shot at K ngston penitentiary while brandshing a pair of heavy shears and threatening to disembowel his keepers.

The convict was little better than a beast and the crime for which he was sentenced to imprisonment for life is one of the most revolting in the annals of crime and should have been met with the death penalty as the law directs. What good an grow out of keeping this thing before the public? We venture the assertion that if k-eper Hughes who fired the shot had not been a brother of Major Sam Hughes of THE WARDER, the Post would not have so much to say about the matter Politics are all right and we like to see a good keen tilt between political opponents, but there is something about the way the Post keeps at this thing that is disgusting, If Keeper Hughes had not been a man of nerve and prompt action a brother keeper would have been done to death. CAUGHT AT LAST -The Globe of Thursday says :- For the last three or four years the deputy game wardens in the northern part of Peterborough county have been watching an American citizen named Chas. Haggart, who has made that region his annual rendezvous during the deer-hunting season and who, they had reason to believe, was yearly violating the game regulations. In 1893 a strong effort was made to capture him but he eluded arrest. A few days ago deputy game warden Smith heard that he was again in this country and went out into the woods expressly to see him. On asking him for his beense he produced a recident's license, which costs only $2, instead of a non resident's permit, which costs $25, and he was promptly fined $40 for the offence.

Austrian Settlers for the West.

About 35 immigrants, brought out by the Beaver line steamship Lake Ontario, arrived in Toronto Tuesday morning. They were brought up from Quebec in two parties by the G.T.R. and C.P.R., a short stop over being allowed them for refreshments, after which they were forwarded to their respective destinations. Among them there was a party of 52 people from Galazir, Austria, bound for Alberta, Edmonton, N.W.T. They intend to join the Austrian colony established there about eighteen months ago by professor Olis Row, a delegate sent out by the Austrian government, Professor Row having made the selection of the land upon which the colony is situated near Edmonton. The new-comers being practical farmers, having some means, will undoubtedly in due time become good settlers. The population of this colony is estimated at 750, to which add the 52 now on the way, making a total of 802 persons, which is a good showing for the committee having charge of the work, seeing that the work was started inside of two years. Mr. W. Anderson, of the Dominion immigration staff at Quebec accombanied the party from Quebec to Montreal, and rendered good service to those people in various ways by looking after their general interests.

C. H. DORENWEND, Canada's greatest authority on the Mechanical Treatment of Rupture and Deformi y, will be in Lindsay, at Beason House, on Saturday, Nov 21, till 5:30 p.m. where he can be consulted with free of charge. He brings with him the largest stock of trusses, etc., ever shown in Canada. He makes a specialty of a truss that helds rupture exactly like the fingers. It is far superior to anything yet invented; the old principles of tight strapping and combersome appliances are avoided. It is light and strong, holds with ease, never allowing the Hernia to escape. In this advantage lies the secret of a cure without a risky operation. If ruptured, don't be deluded into an idea of security because you have a truss ou. It must fit perfectly, and who can do better for you than one who attends hundreds mouthly. Rupture is not exactly a disease; nevertheless it is positively danger-oas if neglected.

If Detormed by club feet, bow legs, knock knees, spinal curvature or hip disease, you can have it corrected and obtain relief by mechanical means. Children raptured or deformed should be attended to early to avoid future misery.

If suffering from rheumatism, nervous debility, kidney trouble, dyspepsia, etc., why don't you try electricity? It is a great remedy, and by a Dorenwend Electric Belt you can apply it simply and effectually; thousands used with best of results. Limited space prevents further details; for practical demonstration call as stated above.
