FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1897.

GLANDINE.

Special to The Warbler. WINDMILL.—The windmill of Mr. Pogue's is quite a conspicuous object from the corner. Robert always takes the lead.

ORATOR NOTES.—In the absence of our regular minister the pulpit was ably filled by Mr. W. James whose sermon was much appreciated. He will always be welcome.

OBITUARY.—It is with sorrow we record the death of M. C. Woolcott, sr., who passed away after a brief illness at a ripe old age.

LITERARY NOTES.—The literary society at Glandine continues to prosper. On Tuesday evening the hall was filled to overflowing. They have just purchased an organ from the popular agent, Mr. Sam Brown. The popular debate proved quite a surprise to the audience.

A card on the outside of office door says: "Gone to lunch. Be back in ten minutes." And the man will be back in ten minutes. Then he will be home occasionally for a day. He'll tell you he had a headache—a turn of cholera, morbus, or maybe he'll say he had a lump in his stomach and felt too miserable to move. The lump was probably two or three three-minute lunches condensed.

BURNT RIVER. Special to The Warbler. BASKET SOCIAL.—A basket social under the auspices of the Methodist church was held here on the evening of the 10th inst. and was a very successful affair.

KINMOUNT. To the Editor of The Warbler. Sir,—I would like if you will kindly insert in your columns the following letter which I sent to the Boboysong Independent dated Jan. 25th.

EDITOR BOBOYSONG. Sir,—I would like if you will kindly insert in your columns the following letter which I sent to the Boboysong Independent dated Jan. 25th.

BOBOYSONG. THE SUDDEN DEATH OF Mr. Irwin Junkin fell heavily upon the town and community. The deceased was taken sick while attending the burial of his brother James, who died of brain disease on January 27th.

DOGS.—This village is suffering from an overplus of dogs. This statement in itself is no new thing, for with the exception of one or two week dogs can be had for a song at any time, and not much of a song at that.

As well as Ever. DEAR SIR,—After suffering for two years from acute indigestion I tried B.B.R. I took only three bottles, which made me as well as ever I was. I highly recommend B.B.R. to all dyspeptics. Mrs. John White, Austin, Man.—53-14.

PAID FURTHER from his buildings, etc. But it might be better instead of giving your readers my version of the case to give a synopsis of what was proven in court. viz: That Mr. Cartmill made an agreement with the council (while in session) that if he made a new road over the hill, they would allow him a year's taxes and give him the old road for his own private use; that they had appointed me, by motion, com. on that road, and that I had refused to act or have anything to do with it, telling them how and where I would exercise my authority; that I had drawn up the right of way, or deed, of the new road and had it signed by Mr. Cartmill, on conditions that he could close up the old road and use it for his own private use; that I had filed the same with the council; that they had passed a by-law establishing the new road; that I had paid me com. fees to the amount of $1.50 on that job.

Now, Mr. Editor, in the face of all this "Our John", who now gets the "cheese" told when asked about this road, (previous to the court), that it was "Edwards put to the road there," and he with the council notified Mr. Cartmill to open the old road when he was not to do so, and that he was to be put to the road there when the above was proved, and backed up by the minutes of their own proceedings in council. How it got there is a question, if "nobody" knew anything about it only Mr. Cartmill. And although this road was in process of making, and worked at occasionally from December to the next November, and though the street saw it and some of the council, and the neighborhood generally, no one ever told me not to pass it nor to close up the old road until it was completed, and if I had not passed the road when finished the very men who were the readers of this paper would have found a way to let me know it.
