A NEW INDUSTRY.—A Toronto paper of Monday says:—Mr. A. G. Peuchen, of this city, waited upon Fanelon Falls village council last night to make arrangements with the village for a partial exemption from taxation for a new industry that will employ a staff of 25 men, which he proposes to locate there.

Mr. Peuchen wants to lease the pulp mill and mr. Peuchen wants to lease the pulp mill and turn it into a manufactory for wood, alcohol, acetate of lime, charcoal and other products. It is expected the industry will be in operation in June, and 7,000 cords of hard and soft woods will be yearly converted into chemicals.

HARPER'S MAGAZINE. -The intervention of the inhabitant of the planet of Mars, from whom Du Maurier's serial story "The Martian" takes its name, will be the feature of the instalment to be published in the March number of Harper's Magazine. Either with design or by a happy accident, the publishers' announcement shows that a paper immediately preceding these chapters of "The Martain" in the same number will bear the title "Astronomical progress of the century," and will "trace the development of the latest theory of the universe, unfolding a scientific actuality more stupendous in its reaches of imagination than the cosmography of the Divine comedy or Paradise lost."

SUNDAY was St. Valentine's day. A noticeable feature of recent years is the tendency to do away with the custom of sending to friends, valentines, Christmas cards, Easter cards and other periodical souvenirs. Sunday was no exception to the rule, and people who once looked forward to the valentine with pleasure, scarce gave the old custom a passing thought. The delightful old manners of making love long ago, with the quaint dignity of old, the delicate, though somewhat stilted courtesy is passing away. But the same old atory of love is not dead, nor is any of its amount agency. But the young people of to. sweetness gone. THE REEVESHIP—The nominations for the vacant recessing took place Monday morning, resulting in the following nominations; J H Lennon by Jos Thorndike and J A Williamson; R Touchburn by R J McLaughlin and Jas Boxall; Geo Crandell by A D Mallon and P. O'Rie'ly; Richard Kylle, by Thos. Ready and Jos Thorndill. In the evening the Brady and Jos Thornhill. In the evening the candidates addressed a small audience of electors in the old Opera house. Mr. Kylie withdraw from the contest and Mr J H Lennon asked a day to consider his nomination. He has subsequently withdrawn also. Messers Touchburn and Crandell spoke, giving their reasons for election. The fight lies between these two and as both men have been in municipal polition for a long time electors should have little trouble in knowing the

The loss old structure with a modern roof. The loss in documents, public records, and plans it is impossible to estimate in money. Owing to the gross mismanagement on the part of the government, the hydrants at the parliament buildings were all frozen and unfit for use. Some time ago Mr. Tarte dismissed the man whose duty it was to look after these hydrants and put in his place an inexperienced party friend. Valuable time was lost in removing the hose to the city hydrants and these few throughout the city, her parents being minutes gave the firs a start, which caused the country millions of dollars. Otherwise had the hydrants been in working order the fire could have easily been quenched with but little damage. No doubt the fire will be the subject of a parliamentary enquiry.

THE VICTORS' RETURN, -This is Lindsay's year in surling, for not only did they win every thing at their own bonspeil but on Thursday last, after a series of victories, they defeated Sarnia in the finals for the Ontario tankard, and this secured the much prized trophy. Friday night the victorious "eight" returned home by the 8 o'clock train and the town turned out to do them honor. A long procession, including the two bands, the curlers, the L.C.I. athletic club, the hockey club, and the citizens generally, carrying brooms, torches and flags, met them at the station. The line of march proceeded down William st. to Russel, east on Russel to Lindsay st. and up to Kent. On Kent st. a York, supported by petitions from other counties, asking for amendments to the county councils act. These amendments will be introduced and will be supported by the patrons, conservatives and some of the liberals. The main objections are to the cumulative vote, to the fact that receves are works and an immenso crowd, the champions were escorted to the curling rink. At the rink speeches were delivered by each member of the "eight," by Rev. Mr. Hughson, Rev. Mr. Robinson, Bobcaygeon, Mr. John McSweyn and others. Telegrams of congratulations were read from the premier of the Dominion, Dr. McKay, Rev. Mr. Johnson, London, the Paterborough Oshawa, Bohoay. London, the Peterborough, Oshawa, Boboay-geon, and other clubs. Next week the two tankard rinks will play Sarnia for the

THE PRESIDENT'S DAILY ROUTINE . -General Harrison writes of "A day with the president at his deek." Ex-president Harrison has written of "a day with the president at his deek" for the March Ladies' Home Journal. The article is said to be singularly interesting in the detail with which it describes the wearisome routine of the president.

It is said that General Harrison, in this article, has delivered himself with great directness and vigor, relative to the annoy ances that are visited upon a chief executive by persistent office seekers, and he suggests a unique plan, by which the presidents burden in that direction could be greatly lightened, and he be enabled to devote more attention to more important matters. A feature of the article that will have a timely interest to article that will have a timely interest to those ambitious to serve the country under the incoming administration, describes very fully how the president makes appointments to office. "A day with the president at his deek" is unique in being the first time that the daily life of the president has been described by one who has filled the exalted office. Articles upon the social and domestic life of the president by General Harrison will follow in successive issues of this Journal.

The presbyterians held their annual social last Friday night. Tea was served from 5.30 till 8 o'clock. A very large number of the members and adherents of the church sat down to tea. Shortly after 8 o'clock the victorious surlers, returned from Toronto, by special request came over from the rink and had supper. After the social the assembly adjourned to the church where a very interesting programme was given.

The second carnival of the season held in the Victoria skating rink last Friday night, was a success. There was a good number of skaters in costume, one pleasing feature being that there was almost an entire absence of unecemly characters such as tramps, bega-bones, niggers, toughs and etc. In the races McLean of Orillis was an easy winner. Brady secured second and Robinson, a coming speeder, third. Miss Taylor won the lady's prize as Summer Girl, and Mr. J. Sheriden as Rob Roy secured the gentleman's.
