special to the Warder. HEAVY SNOW STORM .- For a few days last week it looked as though we were going to have spring weather. Robins and bluebirds were heard singing; every ditch and gutter was fall of water from the fast melting snow and things in general were taking on quite a spring lock. But on Wednesday and Thursday, 24th and 25th, there was quite a change and we experienced about the heaviest snow fall of the winter. Since then the sun has been considerably in evidence and a good deal of the snow has been to water.

Nearly all the Canadian sorts and several hundred new varieties imported by the experimental department from different parts of Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and the United States, have been included in these carefully conducted experiments. Some of the new varieties have done exceptionally well and have already been distributed over Ontario, through the medium of the experimental union, with very gratifying results. Coming Events

The Goderich Signal, one of the strongest liberal journals in the province, addresses the following appeal to the patron leader in the provincial legislature:

"Dear Mr. Haycock,—It is about time you introduced a brief bill to the legislature, in effect as follows: Resolved, that hereafter all vacancies to office in the gift of the local government be filled inside of 80 days; and that no man shall inside of 80 days; and that no man shall be appointed to office who is a member of the legislature when a vacancy occurs. Such a little bill will block a number of sitting members who are now squinting at offices in the event of this being the last session of the present legislature. New Easter Costumes

"The materials shown for the early Easter costumes range from the smouth cloths and mixed suitings down to the pretty light-weight silks, heavier striped moires, and miroir effects in wool, writes Isabel A. Mallon in the March Ladies' Home Journal. "The suitings in checks show the mixed effect caused by the skillful intermingling of many threads of different colors. They are also in the plain shades of mode, steel blue, silver gray, heliotrope, cadet, and the many other colors that are approved for spring wear. In the smooth cloths the rather bright green known as emerald, a some what deep but still a bright blue, reseda, and, of course, black, are noted. Silks in the plain colors are almost entirely used for skirts; another silk, figured or striped, but in harmony, forming the bodice or jacket basque. The bolere jacket will obtain for the spring costumes.

"Sleeves are fitted to the shape of the arm with great care. They are invariably trimmed-oftenest on the shoulders, but quite as often the trimming is placed about each wrist to harmonize with the shoulder trimming. Lace and chiffon may be said to lead in the spring decorations. The trimmed skirt is a certainity, but skirts are not as wide, fit smoothly about the hips, and have the necessary spring starting from just above the knees.

The Pork Question

To the Editor of The Warder. The above question has been considerably and well discussed by Mr. Matthews and Mr. Hawkins and no doubt your readers have been much benefited by it. Although it is not considered right for outsiders to interfere, we notice some

In Canada the farmers have a random method of marketing the live products of the farm, but however they usually receive a fair average price. They sell to the "drovers" who ship by the carload to the city markets, where the stuff is weighed. classified and sold to the packers, butchers or whoever likes to buy. At present the farmer do not receive the extra price which the British market is claimed to pay; who receives it we are not prepared to say. If it were paid to the farmers "Canada" would then respond and supply more than sufficient to meet the demand But no single individual can afford to embark in raising this particular class of hogs without he is paid sufficient re muneration to warrant his venture. A Hamilton lady undergoes an experience A Hamilton lady undergoes an experience and relates the history of a severe trial.

Mrs. James Graham. 280 James street north, Hamilton, wife of the well-known grocer at that address, relates the following circumstances. Mr. and Mrs. Graham have resided in Hamilton for the past 14 years, and are very well and favorably known.

Mrs. Graham says: "During the six months prior to taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I had a serious trouble arising from wrong action of the heart. One of the aymptons was that I could not lie on my left side, for if I did so my heart throbbed so violently as to give me great psin. The side, for if I did so my heart throbbed so violently as to give me great psin. The smallest noise or the slightest exertion would start my heart palpitating terribly. It was impossible for me to go up a short flight of stairs without stopping to rest and regain my breath. I was excessively nervous and my limbs would tremble as if with ague. My hands and feet were unnaturally cold, and I suffered from sharp pains in the back of my head The slamming of a door would nearly set me wild. Frequently I would nearly set me wild. Frequently I would wake up frightened, and then was unable to get to sleep again. I lost fiesh and became very despondent. I felt miserable in mind and body.

"For six months I have been constantly taking medicine, trusting that it would help me, and for a time was under the care of a physician, but all the efforts I made towards a cure were of no avail My physician finally told my husband, 'You know there is no cure for heart disease," which made me more despondent than ever. "Six weeks ago I was induced to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and from that time my restoration to health dates. I have taken four boxes, which I bought at John A Barr's drug store, corner James and Merrick streets. These pills are the only medicine that has done me any good. or given me any relief. I am happy to say that they proved that the doctor was mistaken in saying that heart disease could not be cured. Since commenced taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pilis I have been daily getting better.

I can now go apetairs without trouble and attend to my daily duties without the slightest distress. I have gained in flesh, in health and in strength, My blood circulates more freely. Lying on my left side causes me no inconvenience or pain, and I enjoy health and reatful sleep. My nerves are strong and vigorous, and there has been such a radical change for he better in my condition that I can say these wenderful pills have practically made a complete cure.

Marvelous Mechanism of the Human Body.

The human body is an epitome in nature of all mechanics, all hydraulics, all architecture, all machinery of every kind. There are more than three hund red and ten mechanical movements known to mechanics to-day, and all of these are but medificatiods of those found in the human body. Here are found all the bars, levers, joints, pulleys, pumps, pipes, wheels and axles, ball and socket movements, beams, girders, trusses, buffers, arches, columns, cables and supports known to science. At every point man's best mechanical work can be shown to be but adaptations of processes of the human body, a revelation of first principles used in nature. — William George Jordan in March Ladies' Home

Good Word for the Local Paper.

At a recent business convention exgovernor Francis of Missouri, who is in a position to know whereof he speaks, paid tribute to the local newspaper as follows: "Each year the local newspaper gives from $500 to $5,000 in free lines to the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor, in proportion to his means, does more for his town than any other ten men, and in all fairness with men he ought to be supported-not because you like him or his writing, but because the local paper is the best investment a man oan make. It may not be brilliantly edited or crowded with thought, but financially it is of more benefit to the community than the teacher or preacher. Understand me, I don't mean mentally or morally, but financially, and yet on the moral question you will find most of the local papers on the right side. To-day the editors of the home papers do the most for the least money of any people on the face of the earth.
