

FOR THE TABLE

Knives, Forks and Spoons are required for the dining table, and when buying it is well to look to the future. Economy in this does not consist in buying either the cheapest or the dearest in the market, but in finding a happy medium as to price, and due consideration of durability.

It is not necessary to enumerate the merits of solid silverware. Every woman would like to have her table provided with it.

We sell solid silver, good weight, large size Tea Spoons for $10.00 per dozen; and will sell one spoon at a time at the same rate if you wish.

Best quality plated Tea Spoons at $3.00 per doz.

Dessert and Table Spoons, Knives and Forks, cost proportionately.

Those who buy their table ware from us can be sure to get it afterward, and we make it easy for you to get a full outfit by degrees if you desire to do so.

Our plated ware is the best made. We recommend and guarantee it fully.

THE TRUE KING.

Mr. Whitney continues to meet with pronounced success in his western Ontario tour. His speeches are masterly, statesmanlike efforts, well worthy of Ontario's coming premier. Mr. Whitney stands on a pinnacle high above Mr. Hardy and his colleagues. The following are short extracts from his recent speeches.

We will endeavour to carry into operation the intentions of the great men who laid the foundation of Confederation.

We will address ourselves to the task of husbanding the resources of the province, and all possible directions—putting a stop to the multiplication of new offices and reducing the controllable expenditure in order that direct taxation may be avoided.

We will establish a system of audit which will be a protection to the treasury.

We will favour a broad and liberal mining law, in which the interests of the individual miner and settler will be considered before the interests of corporations and syndicates, and under which a repetition of the English syndicate scandal will be impossible.

We will obey the feeling of general and widespread dissatisfaction with the condition and methods of the Education Department; do away with autocratic rule, and give the public school teacher, the High school teacher, and the university staff each a voice in the administration of the department and in the management of the educational system of the province, having in view and looking forward to the possibility of affording to the pupils of the Public schools increased educational facilities, and desiring to maintain the High schools in their present high state of efficiency.

Agriculture being the foundation on which our prosperity rests, great care and watchfulness are necessary that the most be accomplished by the expenditure; we do not say that the Government have expended too much on agriculture, but we do say that they have not spent it to the best advantage.

We will assume the task of arranging the laws relating to the sale of intoxicating liquors in line with common sense and public opinion, and will not attempt to avoid any responsibility in connection therewith.

We will thoroughly investigate the extent and condition of the timber lands of the province with a view to their protection.

We will do all we can to add in building up this province as a part of the Dominion of Canada and part of the British Empire.

Our policy, in short, will be a policy of honesty.

One of the members of the Government said the people of Ontario will not change their masters, and I say they will not. They will cast off the men who call themselves their masters, and, having no more to do with them or any other masters, will place their interests in the hands of men who will try to do what is right, simply because it is right, and who will be the servants and trustees of the people whose confidence has been given to them.

THE QUEEN'S DIAMOND JUBILEE.

Tuesday will witness one of the greatest celebrations ever recorded, the celebration of Her Majesty, Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee. The affair stands unique in history, and will probably do so for many years to come. Never before, even in the palmiest days of Rome, was there such a wonderful and magnificent spectacle, as will be that of the 22nd of June. Six miles of London will be turned into an immense parade ground, on which will appear the flower of the British army brushing shoulder to shoulder, colonial forces from the four quarters of the globe. There will be dashing army contingents from continents the Romans never dreamt of. 47,000 soldiers—forming not the largest army of recent British years, but being perhaps the finest in its makeup that has ever been mobilized—will be in line. The immense city of London will present a fairy-land of gaiety and splendor, representing millions of dollars, spent by millions of people. Great Britain from John O'Grat's house to Land's End will be one huge playground on that memorable day. Not only on land but on sea will the demonstration take place. Around Britain's shores is now assembled the fleet of all history. Nearly every power is there represented by one or more of the very finest warships that their navies can turn out. The manoeuvres of this fleet will form in itself a sight that scarcely will be excelled, at least not in our time.

Not only in Great Britain but throughout the whole world will the Jubilee be celebrated, for Britain's dominions are all over the world, and the sun never sets on British soil. In the far north, the far south, the far east and the far west the diamond jubilee will be fittingly commemorated. Men in Europe, Asia, Africa, America and Australia, types of many races, of many colors and religions, will vie with each other in their loyalty.

On the 22nd the colonies will be ablaze with the show of loyalty and fidelity to the throne. Every city, town, village and hamlet will have its own celebration. And while there is much outward show, as in the old land, the true philanthropic nature of the jubilee will not be forgotten.

On Tuesday numerous parks, hospitals, houses of refuge and other equally praiseworthy institutions throughout the colonies will be dedicated and thrown open to the public. It is pleasing that thus everyone, rich and poor alike, will enjoy some of the benefits of this great festive season.

And it is well that this celebration should partake of the nature of a great federal rejoicing. Other celebrations have pertained perhaps more to dynasties, and have been a tribute to imperial forces rather than to the British people themselves. It is a splendid reminder of the true greatness of the great British Empire.

The Jubilee marks a wonderful progress in the past 60 years in political, industrial, social and intellectual development. Britains have much to be thankful for during the past 60 years. The growth during these three decades is a fact unapproachable and unprecedented. Taken in any phase the empire has made rapid progress. Volumes have been written on the subject, volumes more will be written and then there will still be more of the tale to tell. Taking the political, the industrial, the intellectual and the social sides of the question separately, the nation seems to have attained to greater things in each and all; but taken altogether it is apparent that the nation—while leading the world in manufacturing, in commercial enterprise, and in her political development—still takes the foremost rank in science, art and literature, comprising a combination of the most useful and the most beautiful attainments of human genius. The pessimistic view of life, at least in regard to the British Empire, is not applicable here.

It is fitting that the most glorious era of all time should be most fittingly observed. During this time, and naturally, uppermost in everyone's mind is the Queen. No one can estimate what the world owes to the influence of her example in every great movement, signified in her reign for the uplifting and improvement of her subjects. She has ever shown herself zealous for what is right and pure and conformable to God's law. As Queen, wife and mother, Victoria appeals to the reverence, the fidelity, the love of her millions of subjects, the best governed subjects in the world. The Queen's wish that this celebration should partake of the nature of a national philanthropic movement shows the spirit of the true, noble woman and Queen that she is. GOD SAVE THE QUEEN. The singers pass away, but the song and Queen remain. May we sing the same song for many years to come with deepening love.

THE HOSPITAL.

Of the many schemes brought before the people of Lindsay and the county of Victoria during the past ten years the erection of a hospital as proposed stands at the head of the list. That some may will object to the scheme may be expected, looking at the matter from the stand point of dollars and cents. The financial aspect of any undertaking is always a potent factor to be considered, yet the erection of a hospital for the care of the sick should to a great extent be considered apart from its financial bearings. Do good to your fellow man when ever the opportunity occurs, is a motto which if followed will never lead any one to regret anything they have done, and what could be more in accordance with this than to provide an institution where the sick can be carefully nursed and attended. The pessimist will say it will be a bill of expense; we venture to say that after the first year it would be nearly if not altogether self sustaining.

Let the county council at the adjourned meeting be held on 24th inst. grant the money asked from the county towards the building fund, and so mark their approval of the scheme, and we have no doubt but the energetic committee who have the matter in hand will carry everything through to a successful issue.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

At a recent meeting of the Oxford Teachers' Association, William Carlyle, Inspector of Public Schools for the County, declared that he did not "know a country that has such a pack of rubbish for text books as we have in our Public schools." It may be well to add that Mr. Carlyle is not a prejudiced Tory, but an enlightened Liberal.

That Mr. Whitney will win is now almost an assured fact. It is surprising how the feeling is growing amongst the electors in all quarters, without respect to party divisions, that the time for a change has come. The fact that a change was effected at Ottawa last year strengthens this feeling. It is taking irresistible force and it is noteworthy that it is shared by the old timer and the newly enfranchised alike.

Many are making the mistake of referring to Queen Victoria as the oldest reigning monarch. Her reign is the longest but in length of life she is second to the world's living rulers. The Queen has just entered upon her 79th year; but Christian IX of Denmark is a year older. The King of Sweden and Norway Oscar II is 68 years old, Emperor of Austria, Francis Joseph I, 67 Leopold II of Belgium 63, King of Saxony 70, King of Hungary 64, George I, King of the Hellenes 52, Abdul Hamid II of Turkey 55, Charles I, King of Roumania is 59. Among the younger sovereigns are the Emperor of Germany 38 years old, King of Portugal 34, Czar of Russia, 29, King of Servia 21, Queen of the Netherlands 18 and the King of Spain 11.

The Hamilton Herald an independent paper says:—"All recent conservative papers had a kind word to say of Mr. Laurier on the eve of his departure for the old country. Decent liberal papers will not grudge a kind word for the leader of the opposition now that the members of his party in the Dominion Parliament have shown their respect for and confidence in him by giving a banquet in his honor. Sir Charles Tupper, though a robust party man, is a statesman of whom Canadians of all parties have reason to be proud. The fact that this fine old native Canadian is capable, at the age of 76, of leading one of the great national parties and directing a vigorous opposition, betraying neither physical weakness nor mental weariness at the end of a trying session, should also commend him to the admiration of his countrymen. Sir Charles Tupper is still the biggest man in his party and its fittest leader."

LITTLE BRITAIN.

PRESENTATION.—Dr. Vrooman, who leaves this week to reside in Lindsay, was on Tuesday evening presented by the lodge of United Workmen, of which he is a charter member, and has been medical examiner for it since its formation in 1886, with an address and a gold headed cane suitably engraved. The address was read by Mr. Thomas Honey, master workman, the name being presented by Mr. William Cornish, both being in the name of and on behalf of the lodge. The officers and members of the Sabbath school, of which the doctor had been superintendent for nearly the past ten years, also presented him with an address, which was read by Mr. Thomas Westcomb, and a handsome marble clock was presented by two of the scholars, Gladie Smith and Odie Waldon, a beautiful bouquet of flowers being also presented to Mrs. Vrooman.

The doctor, in replying, thanked the donors for the kindly worded addresses and handsome presents, the former for the kind words they contained, the latter not alone for their intrinsic worth, which was not inconsiderable, but for showing the esteem in which he was held by the people of Little Britain, and he might say that he hoped to gain their good will, beyond simply doing his duty as a good and faithful citizen should do. The Methodist church, fully two hundred people being present. An interesting program of music and an recitation was suitably rendered. Short speeches were also given by Rev. Messrs. Stratton and Delve, Messrs. F. O. Shaver, John Dix, Dr. Hall and others, all bearing testimony to the esteem in which Dr. Vrooman was held by the entire community, and wishing him unbounded success in his new home.

DEATH OF REV. JAS. GREENER.—On Sunday morning the Rev. James Greener passed away at the ripe old age of 85 years at his residence on Colborne St. The Rev. James Greener, as long as the memory of most Lindsay citizens extends, has ever been a most prominent figure in the history of the Methodist church. He was the oldest superannuated minister in Ontario. He was known throughout Ontario as one of the most vigorous and ardent preachers in the church. Although superannuated some years ago he always took a great interest in church matters and was ever ready to bear his share of work. Even to within a few months of his last illness he frequently supplied the local pulpit in the absence of the pastor. Faithful in his duty to his God, kind and sympathetic and possessed of great earnestness Mr. Greener's life work was productive of the most excellent results. Burial took place Tuesday, the funeral proceeding from his late residence to the Cambridge St. church, where the Revs. S. J. Shorey, T. M. Campbell assisted by Revs. Totten and Marsh conducted the service. Below are the names of some of the circuits on which he labored during his active ministry: 1843-45, Buckingham; 1845-47, St. Charles; 1847, Clarence; 1848-49, L'Orignal; 1850-51, Alymer; 1852-54, Richmond; 1855-57, Kempsville; 1857-58, Lindsay; 1859, Concession; 1860, Ameliasburgh; 1861, Cooksville; 1865-67, Watford; 1867-69, Lindsay; 1870-71, Newburgh.

MARRIED AT ST. MARY'S.—A quiet but pleasant wedding took place at 1.30 on Saturday, May 28, 1897, at the residence of Dr. Spinks, Church street, when his daughter, Engeline, was united in marriage to Mr. McPherson, of the name of Delaware, Ont., in the presence of the intimate friends only of the family. The bride was a very popular young lady with her hair of Italy 64, George I, King of the Hellenes 52, Abdul Hamid II of Turkey 55, Charles I, King of Roumania is 59. Among the younger sovereigns are the Emperor of Germany 38 years old, King of Portugal 34, Czar of Russia, 29, King of Servia 21, Queen of the Netherlands 18 and the King of Spain 11.

THE ODDFELLOWS and Foresters of the village will attend St. Andrew's church next Sunday evening in a body and a suitable discourse will be delivered by the pastor Rev. M. McKinnon B.A.

ON SUNDAY last the new organ of St. James' church was played for the first time. It is a coincidence worthy of noting that this organ was inaugurated by Mr. V. Smith of Port Hope a musical graduate, who is at present visiting friends here, and that the old organ was inaugurated by the gentleman's father Mr. J. D. Smith of Port Hope a number of years ago. THE PULPIT of St. Andrew's church was ably filled last Sunday by Rev. Mr. Glover of Peterboro.—Messrs. E. Smith and E. Lytle of Cambridge spent Sunday at the Falls.—Miss Edwards of Cannington is the guest of her sister Mrs. M. McKinnon. Mr. J. Austin spent last week in Lindsay attending the county council.—Mr. J. E. We hear a great deal about purifying the blood. The way to purify it is to enrich it. Blood is not a simple fluid like water. It is made up of minute bodies and when these are deficient, the blood lacks the life-giving principle. Scott's Emulsion is not a mere blood purifier. It actually increases the number of the red corpuscles in the blood and changes unhealthy action into health.

If you want to learn more of it we have a book, which tells the story in simple words.
