BASE BALL TOURNAMENT, -In one the local papers last week appeared an item under Glenarm correspondence, giving a statement of the game, Woodville vs. Victoria Road, and the correspondent showed the score 16—17 in favor of Woodville. CHURCE PARADE. - On Sunday evening, July 11th, the Orangemen and True Blues of this place marched to the English church where a sermon was preached by the Rev. Bro. E. Soward.

THE GLORIOUS TWELFTH .- L.O.L. No. 1109 and Loyal True Blue lodge No. 6 spent the day in the village of Minden where a very pleasant time was passed. The True Blues turned out especially well, with a good fife and drum band of nine pieces and with their handsome regalia were the admiration of all. There were upwards of 12 lodges present, the usual speaking in Orange grove down the Gull river. There was a dance in Delamere's hall and the hotels did a rushing business. Your correspondent did not observe a single orangeman or true blue who was the worse for strong drink. A large number of young ladies have signified their intention of joining the the skin. The Temiscamingue.

An interesting letter, containing reliable information concerning the Temiscamingue district, has been received by a resident of this town from Mr. A. I. Ritchie, son of Mr. S. S. The statements made by the writer will doubtless be perused with interest by Warder readers, some of whom may be personally benefited by the knowledge imparted if they avail themselves of the

The Blanche, or White River, as it is always called here, enters the lake below our place. At the mouth it is over 200 yards wide and is a noble stream. It is navigable for 25 miles up to a rapid caused by a single rock. At high water the steamers can run up the south branch 15 miles, to where we have located at "Ritchie's Falls." There is no other land taken near there as yet, but we expact by next year some settlers will have got that far. The land around the falls is rich clay soil to a depth of 100 feet which is the height of the river banks at some points. There is no Lake Blanche, but there is a "Round Lake" on the north branch of the river. I have not been up this branch yet as the current is very triet before long. There is lots of land along the Blanche or White River, just as good as the Wabigoon or Rainy River lands and as good as is to be found in Mariposa or Ops, and enough to attract a farming population large enough to support a much larger town than Lindsay. If the coal and gold mines go ahead there is every prospect of a city not so far away from here. Yours truly,

Take a Holiday.

With the advent of the "heated term" somes to every busy man and woman a sharpened sense of the need of relief from the grinding cares of ffice and household, says an exchange. The man of affairs, for whom the last year has brought more than the average of worry and toil, finds himself at the threshold of summer a little more weary, a little more dispirited and more keenly alive to the need of rest than ever before. His faculties are not as responsible to his will as they used to be; small cares seem larger than they once did; work for its own sake is less attractive than it was in other days, and new enterprises do not appeal to him as thep did in the past. He is tired-that safe recourse. He must make an investment in relaxation. It will pay surer and larger dividends than any of his other enterprises. Mind and body are both in need of repair. He needs contact with the earth and air and sunshine of the great world out of doors, where health. comfort and the gentle chemistry of nature await to drive his ills away. With him recuperation is an economy, and rest a wise purchase. The doctrine of relaxation, as taught by Herbert Spencer, is based upon a solid groundwork of sense and natural law. The month that is spent in rational recreation is the most profitable of the whole year. For this valuable principle of orderly and definite recuperation as applied to the life of the individual we are indebted to the English, with whom it is as regular a part of the yearly routine as the payment of taxes, and whose whole philosophy was concisely summed up in the remark of the London merchant;-"I can do a good year's work in eleven, but not in twelve."-
