

A Novel Company for Klondike

Here is a Klondike scheme which has originated in Ottawa and is given to the public by the Citizen:—“A company, with a rather interesting object, has been organized in Hull. Those going into it will leave early next spring for Klondike gold fields. The principals in the organization so far are a doctor and a surveyor. One of the parties, who knows something about the matter, stated yesterday that the idea was to form a company composed of a doctor, a lawyer, a surveyor, an explorer, and to proceed to the gold fields together. Each going out will contribute $600 toward the expenses of the party, and will be entitled to his share of two-thirds of the proceeds, if any. Other parties wishing to invest will be given one-third. On arriving there the party will work in a communistic way. The doctor will practice at his profession, as well as the lawyer, etc., while the explorer and miner will be kept busy hunting for gold. Whatever is made by the professional men and others will go towards the general fund, and at the end of a specified time the total proceeds will be divided.”

SICK HEADACHE

Positively cured by these Little Pills. They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Heartly Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Congested Condition of the Bowels. Purely Vegetable. Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price. Substitution the fraud of the day. See you get Carter's, Ask for Carter's, Insist and demand Carter's Little Liver Pills.

The Great Bernhardt

Stands at the Head of Her Profession. She Speaks About Paine's Celery Compound. The immortal "Sarah" provokes enthusiasm, admiration and curiosity wherever she appears before the public, and has never had an equal in the history of the stage. Sarah Bernhardt fully appreciates the immense advantages of health and strength for one in her profession, and no one knows better than she how essential to artistic success is a vigorous nervous system.

W. C. T. U. For God and Home and Native Land.

The American Whiskey War

The American Whiskey War was Really a Whiskey War. General Daniel E. Sickles does not belong to the Artesian Ward patriots who would sacrifice their wives' relations to put down the war; but he was himself and continues to bear in his body the marks of his valiant service in the cause of freedom and the union. He is not to be put down as a traitor because he now has the courage to turn back the page of history and read aloud the writing. He says: "The war of the rebellion was really a whiskey war. Yes, whiskey caused the rebellion! I was in congress preceding the war. It was whiskey in the morning—the morning cocktail—congress of whiskey drinkers. Then whiskey all day, whiskey and gambling all day. Drinks before congress opened its morning session, drinks before it adjourned. Scarcely a committee-room without its demijohn of whiskey, and the clink of the glasses could be heard in the capital corridors. The fights, the angry speeches, were whiskey. The atmosphere was eloquent with whiskey—enthusiasm seeking relief in whiskey, and whiskey adding to the nervous excitement. If the French assemble to drink some morning one-half the whiskey consumed in any one day by that congress, France would declare war against Germany in twenty minutes."

Teaching His Boy to Drink. In the early hours of a spring morning, says John R. Clementis, while journeying on a railway train to an appointed service for the Master, I found, as fellow travellers in the two seats in front of the one I occupied, an elderly woman, presumably the grandmother of a little fellow of not more than two summers, who sat with her, while behind them were the parents of the boy. We were nearing the end of the journey as the man took a flask from his pocket, drank from it, and passed it to the old woman who drank, too. Then the father taking the flask again, offered it to the little lad who was urged to "have a nip" with the rest, which he did. I quailed at the sight, and then my blood grew warm with indignation as I thought of what the father had deliberately done—pressed the "cup of death" to the lips of his first-born, and he so young. How my inmost being cried out for some restraining hand to make forever impossible the repetition of an offense like this, and I thought of Lincoln's resolve when he first saw the slave trade in all its iniquity: "If ever I get a chance to hit that thing, I'll hit it, and hit it hard."

The Meeting of the Scientists

The present month will see an extraordinary hobnobbing of American, British and Canadian scientists. The forty-sixth meeting of the American association for the advancement of science begins at Detroit on August 31st, and lasts a week. The sixty-seventh annual meeting of the British association begins at Toronto on August 18, and lasts until August 25. It is the second time the British association has held its annual meeting away from home. Thirteen years ago it met at Montreal. The times and places of the meetings of the two associations this year have been so arranged as to make it easy for members of either association to be present at both meetings. To the same end is an arrangement by which the meeting of the British association, to which usually only its own members are admitted, is to be open to members of the American association on payment of certain fees. About a dozen British scientists are expected to attend the meeting in Toronto.—Harper's Weekly.

Prospectors' Map

The prospector's map of the northern portion of East Kootenay, as compiled by F. O. Lyng, has now been published. This is the best map that has yet been issued relating to the mining resources and locations of this province. The prospector can tell at a glance the different areas where the different classes of minerals are found. This is got at by a system of coloring, while on the margin there is a complete list of locations in the district up to the time of the compilation of the map, colored strokes opposite each indicating the class or ores found there. Another particularly good thing about the map is the fact that the mining divisions are clearly shown, so that the prospector can tell at a glance where the boundaries lie, and in which division to make his location. The actual size of each claim is given in the marginal reference, also its title—who he claims, or merely a location. The trails, roads, creeks, and rivers in the district are clearly and accurately shown, also the railway stations and the distance from those and from the principal points in the district. The map reflects great credit on the skill, care and trouble displayed by Mr. Lyng in its compilation, and one result of his work may be to facilitate the exploration of this part of the country, and to draw the attention of prospectors to the large area every morning is to be explored, with every promise of rich reward to the prospector, as well as to the capitalist and the mining investor who follows him in the work of developing the resources and making the natural wealth of the country available for production and use. The price of the map is a dollar, and every prospector—as well as every one who is interested in mining in the district—should secure a copy.—Globe, B.C. Era, Friday, July 23, 1897.

Taking No Chances

"TAKING NO CHANCES.—Mr. Curtis—'Yes, I must positively go back to-morrow morning.' Miss Emilio—'Oh, I'm so sorry for that. I wish you could stay over for another day at least. You know we are to give our performance of 'Camille' to-morrow night, with me in the title role.' Mr. Curtis (shamefully)—'That's the reason I've got to go.'—Boston Transcript.

Undoubtedly the Best.

GENTLEMEN.—I wish to say that Dr. Fowler's Elixir of Wild Strawberry has proved a wonderful remedy in my family. I would not be without it for twice its price. I say it is the best medicine ever brought before the public for summer complaint or diarrhoea, either in children or adults. JOHN UNDERHILL, License Commissioner, Strathclair, Man.—Globe.

A Happy Girl

Miss Anna Kelly Tells of Her Illness and Subsequent Cure—A Statement That Should be Read by Every Girl in Canada.

Miss Anna Kelly, a well known and much esteemed young lady living at Maplewood, N.B., writes:—'I consider it my duty to let you know what your wonderful medicine has done for me. In April 1896 I began to lose flesh and color; my appetite failed and I was unable to eat. I would be so tired I would have to rest. I continued in this condition for three months until I was taken suddenly ill, and not able to go about. My family doctor was called in and he pronounced my illness chlorosis (poverty of the blood). At first his treatment appeared to do me good, but only for a time, and I then began to grow worse. I continued taking his medicine for three months, when I decided to obtain the best of health that I could. I decided taking it any other way. I tried a liquid medicine advertised to cure chlorosis, but it did me no good. I had become terribly exhausted and weak. There was a constant terrible roaring noise in my head; my feet and ankles were swollen and I was as pale as a corpse. One day while in this condition my father brought home a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and asked me to try them. In less than a week I could sit up, and in a couple of weeks I could walk quite a distance without being tired. My appetite returned, the roaring in my head ceased, I began to gain flesh and color, and before I had used a half dozen boxes I was as healthy as I had ever been in my life. My friends did not expect me to recover and are now rejoicing at this wonderful change. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have wrought in me. If my statement will be the means of helping some other discouraged sufferer you are at perfect liberty to publish it.'

The New Disease

The New Disease—"Kiondolitia" is what the local physician calls it.—Ottawa Citizen. HYSTERICAL TORONTO.—If one small box causes the Toronto newspapers to stop over to the extent of seven or eight columns each what would happen if a real epidemic visited the city?—Hamilton Herald.

Abolishing Time

ABOLISHING TIME.—London is not so very far away after all. Papers from the heart of the empire dated July 15, reached us yesterday, only twelve and a half days after issue. Some people have been so much annoyed when they see the date of the British Columbia from London—Vancouver World. 'INQUIRY.—"Tommy asked me what a festival is." "What did you tell him?" "I told him it was an occasion when church people are called together to pay fifty cents for a dish containing seven strawberries and a dab of ice cream."—Detroit Free Press.

Not in It Now

NOT IN IT NOW.—Jack—"She used to be an old flame of yours, did she not?" "Yes, she was; but that was when I had money to burn."—Puck. THEN HE TREATED HER.—He (as she paced it)—This is an enormous extensive department store, isn't it? She—So every body says. I have never been beyond the ice-cream soda department.—Chicago Tribune. SHE WAS VISIBLE.—Fat Old Lady—"Can you see me across the road?" Officer—"See yer across the road? Why, I could see yer for a mile off."—Judy. HEADED HER OFF.—She—"I see that a young lady down the street was once wedded to you, but she got tired of you." He (with great presence of mind)—"Yes, but you know the old saying: 'What is one man's cure may be another man's poison.'"—Cleveland Leader.

A new and important work which had never been undertaken in Canada before was being carried out by the minister of militia at Ottawa. This is a military map of Canada, which in the event of war, with our territory as the basis of operations, would be indispensable to our troops. It will show minutely the character of the country, the fordable streams, the bridges, the roads and lanes, the blacksmith shops, where grain is stored, and all the character of information which a commander in taking troops across the country would desire to know. This work is being carried on by the undergraduates of the royal military college under the superintendence of competent experts.

To remove worms of all kinds from children or adults Dr. Lewis' Worm Syrup is a safe and sure remedy.—74.

ALBERT JEWETT'S ACCOMMODATION BARR—Shed and yard room for sixty horses, independent of my living barn. You can rent my place at any order or order. A commodious is very nice. Sticking room for ladies and gentlemen while waiting for their horses. You can leave your rig, get your check; do your shopping; parcel by comes with your parcel numbered and sent to you; corresponding with your check; the man on deck puts them in your rig, so were trouble. We charge for every horse in. You can bring your own feed if you choose. Our charges are very moderate, and the accommodation is every thing that the best you ever met with in this part of the county. ALBERT JEWETT, proprietor, York street, in rear of Simpson house.—Oct. 21, 1896.—66-13.

It reports from Ottawa are true very few girls are idle these days. Most of them seem to be working hard to secure government jobs.

The best result of advertising are not always direct ones; frequently they consist in the impression on the public mind of the stability and worth of the article advertised.

The best cough cure is Hayward's Pectoral Balsam. It heals the lungs and cures Coughs and Colds.—74.

Speaks from Experience. Mr. J. W. Tomlinson, Amherstburg, Ont., speaks from experience when he says:—'I am well satisfied with Doan's Kidney Pills. They are undoubtedly the best medicine on the market for any one afflicted with urinary or kidney troubles, such as pain in the back, tired feeling, nervousness, etc. They cure me and remove all my pains and aches.'—65.

THE VICTORIA WARDER, LINDSAY, ONTARIO.

A Weekly Journal published every Friday morning by Sam. Hughes, Office, Warder Printing House, Cambridge Street, south of the market. Book and Job Printing done in modern style at moderate prices.

RATES OF ADVERTISING. Table with columns for Full column, Half column, and Quarter column, listing rates for different durations and types of advertising.

COMMERCIAL AND LEGAL NOTICES

PROFESSIONAL CARDS. Six lines and under, first insertion, 50¢. Each subsequent insertion, 40¢. From six to ten lines, first insertion, 75¢. Each subsequent insertion, 60¢.

LOCAL AND SPECIAL NOTICES

FOR RENT. A few nice houses for rent in the city. Apply to J. H. Jones, 123 Main Street.

Register of Societies.

- List of various societies and their meeting times, including the Chapter of S.A.M., the Chapter of U.O.M., and various fraternal orders.

Advertisement for J.B. featuring a portrait and text describing a head master's services.

Advertisement for Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy, highlighting its effectiveness for urinary and kidney issues.

Advertisement for Pianos and Organs, manufactured by the Dominion Organ and Piano Company, Bowmanville. Includes contact information for W.W. Logan, General Agent in Lindsay.

Advertisement for Binder Twines, featuring the text 'FARMERS CAN DEPEND ON GETTING BINDER TWINES HERE, ALL SEASON, AT LOWEST PRICES.'

Advertisement for Just Received goods, including Redpath's Sugars, Glass and Stone Fruit Jars, and Harvest Tools and Machine Oils.

Advertisement for Special Value in Grey Cotton, Fancy Prints, and Ladies' Waists.

Advertisement for Hogg Bros, Oakwood, featuring their furnace work and industrial products.

Large advertisement for W.G. Woods, showcasing their extensive inventory of hardware, tools, and supplies, with a list of various items and prices.

Advertisement for The Warder newspaper, highlighting its wide circulation and commitment to providing news and information.

Advertisement for The Warder newspaper, emphasizing its status as the largest circulation of any paper in the Midland District.