Never Call it Loving.

Unless you can think when the sory is done, No other is sweet in the thrthm; ('njess you can feel, when left by one,

If along you can know, when unpraised by his breath. That your beauty itself wants proving:

l'aless you can muse in a crowd all day, On the absent face that fixed you; Unless you can love as the angels may,
With the breadth of heaven betweet you

Unless you can dream that his faith is fast, Through behooving and unbehooving: Unless you can die when the dream is past, Oh, never call it loving!
