Coming satisfacts for Iron.

Reportments at Newport, Ry., have respected in an extraordinary discovery, if the distances made by those interested are correct. The discovery is that aluminum, which now costs $20,000 a ton, and is produced only in France, can be obtained anywhere by a most simple process, and at less than one inadreth part of the present expense.

The importance of this discovery can be judged when it is recollected that aluminum is the most generally diffused metal on earth, and has all the beauty of silver, besides being non-termishing, non-corrosive, more lasting than silver, with only one-fourth its weight, in addition, aluminum alloyed one-tents of per cent, with iron or steel increases the metal nearly half, while for electro-plating purposes aluminum is superior to either gold

The experiments began in an attempt to extract aluminum chemically from common clay and cryclite. This was accomplished in a nevel manner, and the operators obtained thereby metallic aluminum, chamically pure. Their method was based upon the theory of substitution and anothing the ore in a water jacketed steel furnace, a cruelhis being united to resist the strong fluoride flexes. When the mass was quite liquid it was convered into a converter or covered necessity of the usual costly intermediary plements, and made the aluminum about as

> The Framing of Pictures. The proper framing of pictures is an art in itself, and one that is seldem carried out harmoniously. Fortunately the days of gi-gantic gilt inclosures of the most florid de scription have passed; but there are still picture owners who make as near an approach as they can to hanging a frame and intting in a picture by way of finish. A frame should be, like a carpet or wall paper, merely a background; and the pretty fashion of inserting pictures in the walls in panel fushion, with a narrow molding by way of frame, is one that gains ground with all true lovers of art,—tilla Rodman Church in

" DOMINION."

The following letter from Lord Frederic Hamilton, brother of the Marchioness of Lansdowne, has just been received, and only goes to corroborate statements made from time to time, viz., that the instruments made by the

are not only first-class in every particular, but are unexcelled for durability, tone and finish.

GENTLEMEN, -The organ I purchased of you has arrived in fairly good order, and the SENTLEMEN,—The organ I purchased of you has arrived in fairly good order, and the slight damage it sustained on the voyage having been repaired, I am happy to tell you that every one who has heard it (including competent musicians) are amazed at the purity of tone and astonishing power of (comparatively) so small an instrument. The universal vertilet of those who have tried it is that no reed organ has ever been placed before the British public which approaches the full pipe-like tone of these "Dominion Organs." I am convinced they only need to be known to be appreciated at their proper value. I remain, gentleman, Yours faithfully.
