M. McLEAN AND CO.

THE NOTED MILLINERY & DRESS GOODS HOUSE

Are never behind in securing for their customers the very best bargains that are going. Remember our stock is not an old worn out one, everything is new and fresh.

THE MILLINERY BRANCH of our business is getting larger every season, and the only reason we can give for its rapid growth is the particular pains Miss Glass takes in selling her customers what is becoming to them.

We have a line of Ladies' Black Hosiery at 25c. per pair. The goods are very cheap and extra good value.

For this summer we bought twenty-five dozen Corsets which we will sell for 50c. per pair. Give us a call and you will get good values for your money and we will treat you well so that you will come back again.

THE PARISHIONERS and members of Westminster Lodge of the Sons of England, extend a cordial invitation to all Englishmen to accompany them to St. Paul's church on Sunday May 26th, being the annual church parade on the Sunday nearest the birthday of Her Majesty Queen Victoria. Visitors and members are requested to be at the lodge room, over Blackwell & Co's. store, at 10 a.m. sharp. J. L. DUNSTON, Secretary.

ORRAN BREWERY. "No, Mr. Jackson, I cannot be your wife, as my heart is already in the keeping of another, but I can be a sister to you." Oh, 'tis hard to thus be obliged to give you up, Maud, and still your very generous offer to be as a sister to me cannot go unaccepted. Will you be as near a real sister to me as possible? "Yes, George, I shall endeavor to." "There, Jack P., is sister, for instance. Will you be so loving and attentive to me as she is to him?" "With all my heart, George." "Very well then, sister mine, I shall try to be worthy—ah, really, must be going through—good night, sister." "The next day Miss Maud received a package, and upon opening it, discovered that it contained—horror!—two pairs of pants, a pair of socks and a shirt. A note slipped out, and upon reading it this is what she saw: Dear Sister Maud,—I ascertained from Jack P. that his sister was in the habit of doing all his mending. Thinking of my agreement, I thought of these few articles of wearing apparel, which are sadly in need of buttons and mending. I have long needed a sister that would look after my clothes, and since you have so kindly consented to act in that capacity you may commence your duties at once. Your loving brother, George.

GRANDSON MATHER; or an account of the fortunes of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mather, by Sidney Lewis, author of "The Quarter-Century." The above is the title of an interesting novel placed on our desk by the enterprising publisher, Mr. William, Ryce, Toronto. Ask your bookseller for it. Price 25c.

DEATH OF MAJOR CUNNINGHAM.—Though not so widely known as the gallant Major Short of "B" battery, yet the late Major Cunningham of Prince Edward county, was universally beloved wherever known.

GRAND LODGE OF TRUE BLUE.—At the recent meeting of the Grand Lodge of True Blue in Toronto, we have great pleasure in noting that Hockett lodge No. 38, Lindsay, was highly honored, five of its members being appointed to grand offices.

OBITUARY.—One of our worthy citizens last week in the person of James S. Milligan, a respected farmer residing a few miles from town.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION NOTES.—We give below an extract from the general secretary's report for April, submitted at the last regular business meeting.

DEATH OF THE GALLANT MAJOR SHORT.—Last Thursday morning a fine horse died in St. Lawrence, a result of a bullet wound of Quebec.
