It will be remembered that last winter two rinks from Lindsay, i.e., J. Ar. Hucknetl, W. S. Milner, J. McMillan, J. and W. McLennan, skip; and Phil. Morgan, Fred Knowlson, Alex. Macdonnell, and Sam Hughes, skip, went to Ottawa and there on the Governor General's private rink played two picked rinks from Peterhoro, they being the next to Lindsay. Lindsay boys won, and received a medal and the beautiful tankard.

The Later of firster, sounty of Victoria, bordering on Balsam lake, the Laird of Bexley has his seat. Rich in land, possessed of many horned cattle, respected by his neighbore, visited occasionally by his old cronice, George Latellaw is passing the remainder of his days in patriarchal and pastoral simplicity. The World made a pilgrimage to "The Fort" the other day and found the one-time Prince of Honne-hunters in good health and wrapt up in his land, his cattle, and his toga. The pilgram saw four hundred prime bullocks lateling on the grassy helds and woodlands that make up the 5000 acres of the Latellaw domain. "You are a veritable lated," said the visitor. "No, I am only a graning farmer like my fathers were in Scotland, only I hold the fee while they rented their pastures," As overseers of this big estate Mr. Latellaw has three sons, all enthusiasts in their occupations, while two daughters preside over the home and hearth with grace and hospitality. That "the laird" may prosper, that he may attain to the height of patriarchal and pastoral bliss, that his bullocks may each add $25 to his weight through consumption of the juley grasses, and that the farmers of Outario may be induced to follow his specessful venture, was the parting wish of The World as the laird's team of mules started off with the visitors on a seventeen-mile drive through the Consty of Victorie, last becoming one of the best farming districts in Outario,—Toronto World.

Salam, Mariposa Annivansany was held last Sunday and Monday. Sunday services were advesses, music, tas and base ball. The speakers were Nev. Measure, Lloyd of Mentile, Martin of Woodville, Smith of Sonys, and Dr. Williams of Lindsay. The tes was served in the style peculiar to Salem ladies, her the very best. Rev. Dr. Williams arrived late, but held the large andience deeply interested on his lecture "Esbow Room." The base ball was surprise. Salem boys had not had a practice game this year, only a few meeting the Saturday evening before. The Port Perry team strong in appearance and assurance went to the bar, but the modest country boys were not bluffed worth a cent. Lenings after innings showed that the town fellows were no match for Salem, until the game ended 11 Port Perry, 27 Salem with one innings to spare. The umpire acted very fairly there being only one dispute, and it is probable he did not see the foul, the Port Perry capture having kicked the ball. The nimost good feeling prevailed. Salem team is Thos. Rensin, a chain lightning player, cood anywhere; Albert Ashton, a grand fielder; Hes. Woodward, a lively sure player; and George Remaey. Levt Sparks proved a grand catcher; Albert Ashton was good: Thos, Ressin and F. Sinolair pitched well. Our own opinion is, as batters and fielders the Salem team is second to lew more pretentione clubs. When they have their regular oatcher, bet S
