George, Gandy and Foster, contractors, will have the Baltic river bridge completed this week, or that the travelling public can pass over.

The Government is putting in a fish slide here so that the anchors can get up to Carden. But oh! terror, they are not taking the dam by putting it a little at a time which will break up the water more than ever.

Our friends here except Mr. Hodson for writing us, to touch in our school, as Mr. McNaughton has made up his mind to retire from the professor.

One enterprising merchant, Mr. N. P. Fletcher, has been out to Rondeau for the good of his health, and we think it has done him good.

LIBERATED.

To the Editor of The Warder.
DEAR SIR.—In regard to what has appeared in the last few issues to your article on the subject in this postmastership, I desire to inform you that the Post's statement that I have been assistant postmaster at Kirkfield for five years is entirely correct. The article in The Warter certainly contained some very incisive justifications, and more than the usual number of misstatements, which I and my friends place to the discredit of the proper party. Hoping that you will insert the above in the next issue of your paper, I am,

Yours respectfully,

W. A. McNAUL.

In reference to the above it may be stated:

We thought it most Mr. McNaull had been a few years assistant postmaster of Kirkfield to belong to the Post; but now Mr. McNaull himself tells us. We tell Mr. McNaull he left the Post, he has not been assistant postmaster at Kirkfield for five years, nor half of five years, and in stating to the contrary Mr. McNaull deliberately lies. Regarding the misstatements made in The Warter, will Mr. McNaull kindly point out one, even a small one, in his article? I don't want to say more, but that Mr. McNaull now left to take a conservator, &c., &c., Mr. McNaull will soon we keep a few shots in the locker in case of need. He will also learn that he cannot transact with the conservatives of Victoria with his paper voice. And "his friends" may go to another climate for as far as boycotting are threatened. "The proper party" is a gentleman and fit to look after himself.—SAM. HUGHES, editor WARER.

Circumstances, their church service took place at Sabbath, Oct. 20th, 1869. The weather proving favorable, and the speedy completion of the church together with good address and music, appeared to please the large and intelligent audience assembled at each and every service to listen to the excellent and practical discourses on Sabbath, by the Rev. Dr. McNaughton, Toronto, and Rev. Robert Achurch, Peterborough. As a result, two better services could not have been made for this important occasion. The collections on Sabbath amounted to about $22. The ice meeting on Monday was largely attended, many being absent from Lindsay, including the Ed. of THE WARDER, Mr. and Mrs. McNaughton, and the members of St. Andrew's church choir, and others. Owing to the crowd it was regretted that visitors had not better attention. The organist, Rev. A. Hall, played well, and the local choir, the latter being short, but precise and thoughtful address. He fell short about one hour long on the "Great question," holding the large audience spellbound, receiving热烈 applause at times. Rev. Mr. Rating left the choir in great style. Proceeds of less than $12, leaving $1000 debt on the church to establish the furnishings in its accordance with the strictest judgment. The lighting was furnished by T. Ivory & Sons, and cost £10. Alex. McNaughton, and is excellent.

The Stephenon Roller Mill has been set in operation, proving itself fully up to the most sanguine expectations, and is managed by Mr. King, lately of Peterboro.

Mr. Lamb, Esq., has been making extensive additions to his tannery, and has erected a "smoke stack" that you should be able to see from the Victoria door, Lindsay.

An annual Mr. Mason took place on Friday, being largely attended by friends and relatives from distance.

One was proving itself one of the favorite drives for (Lindsey) driving parties. Judging from the expressions of a few on Monday eve and last, such as these. We always get a good substantial grub here, and hear delight full music.

Special to The Warder.
On the evening of October 18th, last, the author of L.O.L. No. 90, Dunsford, gathered the residence of Mr. Wm. Graham, W. and J. G. Edwards, for the purpose of presenting his wife with the following address, being read by Mr. Edwards.

Mr. Wm. Graham, W. & L.O. No. 90, DUNSFORD, Esq., the author of your name, and our worthy master, a man in which you have no equal. Ruled by the credit of yourself and brethren for a number of years, and happy in the society of your wife and family, we are glad to let you know that we hope it is our lot to meet in death, that we may in that world parting is no more. Signed on behalf of the lodges.

John A. Bell, R. Secretary.

Owing to Mr. Graham being absent, the Rev. Mr. Thomas, at the request of Mrs. Graham, very ably replied.

A large concourse of friends assembled at the residence of Mr. William Graham for the purpose of giving a presentation to Mr. Graham and his family, prior to taking their departure to the Laurentian forest. When the host had agreed for making the presentation, the recipient was led into the room, and seated by the Rev. Mr. Thomas, over whom the presents were brought into view, as our teacher, Mr. Rice. The following address was then read by Mr. F. Pepper, assisted by Mrs. F. Bell, who made the presentation.

Mr. Wm. Graham and daughters—Dear Friends—We a small representation of our many friends and relatives in the village and vicinity have gathered together this evening, to give some tangible expression of our respect for you, previous to your departure for your new home. We therefore, present to you, Mrs. Graham, this manuscript, or Miss Graham this album, to Miss Annie Graham this Bible, hoping that they will be faithful remembrances of those who have presented them. We regret that you have to leave us, yet sincerely hope and earnestly trust that you will return to us again, to the Laurentian forests, that you and your husband, and your family are. We are many friends, and that you will ever make as many friends of good and true as those whom you have behind. Your many acts of kindness we shall not forget, and cause you that we shall accompany you on your journey with our sympathy and prayers. Signed on behalf of your friends.

Mr. H. Green, teacher.

Mr. G. WATKINS, Lawyer
On account of the absence of Mr. Graham, being so much occupied, he requested Mr. Thomas to reply which he did in a very able and feeling manner; afterwards Mr. Thomas made a few remarks speaking in high terms of Mr. Graham and family. The company then repaired to Mr. Jas. Bell's who kindly opened his house, and provided a sumptuous repast.

Mr. Simon Dumont of Woodville has done some of the best threshing this fall that has ever been done here. Among others we might mention Mr. McKee, and Hugh McDonald, he threshed all three men had in three acres and a half they having four hundred acres of land. The crop was very heavy. Mr. Dumont's wife Awake does her class work, the grain is nearly ready for the market, this is the kind of work that suits the time.
