HADDOW.

Special to The Warder.

I am going to say a word,
Of some shooting that occurred,
Upon the shores of Goose Lake
Which our citizens all have heard.

It's amusing to tell,
Of the fate that befell,
Those unlucky sportsmen,
And Wilson's hat as well.

For our sports, with right good glee,
Who accompanied Charlie Lee,
Wents hunting with their double barrels
To shoot what they could see.

While two was in the boat you see,
Five more upon the shore would be,
And now my boys, quoth Captain Lee
Fire shooting when the ducks you see.

No sooner had these words been said,
When a flock of ducks came overhead,
And now said Jimmie to the rest,
We'll see at shooting who's the best.

The guns were raised, and fired too,
And then away the ducks all flew;
But still our sports would not be foiled,
So round the lake all day they toiled.

But when the sun was growing low,
They shouldered guns and home did go,
The ducks of course were left behind,
For in the weeds, their hard to find.

So now our sports are home once more,
As happy as they were before;
When ducks again they go to shoot,
I'll be with them, you bet your boot.

OBITUARY.—Word has just reached here of the death of Mr. Peter McNevin of Fenelon, an old and valued friend of your correspondent. Mr. McNevin came to this country when but a child some sixty or more years ago. His father died almost immediately after landing, leaving the mother a widow with a family of young children in a strange land. The family settled in Otonabee, where by unremitting toil and indomitable energy they hewed for themselves a home in the forest. After the were grown up they began to look about for homes for themselves, and three of them settled in Fenelon, Robert, Abraham and Peter, also their sister Mrs. J. G. Haynes, and the writer knows whereof he speaks, when he says no truer friend or better neighbor ever lived than the late Mr. McNevin. He served some years in the municipal council, but having no inclination for public life he retired from that position. To know him was to love and respect him, and his death has cast a gloom over the entire neighborhood. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

ACCIDENT.—Mr. George Slecher in attempting to steer a wagon loaded with lumber down a steep hill fell and the wagon run over him, the wheel passing over his breast. He was badly hurt, but is recovering.

CONCERT.—The orangemen here intend having a concert shortly; date not fixed yet.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES.—Nights are cold, wild geese are going south, these are signs that winter is appearing.....Reports are being circulated that the Provincial Government intend spending large sums of money in improving the roads and waterways in the back country. These are signs that an election is approaching.

KIRKFIELD.

Special to The Warder.

The people of this locality and surrounding country, will be rejoiced to hear that Mr. John McKay, who is an industrious and persevering young man, has made a satisfactory settlement with his creditors, and has again commenced operations and has his woollen factory and carding mill running on full time. Mr. McKay deserves great credit for compromising so promptly and satisfactorily with his creditors, particularly, as he incurred his liabilities by indorsing notes for the purpose of accommodating others. The public will find him, as heretofore, straightforward and obliging in all his business transactions.

BOOMING.—Our enterprising village is the scene of active building operations. Mr. Ousty has a large force of men engaged in pushing on to completion his fine brick hotel, which when finished, will compare very favorably with any in the Midland district.....Mr. Alex. McKenzie has commenced operations on a fine brick block on the corner, which, when completed will be occupied by his sons, who will run a general store in one department.

DRUG STORE.—A long felt want has been supplied by the opening of a drug store in this village by Dr. Wood, who will keep on hand a large assortment of drugs and stationery.

IMPROVEMENTS.—Mr. Campbell, stimulated by the active operation of his rival hotel keeper, and desiring to keep abreast of the times, has been giving his already fine hotel a thorough renovation. One of the latest improved furnaces will be introduced at once.....Mrs. McArthur has also been giving her residence an overhauling and making it very comfortable for the cold chilly blasts of winter.

BUTCHERING.—Our enterprising butcher Mr John M ogher, is doing a rushing business. A large assortment of the various kinds of meats is kept constantly on hand.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—On Oct. 18th, in the township of Longford, occurred a very serious accident, which resulted in the death of one of the young men of this place. The unfortunate young man was Jesse Perrin, son of Joseph Perrin, of Fenelon, who some weeks prior to his death had gone to Longford and engaged with a lumber company. He had been there some few weeks, when on the above date, he with some others of the company went out to shoot a squirrel which had taken refuge in a hollow log. One of the companions put the butt end of his gun into the log to drive the creature from it, and was in the act of drawing it out again, when and to relate the load was discharged, the bullet passing two of the others, but striking Jesse in the thigh. It was soon seen that it had taken serious effect, and immediately a doctor was sent for, but as the nearest physician was about 40 miles distant, he had expired before medical aid could be procured. It was said he was conscious to the last, and gave orders to his companions where to take him in the event of his death. He was known to this community as a generous, kind-hearted, and obliging young man, one whose highest motive was to do a kind act for a neighbor, and who was well liked by his associates. Every one was terribly shocked at the sudden fate which befell him, and extend a hearty sympathy to his mourning friends, but who can picture to himself the agony of a father or mother on seeing their son, who but a few short weeks ago left the parental roof lively and cheerful, but now brought back cold and lifeless? Who can paint with adequate words the feelings of a brother or sister?

"Who can comfort, who can cheer?
When is it drives away all fear?"

It might be well to state that Mr. Thos. McLeish, foreman of the company, wrote a very sympathetic letter to Mr. and Mrs. Perrin, speaking also in high terms of Jesse, and sending them not only the amount of his wages, but also a subscription of $38, very generously given by the companions of the deceased. It is needless to say that Mr. Perrin feels grateful to the company for the kindness shown his poor son.

LORNEVILLE.

Special to The Warder.

Nothing strange has occurred here of late. We are so far removed from the turbulent village at the south of us, that we are little affected by the commotions which so much disquiet them. We would know as little as we care, if it was not for a long nosed, disagreeable busy body, who boasts of being a newspaper correspondent for this place. This miserable creature's principal occupation is retailing dirty stories, which he has attained by his long association with an accomplished blackguard and scoundrel, whom we often see loafing around hotels, talking politics, of which he knows as little as a pig does of mathematics, but on being an old acquaintance, with the hope that he may obtain in the end, that which he is always in search after, three finger drink of old rye. This worthy pair have long been excluded from all decent society, but unless they are promptly kicked out, they will occasionally force their selves into respectable places, to the annoyance of everyone who has a proper regard for himself. If this fellow, we mean the correspondent, whose facial expression is that of a poorly ground and badly used up meat axe, could be induced to leave the place, we would gladly pass around, not a beggar's petition, but a hat to obtain the needful, that he might go hence with little or no expense to himself. We know that he has need of all he has, and we know it would be useless to expect him to draw upon his own resources, to enable him to perform a good act. This at least is not a habit of his, if we have not mistaken him. If he has any good intentions about him, which we fear is not the case, he will immediately avail himself of our proffered assistance when he must know by so doing, he would confer such a lasting benefit upon his neighbors, remove a nuisance from and a disgrace to our otherwise respectable village. We hope he will entertain our proposal, and not obstinately remain where he has no good purpose to serve. Why not when he can excite the gratitude of the people as well as their anger?

This fellow has long been known to be the friend of everybody, and it is just as well known that his friendship only lasts while he is talking with them. Deceit and treachery is so natural to his cowardly make up, that no one expects him to do otherwise, consequently no one is disappointed; though many are disgusted at his propagation of filthy slanders, his impudence, ignorance, and vulgarity. He is out of his place here, some other locality would suit him better, when he might possibly be induced to work more and talk less, which would be a great advantage to his family, as well as to his neighbors, and the public generally. He has by not minding his own business, made some terrible mistakes in life, such as men of his calibre are apt to do, which he should think about and try to remedy. It is a pity he could not be induced to turn over a new leaf, and make a reasonable effort to become once more a decent and respectable man, and not waste his whole life in the disreputable practice of a retail scandal-monger, which if he has any sensibility left, he must feel ashamed of himself when he thinks of it. It is just as well to be one, as the other, the same effort to become a notable black guard, like his friend and associate, he seems so much disposed to pattern after, would make a man, who would have the confidence of worthy men, which is certainly more to be desired than their derision, hatred, or contempt. We hope this will be sufficient, and that our village scavenger will not require from us, any further introduction to the public; which may be our unpleasant duty to give, if he should continue longer in his evil course. Let him be warned in time, he cannot, more than others, afford to trifle with public opinion. Let the false accuser beware lest the stone he sends, should rebound, with greater force upon his own head.

Dangerous Counterfeits.

Counterfeits are always dangerous, more so that they always closely imitate the original in appearance and name. The remarkable success achieved by Nasal Balm as a positive cure for Catarrh and Cold in the Head has induced unprincipled parties to imitate it. The public are cautioned not to be deceived by nostrums imitating Nasal Balm in name and appearance, bearing such names as Nasal Cream, Nasal Balsam, etc. Ask for Nasal Balm and do not take imitation dealers may urge upon you. "Try Ayer's Pills"

For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout. Stephen Lansing, of Yonkers, N. Y., says: "Recommended as a cure for chronic Costiveness, Ayer's Pills have relieved me from that trouble and also from Gout. If every victim of this disease would heed only three words of mine, I could banish Gout from the land. These words would be—'Try Ayer's Pills!'"

"By the use of Ayer's Pills alone, I cured myself permanently of Rheumatism which had troubled me several months. These Pills are at once harmless and effectual, and, I believe, would prove a specific in all cases of incipient

Rheumatism.

No medicine could have served me in better stead."—C. C. Rock, Corner, Avoyelles Parish, La.

C. F. Hopkins, Nevada City, writes: "I have used Ayer's Pills for sixteen years, and I think they are the best Pills in the world. We keep a box of them in the house all the time. They have cured me of sick headache and neuralgia. Since taking Ayer's Pills, I have been free from these complaints."

"I have derived great benefit from Ayer's Pills. Five years ago I was taken so ill with rheumatism that I was unable to do any work. I took three boxes of Ayer's Pills and was entirely cured. Since that time I am never without a box of these pills."—Peter Christensen, Sherwood, Wis.
