Who's to Pay?

The great drain question, the suit against the Victoria Railway Company and the Davis embezzlement afforded the two candidates for the Reevship of this village ample material out of which to elaborate long and eloquent speeches at each other's expense; and, consequently, at the nominations both of councillors and school trustees, Messrs. Dickson and Greene carried on a wordy war until the patience of their auditors was exhausted. The verdict of the ratepayers, after carefully weighing the accusations and explanations submitted to them, is, that while the council are to blame for making no provision for the payment of the debt incurred by the expenditure on the school-house; their negligence would have entailed no loss on the ratepayers; but that the school trustees were guilty of a gross dereliction of duty in affording their treasurer the opportunity—which he so eagerly availed himself of—to appropriate the public funds. Mr. Greene, having been a member of the school board while Davis was absorbing its money, will not, we fancy, find his chances of election to the Reevship much improved thereby, especially as the council and the trustees are likely to come to loggerheads upon this very question, and Mr. Greene would naturally have a tendency to favour the latter. But of far more importance than the degree of culpability to be attached to either of our public bodies, is the question, "Who is to replace the money stolen by Davis?" and the ratepayers are asking it with no little anxiety. It appears that, owing to the "mixing and muddling" of the matter, Mr. Keith will be able to get free of the greater part, if not the whole, of his supposed liability; and, falling him, it is evident that the deficiency will have to be made up by some one, and the momentous question is, by whom? We believe that every ratepayer now regrets the indifference with which Davis's dishonesty was treated when it first became known, as had prompt measures been taken, it is not at all improbable that they would have led to the disorganization of a very considerable portion of the treasurer's spoils. It is a subject of debate throughout the village whether it is or is not too late to proceed against him; and, at any rate, there is a firm determination to hold a public meeting as soon as possible after the election and find out everything that is discoverable with reference to the defalcation business.

MUNICIPAL NOMINATIONS.

The following are the nominations in this and the adjoining municipalities, as far as we have been able to ascertain:
FENELON FALLS.—For Reeve:—James Dickson, nominated by Mr. Wm. Campbell and seconded by Mr. A. A. McDonald. H. W. Greene; nominated by Mr. J. W. Kennedy and seconded by Mr. Thos. Littleton. For Councillors:—Wm. Deyman; nominated by Mr. Edwin Wood and seconded by Mr. Wm. McKendry. John Thomson; nominated by Mr. H. W. Greene and seconded by Mr. John Austin. Edward Fitzgerald; nominated by Mr. John Austin and seconded by Mr. J. J. Power. W. L. Robson; nominated by Mr. George Nic and seconded by Mr. Thos. Littleton. Samuel Swanton; nominated by Mr. Joseph McArthur and seconded by Mr. George Manning. Wm. Campbell; nominated by Mr. John Austin and seconded by Mr. John A. Ellis. George G. Keith; nominated by Mr. E. D. Hand and seconded by Mr. Joseph McArthur. Mr. Keith resigned in his speech at the close of the nominations; and Mr. Thomson, who was not present and was unaware of his nomination, asks the electors not to vote for him, as he has no wish for the office.

FENELON.—For Reeve:—John Daniel and John D. Naylor. For Deputy Reeve:—Wm. Downer and Thomas Whitson. For Councillors:—D. Brown, Wm. Isaac, J. Moffat, Wm. Jordan, J. G. Moynes and J. P. Palmer.
BOBAYGEON.—The Reeve and Councillors of last year were re-elected by acclamation.
VERULAM.—The Reeve and Deputy Reeve were re-elected by acclamation.
SOMERVILLE.—Mr. John Fell, who has been Reeve of this township for eighteen years, having declined nomination, the honour of succeeding him is to be competed for by Messrs. A. H. Carl and Thomas Howie. For Councillors:—B. Burchell, George Eade, Joseph Eades, Henry Graham, George Rumney, Thomas Robson, Jr., and Benjamin Smith.

The Result of a High Tariff.

The higher the duties on imports into a county the greater the temptation to engage in illicit traffic. This obtains everywhere and ought to be a warning to Governments to keep duties so low as to make smuggling unprofitable. To do so requires skillful statesmanship at all times, but most especially when taxation is necessarily high. A good deal of smuggling has been carried on this season on the line between us and the States, and while many of the culprits are caught there are doubtless a large number who escaped with their ill-gotten gains. We have not seen the record of the seizures of illicit distilleries in this country; but that for four years and four months in the States has lately appeared, and is surely enough to demand a revision of their tariff. 4061 illicit distilleries were seized; 7334 persons were arrested for illicit distillation; 26 officers and employees were killed and 57 wounded in the enforcement of the revenue laws. From this it appears that the science of political economy is not far advanced amongst our neighbours, or they would have got beyond a system of taxation that goes so far to encourage dishonesty and eventually leads to violence and murder.

"Doctored" Liquors.

The Yankees have become proverbial for their ingenuity in inventing labour saving machines. This is to their credit; but their ingenuity frequently works in the inventing of positive evil. They have become famous, or rather infamous, for adulterating liquors, and by this means poison the consumers, cheat the revenue, and rob the public. A striking instance of how this is done was lately related by a chemist to a St. Louis reporter. By the use of a small quantity of a yellowish liquid called Cognac oil put in a pint of alcohol and a pint and a half of syrup, a 40 gallon cask of Cologne proof spirit is made into good brandy. This is only a sample of what can be done with other liquors, and is enough to make one doubt if there is such a thing as genuine liquor drunk anywhere in the States. Undertakers there must regard this deadly ingenuity as a great aid to their business.

The Winter.

This winter has as yet been favourable to those who are engaged in getting out wood of any description. Snow fell early, there have been heavy frosts, and the swamps are brimful of water, if anything too much so; but this will get over if the frost holds out. Railway ties are in good demand, at better prices than last year, and the same is true of cordwood. The partial failure of the wheat crop makes those who have any timber to sell eager to get out what they can to raise money to meet their wants. This is of course all right, but it will leave the less to fall back upon in future emergencies. Thirty years ago farmers were glad to get good pines moved out of their way when clearing; if they had left them until now they could have made small fortunes by their sale.

Somerville Council Proceedings.

The council met this 6th day of December, 1880, pursuant to a call of the Reeve. Members all present, the Reeve in the chair. The minutes of previous meeting were read and passed. Communication from Messrs. J. D. McIntyre & Stewart, Barristers, Lindsay, about the station house for Rettie's Station, a petition of Christopher Fell, Robert Ellis and 11 others asking charity to Wm. Cavanagh, and from Thos. and R. Oswald and 7 others asking charity to Edward Savage, also a communication to the Reeve from Dr. Pitcher, stating that Josiah Humphries was sick with consumption and in a destitute state and needing medical treatment, were laid before the council. The following pathmasters' lists were examined and passed:—Nos. 2, 11, 12, 15, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 27, 28, 35, 37, 41, 43, 44, 45, 47, 50, 52, 54, 56 and 57.

Moved by Mr. Graham, seconded by Mr. Howie, and resolved, That the Victoria Railway Company be requested by Mr. J. D. McIntyre to build a station house at Rettie's station, on the Railway, or that a comfortable place for passengers waiting for the arrival of trains may be accessible, and a separate apartment for freight and luggage, where the same may safely be left secure from the weather or the depredations of the public; to be a substantial frame or brick building, 20 x 30 feet outside, and divided into two apartments.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Rumney, seconded by Mr. Howie, That the petition of Christopher Fell and 11 others, asking for assistance to Wm. Cavanagh, be left over for future consideration.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Howie, seconded by Mr. Eade, That this Council grant the following in charity:—To Edward Savage, $10, to be expended by Henry Graham for his benefit; to Wm. Kirkpatrick, $5, for the purpose of getting necessary, George Rumney to expend the same; the sum of $4 to be paid to John Nugent for medicine, if ordered by any medical man attending the case of Josiah Humphries, who is now sick.—Carried.

The reports of road commissioners were examined. Mr. Howie's report was adopted, and an order for two dollars and fifty cents given to him to cover expenditures above the amount granted by by-law No. 209. The report of George Eade was adopted, as the account agrees with the amount granted by by-law No. 209. The report of Henry Graham was adopted, the amount reported as spent being as directed under by-law No. 209.

Moved by Mr. Graham, seconded by Mr. Howie, That the following accounts against the municipality be paid:—Robert Ellis, $1 45; John Fell, selecting jurors, $1 25; W. S. Dowson, selecting jurors, $1 25; Wm. Cookman, repairing culvert, $1 50; George McFarland, preparing bridge on Corbin Creek, $2; drawing deed by the late E. T. Boulton for Klumoudt grave yard, $3.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Eade, seconded by Mr. Rumney, That by-law No. 213, a by-law providing for holding the annual municipal election in the township of Somerville to elect Reeve and councillors for the year 1881, be now read and finally passed.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Eade, seconded by Mr. Graham, That the taxes for 1880 against John Carr for part of lot 13, front range, be erased from the collector's roll, as it appears that John Wilson has been assessed for the same portion.—Carried.

Mr. Joseph Eades applied to the council for compensation for a sheep, under chapter 194 of the Consolidated Statutes of Ontario. Having taken the sworn evidence of Joseph Eades and John Wilson as to the sheep being killed by a dog, and as to the value of the sheep, it was passed that Joseph Eades be paid the sum of $3 50, as compensation therefor.—Carried.

BAD FALLS.—One day last week Mr. David Gage, foreman in Mr. R. C. Smith's mill, and Mr. Wm. Fisher, one of the hands, both got rather severe falls while engaged at their work; but, happily, in neither case were the consequences very serious.

M. I. ENTERTAINMENT.—The entertainment in aid of the Mechanics' Institute was given in Ingrams Hall, according to announcement, on Thursday evening; but as all the type required for this week's Gazette was by that time set up, our notice will have to be deferred until next issue.

FORBES'S LECTURE.—Don't forget that Mr. Archibald Forbes will deliver his celebrated lecture on "The Inner Life of a War Correspondent" next Wednesday evening in the Opera House. All the papers speak in the very highest terms of Mr. Forbes, and his audiences are invariably delighted. Go and hear him.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTION.—On Wednesday last Messrs. James Agnew and John A. Ellis were elected school trustees, without opposition, in place of Messrs. H. W. Green and William Marshall, whose term has expired. Mr. Agnew was nominated by Mr. Wm. Jordan and seconded by Mr. Joseph McArthur, and Mr. Ellis was nominated by Mr. Wm. Campbell and seconded by Mr. J. J. Power.

CONTRARY TO LAW.—A good many persons, farmers especially, appear to forget that it is illegal as well as dangerous to drive in winter without bells on their harness. We are ready to admit that in many instances the banging of the horses' heels against the whiffletrees makes sufficient noise to give timely warning of their approach; but the law demands bells, and, in the interest of melody, the Gazette demands them too.

BIG TREES.—If reports are true, there are yet some giant trees to be found at no great distance from here. Mr. James McConnell, who is taking out saw logs near Concession Lake in Harvey, has of late been getting as many as seven or eight logs, each over 13 feet in single trees, and that not in rare instances, but in a whole grove. An acre of such timber is worth grove. Nobody who knows Mr. McConnell but will be glad to hear of his "find."

COLD.—After a long spell of moderate weather, a cold snap of the most pronounced description has set in. It commenced on Monday night, and one of a number of residents of this village, who were returning from a concert at Bobaygeon, was rendered quite incapable of "walking off on his ear," as both those appendages were frozen stiff. Since Christmas about six inches of fresh snow has fallen; but it will take twenty-two more falls of the same quantity to make the eleven and a half feet predicted by Venour.

A MUSICAL TREAT.—The celebrated "Coloured Jubilee Singers" will give concert in the Methodist church, Fenelon Falls, on Thursday, January 6th, and in the Methodist church, Cameron, on Friday, January 7th. Tickets for adults, 25c.; for children, 15 cents. On the Sunday following one of their number, the Rev. Mr. Obanyan, will preach at Cameron in the morning, at Powles' Corners in the afternoon, and at Fenelon Falls in the evening. The troupe are very highly spoken of by the papers, and a musical treat may be expected.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.—The annual anniversary services of the Methodist Church of Fenelon Falls were held on Christmas evening and the following Sabbath, Dec'r 26th. The tea meeting on Christmas evening was a grand success, the proceeds being about $60. Excellent addresses were given by the Rev. Mr. Clark, of Lindsay, Rev. I. Weldon, of Cannington, and Rev. Mr. Metherell, of this village. The pastor of the church took the chair. On Sabbath, Dec'r 26th, at 10 30 a. m., the Rev. Mr. Clark preached a very eloquent and instructive sermon to a good congregation. The Rev. Isaac Weldon addressed the Sabbath School in the afternoon, and preached at 6 30 p. m., a very practical and profitable sermon to a large congregation. The collections were good. About $529 has been raised during the past year in aid of the "Trust Fund" of the Methodist Church, and its finances are encouraging.

Voluntary Starvation.

The death of Miss Martha Terhune, at Lodi, Bergen county, N. J., is attracting considerable attention, especially on account of the assertion that she had starved herself. Miss Terhune was fifty-nine years of age and had always been regarded as eccentric to a degree bordering on insanity. When nineteen years of age, she and a companion broke through a bed in their sleep, which so frightened Martha that she ever since declined to sleep on a bedstead. Miss Terhune weighed nearly two hundred pounds at the time she began her singular fast and lost very little in consequence. On the 18th of September her mother, ninety years of age, was stricken with paralysis, which so shocked Martha that she formed the resolution not to eat any more. During four weeks she partook only of the minutest nourishment, and then ceased to take the food altogether. At the end of seven weeks of total abstinence she died.

A Sad Christmas in Ireland.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—A Dublin despatch says it is said that so dull and sad a Christmas has never been experienced here. A sullen depression marks the spirit of the people, and the traders, who for some time past have been feeling very acutely the disturbed state of the country, are beginning to exhibit signs of great embarrassment; but the agitation which is paralyzing trade, and putting capital to flight, and poisoning the commercial life, still extends its progress in helpless dismay. The efforts of the Land Leagues are now directed towards the North of Ireland, where it is persistently trying to overcome the repugnance to its practices. There can be little doubt that it has succeeded considerably, when mostly all the districts are honeycombed with its organizations. The exertions of the agitators are also directed towards the county of Dublin itself. Malahide, near Dublin, was the scene of a second demonstration on Sunday, but there was no reason to boast of its success.

A Death Postponed.

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 26.—William Carney, of this city, was under the hallucination that he would die at two a. m. on Sunday last. He says he had a vision on Friday last, in which he was told of his approaching decease. He took to his bed, although apparently healthy, and continued sinking and growing feeble as the time drew nigh. On Friday morning he made his will, and was prepared for death by Bishop Mullen, the Catholic prelate of this diocese. His house was filled with people watching the result. But the death prophecy turned out to be a fizzle. Much disappointment was manifested at the failure of the miracle, which his friends attribute to the officiousness of Judge Galbraith and Dr. Brand. They believe that the will of God would have been carried out but for the enunning of the lawyer and physicians. The Judge persuaded Carney's brother to turn back the hands of the clock two hours, and the doctor administered an opiate at midnight, which obscured mundane matters from the would-be corpse for six hours. Carney denounces the fraud practised upon him as infamous.

A Horrible Murder.

ALLENSTOWN, Dec. 27.—Jacob Gogel and wife an azeel couple living four miles from Bethlehem, were found dead in bed this morning. Their heads were nearly severed from their bodies, and a bloody axe was found in the apartment, and the walls splashed with blood. The room presented a shocking sight. Joseph Snyder, who boarded with the Gogels, was believed to be the murderer. He was caught by an infuriated mob soon after the discovery of the crime and was hanged to the nearest tree. The motive for the murder is unknown. Joseph Snyder, who murdered Jacob and Annie Gogel, confessed to having committed the crime, telling the story with the greatest deliberation. He was in love with the eldest daughter of the Gogels, aged 16, but was opposed by her parents. He believed that by killing them all opposition would cease. He had scarcely confessed before a rope was procured and placed around his neck, and he was dragged outside the house and hung to a large chestnut tree. After being suspended twenty minutes the body was cut down by the poor house authorities.

Five United States officers have been killed or wounded by illicit Tennessee distillers within the past week.

Mr. William Barker, of the 2nd concession of Sidney, sent the milk of two cows to the Springfield Cheese Factory for less than six months, which netted him $95. Who can beat it?

The extraordinary phenomenon of a child slowly petrifying alive, which for some time has confounded the medical men of Cleveland and elsewhere, has been terminated by the death of the little one.

The murderer of an old man in Nevada was lynched by the people. The coroner rendered a verdict of "died of his own physical incompleteness—legs weren't long enough to touch the ground."

A band of Spiritualists are digging for gold two miles south of Albany, under the direction of a Rochester medium. They claim to have found many curious articles, including the Masonic emblems.

After the death of Conard Seitz, at Monroe, Ala., this telegram was received from Ella Dreyer, his affianced wife: "Delay funeral two days. I will be ready for burial with him." She kept her word by committing suicide.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Fenelon Falls Gazette.

Sir:—The two projects of communication with the world south of this are now exercising the minds of those who expect to derive benefit if either of them is carried out. In the case of the canal its backers are found both here, far west and far east. Chicago is supposed to favour it because during summer it will afford a much shorter and cheaper route for grain, and also for the import of goods. Montreal may well favour it as a route for bringing the traffic of the far West into her harbour, thereby increasing the profits of her merchants. With the residents along the line of the canal other questions arise; for they are chiefly interested in the question of how the canal can benefit them—it will enable them to sell their produce at higher prices; can imported goods be brought cheaper to their doors? These are the questions that chiefly concern them, as they determine whether they will be the better for the canal or not. The answer may be given thus: The canal, being only open six months in the year, can only be available for that time for an outlet for agricultural products. Beyond that period, whatever is bought for transmission by it must be at reduced rates, as no buyer is going to lie out of his money for months without interest on it. The advantage it may give to lumbermen during that time is not likely to be much, beyond what they already possess, and, as an outlet for animals, its value would be nil. Nobody would ever think of going by it on a journey, and the traffic from one end to the other would do much benefit for the residents on the shores.

The proposed railway, if carried out, would afford transit for goods and passengers, and also extend the market for Fenelon Falls and Bobaygeon would be connected, as also Peterborough; agricultural products all along the route would be so much nearer the seaboard by way of Belleville, and higher prices ought to be got on that account. The country north of this would find an additional outlet for its minerals, and people from the south have easier access to there, more work would be given in its maintenance than by a canal, and thereby more money spent where it traversed. Of the two schemes, the railway seems preferable for this district, but it is not to be forgotten that it need not be expected to be built without considerable local aid from the municipalities, as also from the Provincial Government. The latter would have the subject placed before it in its various bearings. A large district of country would be greatly benefited by its construction, facilities would be afforded for the development of its mineral treasures, and by this means benefit would be derived by the vast majority of the country. The Grand Junction would reap additional advantages which it well deserved for the noble efforts it has made to furnish a main arterial line for a large district of country hitherto without one. The question of business is a delicate one in these times, as farmers are not in the humour to vote much that way. Nevertheless, if the railway is to be got, somewhat will have to be done, and that before long.

Yours, &c. A FARMER.
