ningrench Vice-Consul at Guayaquil, which in exploring the up-River Napo, finds it a handsome stream, navigable for a thousand miles above its mouth The district through which it flows, as far as explored is larger than France, and has a fertile seil. The climate is mild, and the country is well adapted for the production of sugar, coffee, cocoa, and India rubber.

PRINCE Higaschi-Fuschinio-No-Mya, the heir presumptive to the ruling sovereign of Japan, is travelling around the world. At present he is stopping at Rizza, Italy, where fashionable society, comprising representa-tives of all nations, is in somewhat of a flutter about him. He is about thirty, speaks French excellently, is unmarried, attends balls, receptions, dinners, and all manner of social festivities, and seems pos- Dress Decrees Issued by the Goddess sessed of unusual intelligence and polish.

SAHARA girdled by a railway will no longer be the wild, maysterious desert of yore. Three Frenc ingineering expeditions, those of Po arme, Choissy, and A Survey of the Latest Styles in Flatters, have been busy in tracing a path for a great African railroad from Algiers to the Niger, and thence to Senegal. Choissy examined the routes from Biskra to Wargla and from El Aghuet to E. Golesh, south of which latter place he found practicable passes through the big eand dunes that bar the way from Insalah to Tuat. Col. Fiatters, too, found these openings south of El Goleab, and discovered that in the desert there was not too arid to support a very large supply of snakes and lizards, and, what was more cheerful, antelopes in abundance. He also found the tamarisk tree luxuriant in Sahara, and claims to have discovered a lake full of fish, surrounded by vegeta-

LABOUCHERE, in the London Truth says: "I am sorry to hear that all the well-mean. ets. ing efforts have, up to now, failed to induce is leading her into so deplorable a step. She will forfeit the life interest which she has in Coutts' Bank, her house in London, and that in the suburbs. Her relatives have wisely considered that they ought not to assent to any terms of composition which might tend to facilitate this unnatural crime for so it can only be termed. America will thus deprive the poor of the vast benefactions which the Baroness has annually contributed to their wants out of the income derived from the bank.'

An uppleasant incident has occurred in quet. connection with the approaching marriage of the Crown Prince Rudolf. A report was received in Vienna a day or two since that the Prince's wedding orders had all been sent to Paris. The new furniture and fixtings of the Hradchin, the palace at Prague, which is to be the principal residence of the Crown Prince after his marriage, are, among other things, alleged to have been ordered from the French capital. Among the Vienna manufacturers this intelligence has created the greatest excitement. The Burgomaster has already interviewed the Lord Chamberlain on the subject. The reply is not yet known, but in case it proves unsatisfactory, the Municipal Council, it is said, will countermand all the orders given in preparation for the civic festivities which it had been determined to institute in honor of the nuptials.

Major Penniman, a lawyer, and O. F. Robinson, Assistant District Attorney, had an altercation in Detroit court during the "That is what I think of you." Robinson are worn with these aprons. replied that the public could judge which was the liar, and intimated that he considered the Major a coward. The Major invited his adversary to step outside, an invitation that was readily excepted. As soon as the two had crossed the threshold that separated them from the court room, and while Robinson was trying to close the him twice in the face with his fist. Robinson and the Major $25. A leading lawyer of the city at once paid Robinson's fine, and had to beg for a week's time to pay his a skating costume.

walking exercise, when a riding party, con. lighted with the innovation. imal by the bridle, and held it until the inet. lady had extricated herself, and was out of danger. By this time the two officers had leaped from their horses, and the Duchessa Storza-Cesarini and the Marchese Niccolini from the royal carriage, but only to hear the Queen deprecating the lady's gratitude and regretting her having been the involuntary cause of the accident. By evening the incident was the common theme in every cafe throughout the Corso, and when at St o'clock, her Majesty entered the royal box at the Teatro Argentina, the house rose en Royal March, cheered as Italians never cheer, but in honor of their Queen, who always receives such loyal demonstration with the most winning grace.

emerged from the filth which has created enough" alone. such fearfully fatal pestilences. The first step in its rejuvenescence was the establishit by four-inch pipes of the same material. to the Jersey flats. The six-inch sewer, after receiving not to exceed 300 house drains, discharges into a main or sub-main sewer of eight inches diameter or more, and the submains discharge into the larger ones. The size of the submains and mains are of eight, ten, twelve, fifteen, and twenty-inch diameter. The greatest flow of the twenty-inch main, about 3.000 houses been connected with it, isabout nine inches deep. The discharges are made into Bayon Gayosor This vast system cost $183,086,02. In addition to this work over five miles of streets have been paved at a cost of $160,260,02. The citizens have not only paid their heavy taxes promptly, but have expended nearly $200,000 in cleaning out, disinfecting, and filling up vaults and carrying on other needed sanitary work.

The proverb says: "Mark the upright for you. man." The crooked man can mark himself.

"My dear," said a sentimental maiden to her lover, " of what do these autumnal tints, this glowing baldric of the skies, this blazing garniture of the dying year, remind And then she realized, for the first time, that two hearts did not beat as one. LITTLE six-years-old was taking his first lesson in addition, and when the teacher asked him: "If I were to give you two more, how many cats would you have?" he quickly replied, "Why, pretty soon I wouldn't have any, for mamma would break

The Sencion Salls Gazette.

VOL. VIII.

FENELON FALLS, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, JANUARY 22, 1881.

NO. 46.

WOMAN GOSSIP.

of Pashion to Her Hosts of Willing Followers.

Costumes and Material-Monastic Designs.

Baby.

"Baby and I are alone, Ju t baby and I! His eyes look up and mine look down, And the love that flashes in sympathy Is the gem in the crown."

Fashion Notes

still very fashionable. High square necked bodices with elbow sleeves are worn with most evening toil-

WHITE or tinted ostrich feather trimming Baroness-Burdett-Coutts to reconsider her is a very fashionable garniture for handsome lace, are very lovely ond becoming. form high frills about the necks of many tion, the pattern for which was copied from Point colbert, which resembles Venetian rose point lace, is very effective trimming for reception dresses of ruby velvet.

the left side of the belt. These have in ficent silk, and which is known as the a measure taken the place of the belt bou- Manteau de Cour, or, to put it in English, viceable, made of black silk, with revers, to-day. It was put in deep plaits on a band, cuffs, pockets, and wide collar of black vel- and joined to the waist under the body, vet, either plain or embroidered. Broad collars and cuffs of Carriekmacross point are very stylish and pretty. One thing greatly in favor of the lace is that it will "do up" beautifully. THE newest French linen table spreads have a rich silk embroidery upon the borders, done in Italian stitch. The designs are varied and often grotesque. THE hand-painted French faus of satin and silk are masterpieces of art, and are the most elegant and fashionable of all the styles late- and met in the back, falling over the entire other complexion preservatives.

plush, shirred in at the waist and about the with bunches of white flowers of an indeshoulders and wrists and trimmed with zib- scribable style. A drapery of point d'Aulinette, a handsome but very perishable gletree lace fell over the shoulders, meeting trial of a horse thief. Penniman accused black satin with insertions and frills of plain, long tulle vail reaching to the floor Robinson of lying, and, tearing up a legal Oriental striped silk. Bright cashmere document, threw it into a cuspador saying : girdles with heavy tassels or spikes attached appenies. The ornaments were most mag-

> PRETTY ball toilets for young girls are made with short round skirts, not com- the floral bell, facing the minister, and Senaing down any lower than the ankie, and tor Sharon stood a little back of the bride, shown by the pretty XV. shoes os embroid- and Mrs. Davis near the groom, by Fred ered satin with high heels and narrow bands | Sharon's side. Sir Thomas looked a trifle across the instep.

door, the Major suddenly turned and strack the moment are made of artificial wild roses, sende of Dr. Beers as officiating clergyman a spray of Cape jasmine and clustering was a surprise to many of the guests, who had no opportunity to retort, police officers | branches of eglantine leaves and blossoms. | were not aware of the fact that Miss Sharon interfering, and conducting both before the For trimming whole toilets, crushed roses in had renounced Catholicism, and several Judge, by whom Robinson was fined $10 pink and tea shades are much employed. STYLISH young ladieswear with the Jersey suits a long silk scarf of bright colored India was immediately reimbursed by contribut silk plaid, which they wrap about their tions of other members of the bar; but no- shoulders, cross in front and the in the back, silence, when Dr. Beers opened his prayer body volunteered to pay any part of the a little at the left, Highland fashion, This Major's fine, and that beiligerent counsellor scarf is most appropriate as a jaunty finish to

Short ball dresses are decidedly gaining THE Queen of Italy has just saved a life. in public favor, and young ladies who attend She was taking her atternoon drive beyond a large party or ball, with a view to enjoy the Porte Angelica, accompanied by the dancing, and not merely for the display of a Duchessa Sforza Cesarini and the Marchese long train to be stepped upon and mangled Niccolini, and had alighted for a little in the swift mazes of the "racket," are desisting of a lady and two officers, came up. | SILK openwork Jersey bodices are import- | several other useful end ornamental knick-The three equestrians, on seeing Her Ma- ed. They are sleeveless and call for twenty- knacks, unhappily stowed away in the same the road, to let the carriage pass, but in the are to be word a plain silk underwaist of act the lady's horse stumbled and fell, drag- some contrasting color. These dressy waists congratulation, faced the guests and received ging its fair rider along with it. The Queen, are more favoured by the Parisian ladies the pleasant wishes of all those present. stepping forward, seized the struggling an- that were the original Jerseys made of stock. After that Sir Thomas relinquished his bride > ears, and tied under the chin with broad dancing being started by the guests in the satin strings. Arrayed in one of these bon- music hall. nets and enveloped in a Mother Hubbard cloak made of Roman plaids, a young lady of the period might pass for a weary wandering relic of the sixteenth century

MALTESE lace is once more coming into fashion. Those who possess a store of this masse, and, while the orchestra played the once favorite lace will doubtless congratulate themselves upon the announcement. Most people, however, prefer the new popular makes, of Alencon, Languedoc, Spanish, Chantilly, and Vermicelli laces infinitely better. But tastes differ and change is in-THE city of Memphis, or the Taxing Dis. evitable, and fashion never was so famous trict, as it is now legally known, has fully for fidelity, and is ever declining to let "well

As with a woman, so with a horse. H back hair is his main trouble.

Maiden lady's aphorism-" Where singleness is bliss it is folly to be wives." The ladies wear gold tuning-forks for hair-

A celebrated silver-working company advertises the "Princess Louise spoons," when, in fact, the princess never spoons.

"Kissing your sweetheart," says a trifling it takes a long time to get enough."

Beaconsfield ascribes his success to women Adam laid all his troubles to the same source. Adam, we are ashamed of you.

Beaconsfield, you are a gentleman. homely women in his neighborhood.

Mr. Garfield, his wife, and the young lady who is to assist in doing the honors of the white house, have all been school teachers. The reins of government will be kept female seminaries.

lors are beginning to raise the windows a little and get a breath of fresh air once more. In a few days they will again venture to leave their rooms.

with a cheap young lady." This is a mis- young man did not put in his appearance her young man always thinks she is a "lit- another situation.

Public opinion on the subject of faithless husbands is very strong in Somerset, Ky. Mr. Love was that kind of an offender. His wife led a mob against him. He fled hastily, crowd in close pursuit. At the end of a head downward, from a tree. He was almost frozen to death when, two hours after-THE combination of pink and garnet is ward, a humane preacher cut him down.

A Wedding with Millions in it.

(From the San Francisco Chronicle.) The bridal robe was one fit for a queen, cate flower borders, and edged with Grecque | the skirt being one solid mass of embroidery wrought upon white satin with beads, cry-Full ruches of black Spanish lace stals, and pearls of the very fluest descripin the gallery of the Louvre in Paris. Down the sides of this embroidered frontpiece were panels of point d'Angleterre lace, fifteen inches wide, with revers of the pearl embroidery that joined on to the undertrain, over IMMENSE bows of satin are fastened at which fell a second train of the same magnithe same style of court train that is worn which was cut in points both front and back.

train, and reaching to the bottom of it in SMOCK polonaises are made of brown two broad ways, being caught to the ground in the front, and was held together by a HANDSOME Roman aprons are made of bunch of anbepine flowers. A perfectly 140 pounds six ounces. was fastened to the hair with a little knot of neficent diamonds, that once belonged to her mother. The bridegroom had mislaid the ring. The bride and groom stood beneath nervous and pale, while the bride's beauty THE shoulder-knots and corsage flowers of | was enhanced by a deep colour. The preweeks ago decided to be married by an Episcopal clergyman, and join the Church of England upon her arrival at her new home. The room was hushed into perfect book and pronounced the first word of the beautiful service. From the beginning to the close not a word of the grooms responses could be heard by those standing even a few feet away, but Miss Sharon responded in a bridesmaid removed the br de's glove, and the groom found the ring only after a considerable search in his vest pocket, which disclosed his possession of a match box and the married pair, after receiving Dr. Beers's | than that of males. Mother Hubbard bonnets have square taking Miss Sedgwick on his arm, the four which are drawn down at the sides over the corridor and through the reception rooms, once.

An Amazon In Ireland. Miss Gardiner, whose valiant exploits in defending herself against a large and threat- through the heart in twenty-four hours. ing crowd in the streets of Pallina, in the county Mayo, Ireland, has been called and the blood in one hour. is well entitled to the historic sobriquet of "Awful Gardiner." Long before Boycott- holes, or cells, are in the lungs, which ing was introduced, she was an object of would cover a surface thirty times greater terror and hatred in the country for the fierce | than the human body. severity with which she enforced what she deemed her rights, and the fearless pluck with which she encountered the consequences. Her property, which was but a small one, is situated near Killala, a small town THE Beaubarnais hat is affected by most in the north of Mayo, and not far from the lactes who like extremes in fashion. The confines of Sligo, which is the seat of a ment of a thorough system of sewerage un- brim of this hat is simply immense, and is Roman Catholic bishopric, now filled by the which is none the less true, however, is told der the direction of Col. Waring. The covered on the outside by a heavy wreath of Most Reverend Hugh Conway, and which, of a clerk in one of the leading business merit of the system is a sewer of vitrified ostrich plumes, the ends of which reach to with the property round, is principally houses of this city, who became so involved pipe six inches in diameter, with eight joints | the shoulder. The insides of the cavern is owned by the Knoxes and Knox-Gores, of that he needed $500 to extricate himself laid in the street, or in the alley between filled in with short drooping ostrich tips, the old school of tyrant tory landlords. She from the difficulty. By some means he distwo streets where alleys exist, having at its tigers' claws, owls' heads, birds' wings and is entirely of this kidney herself. Her rents covered that a table girl of one of the hotels upper end a field flush tank with a discharg beaks, and a general conglomeration of bar are high, and she has been so savage in their had by hard work saved up a considerable ing capacity of 112 gallons. All the houses baric-looking trophies, brought from every exaction, going round herself and ringing sum of money, and to her he applied for a on both sides the sewer are connected with point of the globe, from the Arabian desert | the last farthing from the rags of the poor, loan. This was readily granted, and a note that she has been fired at twice at periods with interest and a day of payment only pins in these degenerate days. "There's a horsewoman. She hunts often with the music in the hair," so to speak. same pack as she did in her girlhood, Mrs. ingly ugly, so that the debtor demurred young man, 'is like eating soup with a fork; before revolvers came in fashion, a huge ed the gravity of the situation he perceived A young man in love is not necessarily a ly inflicted punishment on those who pro- So the marriage was performed one evening lies, and neglect of the "coloured gemmam" who deigned to wait upon them, suddenly discharged that personage and employed a Celestial, who had been strongly recommended to her for his strict attention to his strictest incognito as the Count of Pavis, duties and perfect truthfulness. Soon after is expected to spend a few days in Paris, his installation, his mistress determined to and he will make a short visit to England, When you hear a young lady very care- give an informal "hop," and on the after- where he will be the guest of the Prince and quite confident that she is a recent graduate | take place told Lung to say " Not at home" | will visit the Queen at Osborne.

Gave 'em Away.

of one of the most thorough of our numerous to anyone who called. As chance would Strange Experience with a Madman. have it, one of the young ladies' most fasti-Leap year is over, and the rich old bache- dious beaus, and one on whom they all wished to make a favourable impression, came to ask permission to bring a friend with him in the evening, and, on inquiring a lady of Providence, R. I., of artistic tastes for the ladies, was told by the truthful

An English magazine discourses on but old woman she in kitchen washee Turkish Carpets.

Ooshak, a large village of artisans, about six days' journey due east from Smyrna, is without coat, trousers, or boots, with the the headquarters of a manufacture of the carpets known for generations as "Turkey mile he was overtaken, and left suspended, carpets." The patterns are Turkish, or rather, Arabesque. A carpet between seven and eight yards long will employ eight women at once, working side by side. Their wages are about eight plastres a week, which, it is calculated, comes to about fortythree cents for each yard of carpet woven. The wool used comes from the villages round about, and is bought for about a halfpenny a and never before was such a costume seen in pound in its uncleaned state. When washed decision, and to adopt, if she so desires, instead of to marry, the American youth who stead of the total the ste made of an inferior wool, and the whole material of the fabric may cost about sixtyseven cents a yard. This does not include the dyeing, which is managed by the men, ing loosed his hold, he rushed to the door, handsome toilets of black brocaded vel- a painting of an old court robe now hanging and forms the chief item of cost. The colors locked it, are produced for the most part with madder, cochineal and judiyo.

> Flirting on Ocean Steamers. justice, commercial travellers, clergymen, or grass-widows, than the passengers learn around the side, and laced in the back. The | man has left her lover at one port or expects demi-sleeves were finished with a fall of the to meet him at another. The explanation. same rich lace about two and a half inches like the explanation of many other amazing wide, and above it a band of the embroidery; things, is simple enough. If her lover is the rich piece of lace (also point d'Angle- or fog, but gets tanned, freckled, and rough- the lunatic for terre, and the same widths of the panels), ened in a highly healthful and independent which commenced at the point of the body fashion. But, if her lover is waiting for in front, was carried gracefully over the hips her, she takes infinite trouble with veils and

Man.

[Extracted from an Old Volume.]

The average weight of an adult man is The average weight of a skeleton is about 14 pounds.

Number of bones, 240. The skeleton measures one inch less than the height of the living man. The average weight of the brain of a man is three and a half pounds; of a woman two pounds eleven ounces. The brain of a man exceeds twice that of any other animal. The average height of an Englishman is five feet, nine inches; of a Frenchman, five feet, four inches; and of a Belgian, five feet, six and three-quarter inches. The average weight of an Englishman is 150 pounds; of a Frenchman 136 pounds; a Belgian, 140 pounds.

The average number of our teeth is thirty A man breathes about twenty times a minute, or 1,200 times an hour. A man breathes about eighteen pints of air in a minute, or upwards of seven hogsheads in a day.

A man gives off 4.08 percent, c rbonic acid low, yet clear and distinct tone. Previous gas of the air herespires; respires 10,666 cubic follow you. to the placing of the wedding ring the feet of carbonic acid gas in twenty-four 124 pounds of carbon.

per minute; in manhood, 80; at 60 years | The affair occurred near the Fifth Avenue ing for us, although there wasn't a side jesty, made a sudden wheel to the side of five button kid gloves. With these bodices pocket. At the conclusion of the ceremony 60. The pulse of females is more frequent Hotel. The man was thin and spare, above track within twenty miles, except the one about twenty-eight pounds.

The heart beats seventy-five times a minto the escort of her brother, and himself ute; sends nearly ten pounds of blood fully whenever he went out. through the veins and arteries each beat. crowns, towering teathers and flaring brims, promenaded up and down the main floor and makes four beats while we breathe

Five hundred and forty pounds, or one hogshead one and one-quarter pints of blood pass through the heart in one hour.

Twelve thousand pounds, or twenty-four hogsheads four gallons, or 10,7821 pints pass

One thousand ounces of blood pass through One hundred and seventy four million Marry or Pay.

AN INDIANAPOLIS STORY.

A very singular and also ludicrous story. when landlord game was not in season. She some months in the future, was executed in is now of an uncertain age, medium-sized acknowledgement of the same. The time and of very masculine appearance, wearing came, and with it the same chronic inability hunting-boots, and a short dress; is a crack of the maker to pay it. He pleaded for an shot, and in a country celebrated, like Ar- extension of time, but this the waiter maidgos of old, for its noble deeds and daring en refused utterly to grant, and informed horsewomen, ranks second only to two him that he must either pay the sum at once others, Miss Dennis and Caroline Persse, as or marry her. The woman was about 40 Brassy, a daughter of Lord Clamorris, who against the imposition of such hard terms. is regarded as at present the crack horse- The woman, however, was firm. With her daylight the husband discovered his patch women in England, and whom many Amer- it was either the money or a husband, and of icans may have met at Melton. Miss on the whole she seemed quite anxious to his agony having broken off the trees at the Harriet, as she is called, always carried, choose the latter. When the hero discovercutting-whip, with which she has repeated. no way to escape it, and finally capitulated. mathematician, but is nearly always a sigh | voked her anger. She will not blanch, as | in the early part of this week. The man befor her. If you can't cipher this out we sigh game to the bone, and revels in a tight. She is longs to a good family, and is said to be greatly humiliated by the condition in which he so unwillingly finds himself in being allied by force to a woman so inferior to himself in social position and intelligence. The A certain fashionable lady in San Fran- woman, however, was so well pleased that "I'd sooner be cursed than kissed," says cisco, whose lovely daughters are regarded she rented and furnished a house, and was The bridegroom then informed the bride Tennyson in his latest volume, which leads as the most elegant belies of the city, hav- ready for business before the wedding day. That he was out of money, and did not weakened: habitual warmth, if not too us to think that there are a great many ing become disgusted with the arrogance, The names of the parties are withheld for know how to get any. He said that the best great, being one of the best preservatives of obvious reasons.

THE King of Italy, travelling in the

The following extraordinary story is vouched for as true : A few days ago, while and habits was walking leisurely along Young: "They tell me say all gone out, Fifth avenue, New York, she noticed a sign of an artist's studio, whereupon she entered 'Cheap Girls." It says: "No young man, dishee, the young misses they up-stairs an open door, ascended one flight of stairs, not even the worst, wants anything to do paintee faces." It is needless to say the rapped at the artist's door, heard the words on his leg, "I've seen a good deal of rail- a lie; if it is a year old it is called a false-"Come in," and entered a spacious room take. No matter how cheap a girl may be, that evening, and truthful Lung is seeking elegantly furnished. Its high windows were richly draped with heavy curtains, and, standing on the floor, was an easel after the standing on the floor, was an easel after the lands of sorrow and all Santa Claus for a pony, was wise enough to fashion of most artists. In the room sat a kinds of joy—seen the happy bridal couple add: "Poscrit. If he is a mule, Ples ty man alone, with overcoat and hat on, im-movable, and with eyes glaring fiercly on his bright and hopeful future before them, and visitor, as if enraged at her intrusion, but the black-robed mourner on her way to a not uttering a word. A few moments pass- new-made grave wherein she must bury the fit?" "Invite your creditors," was the ed, she made a casual remark in regard to idol of her lonely old heart.

some picture, when he

SUDDENLY JUMPED FROM HIS SEAT, his eyes glaring wildly, and his features in- tipodes of life are familiar with the conduced madly : " Now I have you! I have been | world are meeting beneath his eye. looking for you for the last ten years, and now I have got you at last, and I'll kill black leg and handled the passes of all our Bottle, Papa's Full." you!" At first the shock to her was terrible most eminent dead-heads. I don't know and overwhelming, and she became quite what walk of life is crowded with more she struggled, screamed, and entreated, but to no purpose. He clung to her throat with her mouth with her clothing. Finally, hav. good deal worse.

SEIZED A LARGE KNIFE. and began to sharpen it upon his shoe, tell- of before to any one. It has caused me They are probably saying that the bad, ing her that her time had come, and she more misery and wretchedness that any one must prepare to meet her God; that be was thing that ever happened to me in my offi-The officers of the ocean steamers, it is going to cut her into inch pieces. She fell cial career. said, can, from their post of observation on upon her knees, prayed, entreated, told him | "Sometimes even now, after the lapse of among the passengers - fliritations and wildest agony, fully believing that her time cold drops of agony standing on my face 8,640 years. We advise our readers to re-House jackets are very pretty and ser- at the presantation to the English Queen of elopments—and better judge of their char- had come, and that she must die—but with and the horrible nightmare upon me with member this. They may get the laugh on acteristics, whether they are fugitives from no avail. He continued to make his pre- its terrible surroundings, as plain as on the Gorringe in the year 10,440. parations in the most violent excitement. memorable night it eccurred. He told her that he should put her body in | "I was running extra on the Union Pawith bands of the same embroidery around below. One of these observing captains the large stove in his room, to burn it up. cific for a conductor who was an old friend the square-cut neck, down the front, and declares that he knows whether a young wo- Finally, overcome by excitement, she sank of mine, and who had gone South on a vaupon the floor. At this the rage of the mad- cation for his health. man seemed to subside a little. Still, he continued his threats and preparations. ber, we were sailing along all comfortable After having recovered a little from her ex- one evening with a straight stretch of track but the crowning feature of the robe was behind her, she cares nothing for wind, rain, haustion, having now been in the clutches of ahead for ten or fifteen miles, running on

OVER TWO HOURS. during which time she suffered untold agony. | the train suddenly slowed down, ran in on | my. She now entreated him to give her some an old siding and stopped. food, or something to revive her. It was "Of course, I got out and ran ahead to now about 6 o'clock in the evening. He then | the engine to see what the matter was. Old went to the door, saying that he was going | Antifat, the engineer, had got down and was | hands, came down and bucked. And the to get something for himself, unlocked it, on the main track looking ahead to where, customor went on, from his high seat in the opened it, went out, and locked the door twinkling along about six or seven miles haymow: "See how easily I get off." behind him. Alone in the room, she scream- down the road, apparently, was the headed to the top of her voice, hoping she might light of an approaching train. It was evibring some one to her rescue, but to no dently 'wild,' for nothing was due that we avail. He soon returned, still threatening knew of at that hour. her with instant death if she was not silent. The fiend seemed to have no other purpose lously saved from a frightful wreck by the but to torment her or to take her life. engineer's watchfulness, and everybody world that ever knew has forgotten it !" Finally he told her that, if she would take went forward and shook old Antifat by the his arm and go quietly down stairs, she hand and cried and thanked him till it was could go. Hope now dawned upon her. She the most effecting scene for a while that told him that she would do anything. He ever witnessed. It was as though we had accordingly made her walk down with him stopped upon the very verge of a bottomless into the street. She felt having got out of prison. Here she strove to | "After we had waited about half an hour extricate herself, but he threatened to dash I should say, for the blasted train to come she wanted to take an "up town" car. He bore itself into the adamantine shell of my her residence, said to her: "You must be could not see me.

INEXPRESSIBLE RELIEF.

She then opened the door and closed it upon | Then he got on his engine and I yelled 'All A man annually contributes to vegetation him with unutterable relief. Thus she was aboard, in a few moments we were moving once more free from the clutches of a again, and the general impression was that The average of the pulse in infancy is 120 | maniac, and had escaped impending death. | the train ahead was side-tracked and waitthe medium height, of sandy complexion, we had just left. The weight of the circulating blood is bald, wore a mustache, was richly dressed, wore diamond bosom-study, and nicely-

A Fight with a Python.

(From the Straits Times.) A sportsman who penetrated into the jun-

upon a lone hut in a district called Campong ever, countless suns are placed as centers. wife, who told the sportsman the following struggling humanity, and then other and extraordinary story: One night about a mightier systems of worlds revolving about the cries of his wife. Supposing in the thieves, he seized his sharp parang, and fully a minute before he could comprehend atom, only a poor, weak, erring, worthless, the entire situation, and when he did he discovered that the whole of his wife's arm had been drawn down the monster's throat, slowly but surely following. Not daring to there was something about the whole sombre attack the monster at once for fear of causng his wife's death, the husband seized two bags within reach and commenced stuffing them into the corners of the snake's jaws. y means of which he succeeded in forcing them wider open and releasing his wife's arm. No sooner had the boa lost his prey began encircling in his fatal coils; but, night we politely gave the main track to olding out both arms and watching his opportunity, the man attacked the monster so | ing. rigorously with his parang that it suddenly unwound itself and vanished through an opening beneath the attap sides of the hut. The Malay's clothes were covered with blood, as was also the floor of the hut, and his wife's arm was blue with the squeezing it received between the boa's jaws. At plantain trees nearly ruined, the boa in roots, and in the midst of the debris lay the monster itself dead, The Malay stated an extra suit of thin flannel worn during the that he had realized $60 from Chinese, who came long distances to purchase pieces of the flesh on account of its supposed medical experiment. When the chilliness becomes Councillors have been abolished. By these properties, and that he had refused $6 for unbearable put on a dressing gown over the the skin, which he preferred to retain as a A COUPLE arrived at San Francisco on their bridal tour, and took a room at a hetel. thing for them to do was to commit suicide. she has recovered.

hear long sermons.

A Headlight in View.

THE CONDUCTOR'S STORY OF A NIGHT TRAIN ON THE UNION PACIFIC.

BY BILL NYE.

"Yes," said the conductor, biting off the tip of a cigar and slowly scratching a match road life that's interesting and exciting in | hood; but if it is a century old it is called a the twenty years that I've been twisting legend.

brakes and slamming doors for a living. "I've seen all kinds of sorrow and all

"Wealth and pinching poverty ride on the same train and the merry laugh of the joyous, healthy child is mingled with the rushed upon her, seized her by the throat, despairing sigh of the aged. The great andicating the fiercest excitement, and exclaim- tor for every day the extremeties of the "Smash-ups? Oh, yes, several of them. one hand, and with the other tried to fill None, however, that could'nt have been a life," continued the conductor, running his somebody else is doing the shoveling. tongue carefully over a broken place in the wrapper of his cigar, "that I never spoke

"At about 7.30, as near as I can rememtime and everyhody feeling tip-top, as over-

"However, we had been most miracuchasm, and everybody was laughing and crying at once, till it was a kind of a cross thers.

between a revival and a picnic. her brains out against the walls of the build- up and pass us, and apparently she was no ing unless she went quietly. She told him nearer, a cold, clammy suspicion began to said, "I'll go with you. I'll follow you to intellect. The more I thought of it the the ends of the earth." He entered the car more nnhappy I felt. I almost wished that with her, sat down by her side, and appear- I was dead. Cold streaks ran up my back ed perfectly sane. He paid her fare, and followed by hot ones. I wanted to go home. never uttered a word till she got out of the I wanted to be where the hungry, prying car. He followed her, and, on arriving at eyes of the great, throbbing work-day world at my place to-morrow at 11 o'clock. I shall "I called Antifat one side and said something to him. He swore softly to himself lett, don't you do something like that? and kicked the ground, and looked at the bust !" "I'm glad you think so," Bartlett headlight still glimmering in the distance.

> "It was never exactly clear to the passengers where we passed the wild train, but engrossed with my surging thoughts.

> as I did that night. I never so fully real-bosom of the universe. Heaven and considered its illimitable space, giddy with mighty thought; and then when fallible, blind, groping railroad conductor, with my train peacefully sidetracked in the life and made me unhappy and wretched, while others were gay.

Venus while we stood patiently on the sid-

Dress Warmly.

No defence against draughts is so perfect, says the London Spectator, as a common silk handkerchief tied over the head; and a silk vest or one of washleather put on between the shirt and waistcoat will keep the body more equably warm than a good fire. A wadded coat will enable the chilly man to sit and work anywhere indoors, and so will whole of the active day. Just let any one who doubts what we say try the very simple ordinary clothing, and in five minutes he will be perfectly comfortable and ready for be effected, which sum is to be devoted to work, while ha will not suffer as he fancies he will when he goes out of doors. The popular notion upon this subject is a mere of Austria, Italy, and Holland are to be redelusion. You are not strengthened for out- called in order to aid in the general reducdoor work by shivering indoors, but rather constitutional strength. A chilly man She agreed, and suggested the use of lauda- might as well refuse blankets in bed because num, of which she had a bottle. They di- they would increase his sense of cold when land, and Germany, the Italian wines being vided the drug into two equal parts, and he got up, as refuse warm clothing indoors so imperfectly made as to be spoiled by sea. swallowed it. The man died, but the dose because out of doors he would not be sensi- travel. proved insufficient to kill the woman, and ble of a pleasant difference; but to be and wouldn't have any, for many differ- which he was trying to sell for ten cents.

where new their necks with the broom. She don't like fully say: "I haven't saw," you may be noon of the day on which the party was to the Princess of Wales at Sandringham, and they must ences of temperature is the true end to be foolish, and they must ences of the party was to the Princess of Wales at Sandringham, and are supposed to be foolish, and they must ences of temperature is the true end to be foolish, and they must ences of the party was to the Princess of Wales at Sandringham, and are supposed to be foolish, and they must ences of temperature is the true end to be foolish.

"WISHAPPYNUYR."

ICE-DEALERS are happy over a solid Man wants but little here below, and he

BERNHARDT in Boston learned to say ze porks and bean !"

It is a difficult thing for a dog without a tail to show his master how much he thinks

Bro feet may be laughed at all the rest of the year, but their stockings hold most at

"TIERS, tiers, idle tiers," as the actor said when he saw the rows of empty benches

A NEVADA critic, speaking of a harpist, said: "We never before knew there was so much music in a gridiron."

A FRENCHMAN saw a negro smoking a new meerschaum, "Thunder!" he exclaimed, "why the pipe's colouring him."

Or a miserly man somebody wrote: "His head gave way, but his hand never did. His brain softened, but his heart couldn't."

Ir an untruth is only a day old it is called

A LITTLE boy in Georgia, who wrote to

"WHAT plan," said one actor to another, "shall I adopt to fill the house at my bene-

A STEAMBOAT captain, in advertising for an excursion, closes thus: Tickets twentyfive cents, children half price, to be had at the captain's office.

"EMPTY is the cradle, Baby's gone," is the title of the latest serio-idiotic song. It

MILTON was asked if he intended to instruct his daughter in the different languages; to which he replied; "No. sir! one tongue is sufficient for a woman!"

WHAT a merry sound the scrape of the snow-shovel has upon the morning air. "There is one incident of my railroad Especially if you are snug in bed, and

ONE Ella Wheeler has written a new poem cloudy weather of late gives them no chance LIEUTENANT-COMMANDER Gorringe says "the bridge," tell more of what is going on of her husband and child, and wept in the many years, I awake in the night with the the obelisk will endure in our climate for

> An Iowa editor thus acknowledges a present of grapes: "We have received a basket of fine grapes from our friend W., for which he will accept thanks, some of which are nearly two inches in diameter."

LANDLADY—" Lor' a mussy, Mr. Brown, what's the matter, sir?" Madder Brown

(with lively demonstrations of delight)-'Glorious news! I'm going to be hung at land travellers do who are acquainted with last! Hooray!" But he only meant his each other, and feel congenial. All at once picture was going to be hung at the Acade-"ARE you a good rider?" asked a livery man. "I am," replied the customer, and just then the horse snorted, stood on his

> A PROFESSOR asked his class; "What is the aurora?" A student, hesitating replied: "Professor I did know, but I have forgotten." "That is sad, very sad," rejoined the professor; "the only man in the TENNYSON'S sigh for a "Touch of the vanished hand" prompts a youthful critic, evidently smarting under a sense of personal injury, to remark that if Tennyson had reference to his mother's hand its touch must have been different from that of most mo-Mr. Trueman H. Bartlett, the sculptor. when about to visit New York, some time since, received a letter from his friend X., a resident of that city, in which the latter mentioned, with much admiration, a fine bust of Miss Maggie Mitchell, then upon exhibition there. When Mr. Bartlett reached Gotham, X. took him to see the bust in question, expressing his enthusiasm with much warmth. "There," he said, placing the sculptor before it, "how do you" like that? Isn't that fine, eh? I tell you that's stunning. Why in the world, Bart-Something pleasing. That's a capital answered, coolly; "I thought it was fair when I made lt.

Burdett-Coutts' Flower-Girl.

The Baroness Burdett-Coutts, says the St. James Gazette, opened at the Holborn townhall, yesterday afternoon, an exhibition confitting buff gloves. These he put on care. I didn't explain it to them. I was too much sisting of a large variety of natural and artificial flowers and plants in connection with "I never felt my own inferiority so much | this brigade. In opening the exhibition the Baroness Burdett-Coutts stated that the ized what a mere speck man is upon the object of their gathering was to promote the interests of a large, industrious, and hard-"When I surveyed the starry vault of working class of the population, and to endeavour to place street flower-girls in posigle between Buddon and Sirangoon came where, beyond the stretching on and on for tions of, she would not say respectability, because she believed the larger number of Batta, upon the roof of which the skin of an around which solar systems are revolving in the persons employed in distributing and enormous boa or python was spread out. their regular orbits, each little world peopl. selling flowers were in the main an extremely The hut was occupied by a Malay and his ed perhaps with its teeming millions of respectable and industrious class. Still, they all knew that life in the streets was not very desirable for the young, and as in England week previous the Malay was lawakened by these systems till the mind is dazed and it was their characteristic that everybody who had an opportunity and means of advancdarkness that she had been attacked by I compared all this universal magnificence, ing in life should do so, it had been the aim this brilliant aggregation of worlds and sys. and object of the association that the chilgroped his way to her sleeping place, where tems of worlds, with one poor, grovelling dren should be enabled to make their way his hand fell upon a slimy reptile. It was worm of the dust, only a little insignificent in the world. As far as the present effort had advanced it had been a successful and certainly a very interesting one to those who had been connected with it. She earnestly gathering gloom and patiently waiting for recommended the effort to those present, and whither the upper part of her body was the planet Venus to pass on the main track, hoped that for the ensuing Christmas some of the many pretty objects which were picture that has overshadowed my whole exhibited to show what the association had achieved would be purchased, and thus afford encouragement not only to those who "Sometimes Antifat and myself meet at had promoted the undertaking, but to those some liquid restaurant and silently take employed in it. Of course in the summer it something in memory of our great sorrow, was easy to obtain flowers, but in winter it but never mention it. We never tear open was difficult sometimes to provide the young than he attacked the husband, whom he the old rankling wound or laugh over the girls whose charge they had undertaken with employment; but it had been suggested to them that their knowledge of flowers would nable them to make good artificial florists, and she thought those who looked round the room would find they had not made a mistake in that respect. She concluded by asking those present to induce their friends to visit the hall during the next two days.

THE Government of Japan is making stremuous efforts to economize, and in pursuance of this policy has ordered the sale to private individuals of factories which were formerly established by it to stimulate native industries. The various public departments have also been instructed to reduce their expenses, and guards heretofore attending Privy and other measures which are in progress a saving of about $10,000,000 annually is to the redemption of paper currency. It is also stated in native papers that the Ministers wine as it imported; both the exports and imports were to and from France, Switzer-A MAN was arrested in New York the

ITALY exported last year twice as much remain moderately and healthfully warm- other day, with a coffin under his arm, A word to the wise is sufficent. Sinners to be insensible, in fact, to ordinary differ- which he was trying to sell for ten cents.