The lace straw bonnets are open-worked and require a colored lining.

Strong contrasts of color are observable in most of the new satin costumes.

Steel is much used in decorating laces, passementeries, gauges, and trimmings. A dash of yellow, blue, or red is deemed essential to the finish of all dark toilets. Ombre satins de Lyon grow more and more popular for both dresses and bonnets. Shirred effects in skirt draperies appear on the most fashionable imported dresses.
