will be married on the 10th. A SPECIAL delegation to St. Petersburg to attend the crowning of Alexander III., with a cardinal at its head, is to be sent by the Pope.

THE Empress of Austria recently sent to a reporter a dressing-case embossed in silver, as a mark of her pleasure at his account of some of her exploits in the field.

WE may thank the Princess of Wales for the becoming style of high collars and ruffs, as some one has said that the face loses in charm for every inch of neck displayed. The Marquis Tseng, Chinese Minister to France, carries his sleeping arrangements with him wherever he goes, being forbidden by etiquette and custom from sleeping on heds used by outer barbarians.

TEN Years ago Louis of Bavaria was hand some enough to answer for a model of a young god; tall and graceful, with brown hair curling on his forehead, with dark blue eyes full of fire and poetry. He is still thought to be the handsomest King in Europe.

On one occasion, when Mr. Cyrus Field was crossing the Atlantic, and asked that a certain sermon might be read on Sunday by his brother who was along, Captain - refused permission, remarking, "I'll have you to understand, sir, that on board this ship I represent the Church of England, d---d if I don't.

SILESIA sent to Prince William and his bride a necklace of very large diamonds of the purest water. The casket containing them was made from an oak in the palace garden at Dolzig, where the Princess was born, and the inner drawers from the wood of a table on which the new-born babe was first put into her swaddling-clothes.

A PEASANT named Kominaroff, who prevented the first attempt to murder the Czar, and who was afterward enriched and enobled has become melancholy mad, and finds his LIN only pleasure watching his successor lighting the lamps at one of the railway stations, By the Author of "HIDDEN QUICKSANDS, where he usually passes his days, sometimes assisting his old comrades in their work.

THE Duke of Aosta's trip to the wedding at Berlin, as representative of his brother, the King of Italy, cost him the modest sum of one hundred thousand dollars; he having been furnished in advance with a table of fees to be given to each servant at Berlin, and as good as dead, they will not annoy us That is why I brought the rope. It will be down to the porter of the castle, whose again. share was a pin worth one hundred and fifty

The American Florence Nightingale, Miss Clara Barton, is a plain, sweet-faced elderly lady, who dresses in rich but quiet taste, and wears at her throat an enamelled pin bearing the law. the scarlet device of the Society of the Geneva Cross, of which order she was an active member during the Franco-Prussian war. As the adviser of the Grand Duchess Marie of Baden, she did much toward establishing the system of hospitals instituted by that

THE first love of Alexander III. of Russia was a beautiful maid of honor, the Princess Metcherska, daughter of a noble poet. The royal lover said he wauld marry nobody else, thought. and they were called "Beauty and the Beast;" but the cruel parents sent the Grand Duke to St. Petersburg with his regiment, and married the Princess to Prince Paul Demidoff, she believing that her sweetheart had forgotten her, and dying within a year at and the tutor. The card-table was drawn Vienna.

estate with an income of more than a million a crash of glass; for a shot, striking the pier- then turned away with a shudder. a year, ten thousand pounds going to each glass, had shivered it. of more than a hundred per cent., have the shutters. England -a circumstance throwing light on approached Glorvina. Miss Thackeray's little story of "Fina's ! Aunt," lately published in the Bazar.

At dinner parties in Japan it is common to have five courses of soups.

A FASHION correspondent speaks of "a novel night robe." It is called "novel," we suppose, because there is so much tale about was asked how she had ever brought him to will not hide! Let the ladies do so by all such perfection, whereupon she sweetly an- means; but we must try a few shots with the he said. "And adieu !" swered that she did it chiefly with a croquet rebels.

gara Falls, that such a fact may be necessary are all the doors and windows secured?"

THE Bayadere poke bonnet is in favor. Pronounced "Buy-a-dear poke bonnet." When spoken with proper effect the old man rarely fails to come down with the cash.

A Scotch minister once said no woman could bear pain as well as man. This is not his waist squeezed so he can hardly breathe up-stairs.' for three hours of an evening and not mur-

Help in Winnipeg.

Domestic help is so scarce in Winnipeg that the girls there are making all sorts of demands - $15 a month, championship of the family, and the use of the piano. In answer to an advertisement, one of them wrote as "I understand housework pretty well, except to wash and iron. I get the hiest wages going, and stays a long time in a plase; if you want me to go please state the waiges and how many of a family you have, and if you let the hirep girl eat with the family. etc., etc. Let me know the full particuapplicant for a place in a family in this city. where she was offered three dollars a week. assisted by two house servants and a woman to do the washing: "You must think

BORN IN A CARAVAN. -At the close of last February died James Bishop, aged 83, from injuries received from burning, caused by an accident in his own caravan, which had been occupied by him without intermission for the last 35 years. He is supposed to have been the oldest showman in England, having started, at the age of 20, as a bandsman to an exhibition of giants, dwarfs, and fat girls. He then became a prrtner with Atkinson and Gillman, proprietors of a menagerie that rivaled that of Wombwell. He was afterward proprietor of a performing seal, a Punch and Judy, and a fine art exhibition. I make a note of James Bishop to place on record the circumstances that, during the time he and his wife lived in their caravan, she gave birth to 18 sons and 2 daughters, all of whom were reared in the caravan, and were educated by their father in the three R's and brought up to various trades or to the musical profession. One of his daughters became the mother of Miss Selina Young, "the Female Blondin, who walked on a tight-rope across the Thames The second daughter married a showman named Wortbehoek, and was mother to 24 children, all of whom were born and reared in a caravan .- Notes and Querses.

Tux fool buyeth an umbrella, but the prudent man knoweth a trick worth two of tenelon Salls Gazette.

VOL. IX.

FENELON FALLS, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, MAY 14, 1881.

NO. 10.

The Sister Months.

When April steps aside for May, Like diamonds all the rain-drops glisten: Fresh violets open every day; To some new bird each hour we listen.

The children with the streamlets sing. When April stops at last her weeping;
And every happy growing thing
Laughs like a babe just roused from sleeping

Yet April waters, year by year, For laggard May her thirsty flowers; And May, in gold of sunbeams clear, Pays April for her silvery showers.

All flowers of spring are not May's own ; The crocus can not often kiss her; The snow-drop, ere she comes, has flown: The earliest violets always miss her.

Nor does May claim the whole of spring; She leaves to April blossoms tender, That closely to the warm turf cling, Or swing from tree-boughs, high and slender

And May-flowers bloom before May comes To cheer, a little, April's sadness; The peach-bud glows, the wild bee hums, And wind-flowers wave in graceful gladness. They are two sisters, side by side

Sharing the changes of the weather, Playing at pretty seek-and-hide-So far apart, so close together! April and May one moment meet,— But farewell sighs their greetings smother :

And breezes tell, and birds repeat, How May and April love each other. Lucy Larcom, in St. Nicholas

THE MIDST OF PERIL

"A RELENTLESS FOE," "MAGGIE O'CONNER'S FORTUNES," &c.

CHAPTER X .- CONTINUED.

There was a good deal of gloom hanging strips of tapestry to it and tie it to the bedover the family the next day; it was Dan post. O'Rourke's death-day, and there are few who if "It does seem in truth our only chance, would not be affected at, even involuntarily, replied Coghlan; and, turning back to his causing a man to suffer the last penalty of family, he announced the tutor's plan and in to dinner, and cheered them by his even | prise myself; but one of us must go. Murphy unusually boisterous spirits. So wild at I fear you are too old, my faithful fellow "times did his glee appear during the meal, as the old man stepped forward to offer his that Glorvina more than once looked at him services, though with a pale face. with a fear that he had been drinking.

After dinner however, when he joined them | master chanced to glance at him. in the drawing-room, his exuberant gaiety seemed to have deserted him. He sat quiet, man, with chattering teeth. answering occasionally at random, and some-

at a small table near the fire; the children | will do it for her you love.' were playing on the hearthrug with a puzzle But Tim O'Brien stood as pale as death their father had brought them. Mr. Coghlan and as silent. Glorvina, by a sudden improposed a game of whist with his wife, Tim, pulse, came to his side. forward, and they had just taken their seats | she murmured. "Do this for me !" THE Marquis of Westminister left an at it, when there was the report of a gun and He went to the window and looked down;

of his daughters, and the remainder to his There was a loud cry from the startled obscurity," he said; "yet-yes, there is son, now the Duke of Westminster. Old women. The tutor, springing up, rushed to something white at the bottom of the wall." into the sty, she soon discovered the woundleases falling in, and renewed at an advanue | the window and instantly closed and barred | And he turned away sullenly.

wished to settle in London; but with the must have gone through his head. The can be found?" the Duke gave his sister another ten thou- crying, and Eva clasped her arms round her you for the offer. sand pounds to keep her husband out of father's neck. The tutor turned back and Desmond," he said, "and secure yourselves; has scissors." I will ring the alarm;" and he snatched up a candle from the table and left the room. servants, already alarmed by the report of now!" the gun, thronged in, looking pale and

NEW, and truly sincere, form of invitation: scared, while Glorvina whispered a few brief cared he for Whiteboys or high walls it he "Mr. and Mrs.— request favor of your presents at the wedding of their daughter."

A passion of the truth occurred to her. It is a few brief cared he for Whiteboys or high walls it he pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he answered. The buoys have returned and found him! he answered in men and material, are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he answered in men and material, are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he answered in men and material, are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he answered in men and material, are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he answered in men and material, are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he answered in men and material, are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he answered in men and material, are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he answered in men and material, are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he answered in men and material, are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he answered in men and material, are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he answered in men and material, are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him! he are almost as powerless pleased her?

The buoys have returned and found him to the wind here.

A LADY who owns an amicable husband "But surely," exclaimed Tim, "we men

"My good fellow," replied Coghlan, "I so well, he seized the rope and swung him-THE Oneida community at Niagara Falls is neither wish to kill nor be killed. A man's self off. going to build a spoon factory. There is so blood is a heavy weight on the soul. Lead much 'spooning' by bridal couples at Nia- Mrs. Coghlan to the north rooms. Murphy, up, she saw Tim, with an evil look on his at dusk every night." "Yet the shutters of that window" pointing to it-" are not closed.

hands," declared the man. "Oh, never mind, don't dispute about it !" to do so better. Where the man who can stand having cried Glorvina impatiently. "Make haste sound as from a feeble stroke. Surprised, horror-stricken. The poor brave fellow! he renewed his effort with greater force. The Well, he has done his best, and we must do rope yielded to his hand this time, and came ours! Eva, Lily "-turning to his weeping candle, and perceived that it had been cut | wakes !" through, except one strand, which was frayed and torn by the recent pull. The strand left had sufficed to support the rope This is almost equal to the remark of an were betrayed! No call for help could be boy, whose garb revealed him even in the given. The tutor, with a sigh of discourage- darkness of a thick misty night. Happily ment gathered up the rope.

The rope from it hung in an empty room upon a Whiteboy !" should alarm the neighbourhood.

head of the stairs, paused.

wards his family.

Glorvina, with a lingering glance, obeyed. into the first of the north rooms.

Glorvina caught his arm.

comes!" she exclaimed. "But listen to the noise below, at the front door," remonstrated Tim. "We dare not then knocked me down!" wait. It might peril the whole family. "At all risks it must be left," she ordered Rock himself-"pursue him if you love your sternly; "yet no; take the others on to the lives, or he will bring the soldiers on us!" last room and secure them, I will wait here Then, sure that the fugitive full and admit my guardian and Mr. Surridge.'

"I will not leave you, Glorvina! he exclaimed. "Do you not know that I would die for you? They shall walk over my dead body before they reach you." "But I am in no danger yet," she said. "Are you not! Listen, then !"

And Glorvina did in fact hear the sound doors and shutters.

yourself in at once !" out paps," cried both the other ladics.

the alarm ring? Why did they not come? a huge pig-sty. And now the steps were Ah, soon the Whiteboys would intercept nearer and the voices audible from the hall." fasten every door after us."

And thus in silence and haste they bolted, in sight. barred, and barricaded the doors one after another, till the last chamber was reached. Then Murphy placed the candles on the table, and Mrs. Coghlan sank into a chair. "But, uncle," exclaimed Glorvina, "why did you not ring the alarm to call the sol diers?" "The rope was cut, my darling," he answered-"severed all but a strand, which the first pull separated. Some traitor's work! Look, Surridge has it on his arm, I suppose to keep for evidence on a future day had got into the yard." -if we ever see one," he added.

For the noises from below, of shouts, yells, and a girl's head appeared. and blows on doors, reached them even there. Then the tutor drew Mr. Coghlan aside. "We are safe here," he said in a low tone, only till these men batter in the doors. It has got away from us. Is he in the yard, will take them some time; but they may use 'think ye?" fire; and ultimately they must succeed, for they are many and have stout arms and axes. plied. Some one must descend from this window and run to the barracks.'

"But the height above the ground is awful through the moat being there; and they will have sentinels outside, you may be sure." "The threats," he said, "were made to "No matter; it must be risked, It is the save O'Rourke ; but, now that he is sentenced only chance to save the ladies and children.

nearly the length. We can add some torn its necessity. "Unfortunately I am lame," They were all glad when Tim O'Brien came he added, "or I would undertake the enter-

> The footman shrank back trembling as his "They would cut us to pieces," said the

"I never thought of you," exclaimed the times appearing to be listening, Glorvina Squire contemptuously; "there are gentle-thought. Tim O'Brien, I ask you for The girls had seated themselves at work this service without hesitation, because you

"You have said you would die for me,

"I cannot see the bottom distinctly in this "I had hoped," broke forth the soft doubled this vast rent-roll. One of the sis- Happily no one was hurt, though, had Fot diffident voice of the tutor, "that you would ters married in Cannes, in the South of Mr. Coghlan happened at that moment to do me the honour of asking me, Mr. Coghlan. France, an accomplished physician, who have bent forward over the table, the shot Will you permit me to go, since no one better English contempt for physicians in general, family looked at each other in stunned alarm. "My dear fellow," said the Squire, pressand the Duke of Westminster in particular, Then little Norah burst into a violent fit of | ing his hand, "rather say how can I thank

> "We must be quick," declared the tutor; and he tore down some of the old tapestry; "Take them all to the north rooms, Miss | "the ladies can help us with this, if any one Glorvina was by his side in a moment. "Here is a pair," she said. "Oh, forgive

> Mrs. Coghlan rang the bell violently. The me that I did not estimate you rightly till He answered her by a happy smile. What

NEW, and truly sincere, form of invitation: scared, while Glorvina whispered a few brief | cared he for Whiteboys or high walls if he

"Where-what?" asked O'Brien eagerly. securely to it; and it was time, for now the "Into hiding," said his host drily. "Be ruffians had tracked them to their shelter, so good as to take care of my wife, and lead and were already assailing the first door with awful vells and execrations. The tutor stepped upon the window-sill.

"Pull up the rope when you feel it free, Then, with that gentle smile they knew Glorvina breathed deeply; then, looking face, approach the post to which the rope "Yes, sorr," replied the trembling servant. | was attached, and which now creaked as it "Mr. Surridge sees them all fastened himself | was drawn by the descent of the tutor. She sprang forward in a moment and laid her trusted. Tory, Conservative, Liberal, or Ra- terity," said he, "talking bad grammar." hand on the knot. He marked the gesture dical, all are alike when the law gives them, The Times relates one or two other sayings and turned away, angry and discomfited. "But, sorr, I fastened them with my own Mr. Coghlan had been helping the men to them, unlimited powers as traders. The so- illness, one of which corrects a popular mis-intense and anxious pause, "The rope flies earn an evil reputation as the Champion in a library. My father was not rich when Teddy's reach, lest in a fit of mischief he into Tim O'Brien's arms, which caught her ment. as she staggered.

The tutor uncoiled it and pulled it with "Put her on the bed, O'Brien," said Coghclattering to his feet. Greatly surprised and wife and daughter-"see to Glory. But,

CHAPTER XI.

It was as they had guessed. The tutor until a strong pull brought it down. They had come down upon the head of a Whitefor Surridge, the blow knocked the man Meanwhile, Mr. Coghlan, arrived at the down; but he sprang instantly to his feet, and, with an imprecation and a shout, rushed pretty cheap of a woman that would take "I wonder we don't hear the bell," he at the breathless clergyman. But the tutor said. "Perhaps Surridge can't find the rope; parried with great dexterity a blow from a I will go after him. Glory, dear, take them | knife, though in doing so he had his left arm to your hiding-place "-waving his hand to- cut open from the top to the bottom, and in return levelled his assailant by a well-planted blow which fell-accidentally-between his Her guardian turned away, and they hurried eyes and stunned him. Then, fearful that the stage-coach interest railways would nevthe man's shout would in an instant bring er have been built, or if built, would have "Well secured, I see," said Tim; and, his fellows, the tutor fled with his greatest taking the bar of the first door in his hand, speed towards the meadows. He was right; he was about to put it in the staples; but he was still in sight when those who had heard their sentinel's cry came to the spot, "Not till they-not till my guardian and the fellow, reviving, pointed to the

"He fell on my head," he gasped, "an "Pursue him !" cried the voice of Captain caught, he turned back to the house. "We have no time to lose," he muttered 'I would smoke them out, only the fire would be seen by the soldiers and betray us." Three of the Whiteboys, all swift of foot, had started in pursuit of the flying tutor. He had had the start by three or four ing fearfully from his wound. He began to Glorvina sighed helplessly. Why did not He came right up against it, and found it was The Official Statement of the Czar's Assination-The Two Bombs.

them between the north and south corridors! "I will not be butchered," he murmured, Procureur Mouravieff is directed against Nich- crime short of locking up the sovereign in a a good fortune-teller if he could tell the Her nerves were strung to a pitch of tension leaping over the fence of the sty with the olas Ivanoff Reesakoff, 19 workman; Nicholas | well-guarded prison. The bowling has per- future as well as he can the passed. which made it an effort to resist screaming, last effort of his strength, and creeping into Andrew Ivanoff Sheliaboff, 30, peasant; Sop- manently beaten the batting. Modern science when, just as a crash announced that the it. A monstrous sow and her little ones, his Loofa Peroffskaya, 27, gentlewoman; Gab- has applied itself to the work of destruction, most powerful engines do not last more than hall door was forced, Mr. Coghlan and Mr. disturbed by his entrance, grunted and riel Timothy Michaeloff, 21, peasant, and and there is no longer any possibility of pro- thirty years because they're always smok-Surridge came. She dragged her guardian moved in their sleep. The tutor crept under Hesse Miroff Helfmann, 26, ouvriere. After tecting a life for which a resolute enemy is ing. in with one hand, the other extended to the her huge side, pulled the straw litter over briefly stating the nature of the crime of willing to give his own. The use of the tutor. They were in and the bar was up, him, and fainted. just as rough voices and a yell of rage rose Meanwhile the pursuers, keeping the assassination of the Emperor Alexander II., the contact; and what with guards, rapid drivstraight path, which was well known to act goes on to relate the circumstances in ing, and incessant watchfulness, contact "Let us proceed without delay," said the them, passed the sty without a thought of which it took place, as verified by official in- between a sovereign and an enemy can be clergyman in his calm quiet tones, "and the shelter it afforded their destined victim, and paused only when the barracks loomed

"And the sodgers will be upon us in no time!" cried another. "Hark! What's that sound ?"

And, turning, they all three fled back at their best speed. "There is the farm," said one; "can he have gone in there?" "Pooh! Nancy wouldn't harbour him, and the dog would have given notice if he

As he spoke, a lattice near them opened "What is it, buoys?" asked a low voice. "We are afther the heretic parson, Kathleen. He's gone to rouse the sodgers, and

"The dog wouldn't let him in," she re-"Oh, but the dog knows him! Here. come and open the gate; we'd best look for

"Ay," she said, "I'll be out in a minute. hushing the great mastiff that guarded the there was no sign of human being. The girl pig-sties one of them said-'Can he be in there?" "Faith, no, Terence," replied the girl. The ould sow would soon let ye know it ie was."

"Good night then, mayourneen," said the "He's reached the barracks, and we nust be off at once and get away." . "Good night," returned the girl; and, as they ran off at full speed, she muttered, And it's glad I am ye never found him. Ye shouldn't have harmed him though, if ye a deep groan startled her. "Holy Virgin save us!" she cried, crossing herself. "What's that?" And then, with a sudden suspicion, sh hastened inte the house, got a lantern, and went back to the sty, stirring up the great sow, who, moving and lying on the tutor's wounded arm, had brought back his senses by the pain. Underneath her on the straw his eyes, recognised her, and murmured-"Kathleen, save me!"

"And it's save ye I will, poor darlint! said the warm-hearted drudge; and, crawling ed arm, tore her petticoat in strips, and bound it up deftly. "Now," she said, "crawl out if you can;" and, with her assistance, he did so. But was very weak. "Sit ve still on the straw," she said kindly, "and ye still on the straw," she said kindly, "and hael, who came dashing up, laid him on the power of keeping their own secrets. Any I'll bring ye a drop of whiskey. That'll sledge of Col. Dvorjitsky, Lieutenant Count student of chemistry can make gun-cotton soon set ye up; and I'll hide ye till daylight. She placed him on a heap of straw, and, scarcely listening to his feeble thanks, hurried off to the house, never thinking that he could move alone, or she would not have left him. But she was scarcely out of sight when, with a mighty effort, he raised himself and went staggering on to the barracks. The whiskey had to be taken from a cupboard, the key of which was, happily, lost, and Kathleen was some time finding it. When she returned with the glass of the "craythur," as she called it, her patient was was chosen because the carriage was serious- in men and material, are almost as powerless but I'll smoke it, anyhow," responded the Kathleen is for you!" And, with a heavy heart, the girl went back to the house. Thus unmolested, the tutor-to whom even the girl would now have been a formidable foe-staggered on to the barrack gate and gave the alarm. His message was barely told before he fell again insensible at the sentry's feet.

(TO BE CONTINUED.) The Telegraph Monopoly,

Pogis and no further. The cock-a-doodle-do to posterity on the canvas of the great porpolicy in one department of Government ne- trait painter of the day. cessitated a money-grabbing policy in another. If this Government, that Government, or any Government had bought the water companies, half of the kingdom would have been dying of thirst; and if they had bought bors. been allowed no further than Hampstead or Camberwell.

Burned by Molton Stoel. Pall Mail Case tte

While about 30 men were engaged yesterday at the Don Works, Sheffield, in propelling an iron tram waggon, containing molten steel, some gratings gave way, which caused the ladle to tip, and about 25 hundred-weight of the molten metal splashed out. The shop was instantly ignited up with a huge flame, followed by a cloud of steam and dust which effectually hid the men from each other. As the high tide of summer work. it cleared away, two men were seen running away with their clothes in flames. Those married for worse as well as for better. who were uninjured ran after them, and succeeded in putting out the flames by wrapping their own clothes round them. The men were then horrified to find that a minutes, but he did not know the path so laborer named George Lewis was standing of heavy blows at several places on both well as they did, and, besides, he was bleed- inside of the molten metal on the ground surrounded by fire, with his clothes in "Oh, hasten, dearest auntie!" she cried in feel faint and exhausted, and could already flames and his flesh burning from his back, agony. "Go to the last room and fasten hear their approaching footsteps. Happily limbs, and face. When the metal had coolfor him the night was cloudy and misty. ed a little, two workmen succeeded in res-"Not without my husband"—" Not with- Just as he felt that the race was nearly over, enting him, but he was so terribly injured something dark seemed to obstruct his path. that he died soon after being released-

The act of accusation drawn up by the method of preventing-a repetition of such as ran up, together with several others. Some He will only kill himself, and so baffle inquiry thanks, my child," she said; "you may tell one gave a handkerchief. The Emperor put into his motives and resources. Nor is it it to his face, saying, with a faint voice, "It possible to confine the use of explosives to is cold-cold." Then those around him took | known persons. Laws to that effect only drive up the sufferer, who was already losing con- the criminals to learn chemistry for themciousness, and, assisted by Grand Duke Mic- selves-that is, invest them with a new Hendrikoff placing his own forage cap on the or nitro-glycerine, and powder is an article Emperor's head. The Grand Duke Michael, which must be manufactured, and, if manuleaning over his brother asked him if he could factured, can be stolen. Granted a few him he had upset a glass of water, wrenched hear. The Emperor replied quietly, "I resolute conspirators, with one man of educahear." To further questions how he felt he tion among them, and some little command into a lady's lap, and nearly jabbed a man's only answered, "Quicker-to the palace," of money, and no conceivable laws, or rules eye out, and it wasn't a tough bird either. and then, as if in answer to the proposal of of Police, or detective arrangements, can A NEWSBOY went into a cigar store on Gal-Staff Capt. Franks to carry him into the near- prevent their making and carrying and veston avenue and asked for a five-cent est house to procure help, the Emperor said, throwing bombs, which are as dangerous to eigar, upon receiving which he bit off the

The Emperor died at 3:35. Of his person al following, nine were wounded, more or less seriously, of whom one has since died; and of the police and others eleven were saucer, a delicate plate and a small goblet, wounded, two, including the boy before mentioned, succumbing within a few hours.

Beaconsfield.

Beaconsfield occupied himself during a part of his illness with correcting his last speech. The telegraph monopoly, popularly known | delivered in the house of lords on the vote as the Post-office, is proving, if any proof of condolence on the occasion of the czar's were needed, that no Government can be assassination. "I will not go down to posor leads them to believe that it has given of the distinguished earl during his last steady the rope, leaning out of the window called post-office having made a bad and im- apprehension. Lord Barrington asked him provident bargain with the Telegraph Com- one day where he was born. "I was born "He is down!" he exclaimed, after that panies, is determined to burk invention and in the Adelphi," he replied, "and I may say loose! But, hark! An imprecation-a of everlasting stagnation. The impertinent he married. He took a suite of apartments which was opposite to the bachelors' turret. blow! Good Heaven, he has come down inventors of the telephone have been made in the Adelphi, and, as he possessed a large aware of this in a court of law, and are now collection of books, all the rooms were opening upon the south corridor, where the There was a wild passionate cry in the made even more bitterly aware of it in their covered with them, including that in which family slept; but it was hooked up out of room, and the next moment Glorvina fell subsequent negotiations with the Govern- I was born." Another remark of his was In the first place, they are told they must, rather live, but I am not afraid of death. I be taxed, and this is a communication they have suffered so much that were I a Nihilist be 12 to 12 to 15 to all his strength; there came only a faint lan in a broken voice. "No wonder she is can hardly be astonished at. Nearly every I should confess everything." This was a living thing in this country is taxed except humorous allusion to them is taken but prevavermin-the child in the cradle, the dying lent idea that the nihilists were subjected to man in his bed. The only thing practically torture after arrest. Lord Rowton is left exempt is the corpse in its coffin. However by Lord Beaconsfield sole trustee of all his dismayed, he held the fallen end to the perhaps, it will be better for her if she never sluggish the Government may be, the tax private papers, with full powers to do what gatherer is superhumanly active. A Govern- he thinks right with them. Several times ment that once taxed the light of heaven can in the course of his illness Lord Beaconsfield see no injustice in taxing a telephone wire. referred to certain memoranda which he had, In the second place, the impertinent inven- but these have not yet been found. He tors are told that their radius must be limit- was very anxious about the completion of ache or extreme fatigue, but can take the his portrait by Millias. His great political beverage provided without a change of Because the Government wasted ten mil- opponents, Bright and Gladstone, had been lions of public money in 1866, the Telephone painted by Millias, and he thought it Company may carry their wires to Stoke- was no vanity that he, too, ought to go down

Married People Would be Happier. If home trials were never told to neigh-quarrel.

If they tried to be as agreeable as courtship days. If each would try to be a support and comfort to the other, If each remembered that the other was human being, not an angel.

as they were to their lovers. If men were as thoughtful for their wives

"When yesterday I asked you, love, one us: so please say yes-ter-day.

as they were for their sweethearts.

Precautions Against Assassination.

There is, so far as we can see, no possible which the prisoners are accused, namely, the knife can be prevented, for it presupposes quiry. As this is the first exact account of an | rendered nearly, if net quite, impossible. event which excited such deep and universal The sovereign can be armed, too, and can feeling, it will be as well to summarize it, at make as good a fight for his life against the steak for breakfast?" Bless you, lots of 'em "He has got there!" gasped the foremost the risk of repeating what has been said al- dagger as any other soldier. Even the use do. Cowhide is the favorite substitute. of the rifle can be prevented, partly by Shortly after two c'clock on March 1-13 armor, partly by mailed carriages, and partly furiously). Hall porter (chuckling to mesthe Emperor left the Michael Palace in his by the constant interposition of attendants carriage, accompanied by the usual escort, between the sovereign and any point from ring; they like it. They ain't allowed to ring and, passing down Engineer street, turned to which he could be threatened. It used to be no bells at home. the right, along the bank of the Catherine said of Napoleon, as he drove up the Champs Canal. Behind, in a sledge, came Col. Dvor- Elysees, that it was impossible to "cover" jitsky, police master, and behind him again him with a stick, and that was very nearly, Capt. Koch and Major Koolibiakin. The though not literally, true. No man along as the plumber didn't dare to come back for carriage had gone only fifty fathoms from the could have drawn a pistol without his pay.

I his pay.

AND so sion took place beneath the carriage. Jump- though he does not care whether he kills the ing from his sledge, and seeing that by the innocent or not, does exceedingly care not Ya-as, awful lot. She-And have you ever canal railings some soldiers were holding a to miss his aim. But neither these precauman, Dvorjitsky rushed to the Imperial car- tions, nor any other, are of avail against one know? He-Nevah. riage, opened the door, and informed his or two men throwing in succession bombs "NEVER milk while the cow is eating," is Majesty, who stepped out unhurt, that the powerful enough to blow up a carriage or the advice of a bucolic contemporary. Judgassassin was caught. By order of the Em- shatter a crowd. There are always points at ing from the character of much of the milk peror the witness accompanied him to the which a cavalcade really enters a pass, or ap- that comes to market, it would be more to spot where the man Reesakoff was held amid proaches some foreseen angle, and assassins the point never to milk while the cow is gathering crowd of people. Lieut. Rudi- stationed at the side have only, as it were, drinking. koff, not recognizing the Emperor at once, to pitch a cricket-ball tolerably straight, to exclaimed: "How is his Majesty?" to which change the succession to a throne. If the vot you please bout pad neighbors; I have And she soon appeared and let them in, the Emperor, standing ten paces from Reesa- murderer knows how to measure distance, had the vorst neighbors as never vas. Mine koff, and glancing around, said: "Thank God, the speed of the carriage is useless, the iron pigs and mine hens come home mit der ears farm. They searched cowhouse and loft; but I am unhurt—but see!" pointing to a wound- plates give way, the guards are destroyed split, and todder day two of dem come home ed Cossack lying near the carriage; and then like him they guard, and the sovereign is missing." let them out and walked a little way with to a boy crying with pain. Reesakoff, hear, slain as he would be slain if a shell reached them down the lane. As they passed the the words of the Emporer, said: "Is it him in the midst of armies. Of course, if by thanks to God yet?" Meantime, Dvorjitsky any chance he leaves the carriage, the chances took from the soldiers a revolver and knife are increased by his immobility. The only found in the prisoner's pockets. The Emper- conditions required are that the assassins or stepping up to Reesakoff, asked if he in- shall be careless of escape, that they shall deed had fired, and receiving a reply in the have bombs, and that they shall just have affirmative, demanded his name and occupa- nerve enough at the moment to pitch straight; tion. The prisoner answered: "Glazoff, and none of these conditions can be absolutely prevented. True courage is hardly re-As the Emperor turned and stepped a few quired, only a kind of resignation, very compaces towards the spot where the explosion mon in some races, especially among women. took place, keeping to the railings of the Few of the assassins of recent days have canal, a second explosion occurred behind cared to escape. Hodel made no effort, nor him close to his feet. For a few seconds a did Solovieff, nor, till her acquittal, Vera asked an Irishman of a man who happened' As the girl passed the sty on her way back, cloud of smoke, powdered snow, fragments of Sassulitsch, nor is there any method of shak- to be passing with a remarkably short pair of cloth, &c., hid everything from sight, but ing their nerve. They risk always one of trousers. "I got them where they grew," when it cleared off a fearful picture present- the most horrible of fates, -lynching by an was the indignant reply. "Then, by my ed itself. The Emperor leaned with his back excited mob, which breaks their bones. conscience," said Pat, "you've pulled them against the buttress of the canal, holding on Horrible punishments, even if modern feel- a year too soon!' to the railings with both hands, without cloak | ing would allow them, would not do it, for or cap, covered with blood and breathing you could not go beyond breaking on the ants (anglice, hod-carriers): Patrick-"Phat's with difficulty. His bared legs were shatter- wheel or burning alive, both of which have the news from Oireland, Mike?" Michaeled, blood poured from them, the flesh hung been tried, the one in France, the other in Worrus and worrus! The dirthy blaguards in pieces, and there was blood on his face. the Southern States of America, and both are giving us ivery thing we axes for!" Both lay the pale and bleeding man. He opened On the ground were the bloody fragments of have failed. The modern fanatical assassin _ "Bad cess to the loikes av 'em, the thaving his military cloak. Dvorjitsky, also wound- is always ready to commit suicide, and on a opprissors!" ed, raised himself from the ground as the man raised or lowered to the suicide temper, Emperor said, scarcely audible, "Help!" and threats of inflicting torture have no effect.

"Take me to the palace-there to-die." | the victims as hostile batteries only 50 yards | end and lit it, throwing down a lead nickel. These words were the last words of the dying off. Science has armed the assassin, and "Look here! it ain't good," said the tobacmonarch heard by the witnesses. The sledge Governments, with all their endless resources conist, examining the nickel. "I know it,

To Tempt Appetite.

Try to keep a pretty china cup and to present food on to the sick. One expert nurse always serves beef-tea and milk in a wine-glass; one of the thin, bell-shaped glasses, that hold more than they look to hold. A sick person will turn away from a bowl of soup, and be pleased with a pretty cupful. Sick children, especially, are amused and pleased with the color and pattern of the cups and dishes, and there is a trace of the fretful child in every invalid There is something tempting in a small quantity. It does not tax the eye. Therefore, always present just as little as you think the invalid wants to see. A coarse white dinner plate, heaped with food, will take away all appetite, while a small plate or saucer, especially if it is a pretty, dainty one, will be successfuly cleared. A mauve gone? The cake has gone with the children. patient to cat rice pudding or orange cream. of almost every court, and Galveston conor a few grapes, when all other arts have tains several old dead beats who are very failed. There seems to be an appetite of the formidable in the witness-box. Yesterday a eyes as well as the stomach, and it must not policeman met one of these chronic witnesses be offended. Very often the effort to lift rather under the influence of beer, and durly ill, disinclines them to take refreshing or "Look here. You have been a witness hunnourishing drink. There is no need to dis- dreds of times. Tell me confidentially, are turb such sufferers by propping them up you sure you ever swore truthfully in a with pillows and making them lift their single instance?" "I think sho," responded heads and change their position. A bent the other, steadying himself. "How often glass tube, sold for five cents at the apothe- did you swear to the truth?" "Only wunce cary's, is not a signal of extreme illness or or twice, when I wash under influence of lowness, except that the head may rest liquor; but yer shee, I washn't responshible low. It simply means comfort, and that the (hic.) Liquor ish great cursh. I am a proinvalid need not be disturbed, in a sick head | hibishist, sho help me Moses!' position. The art of comfort is not cure but it goes a great way towards it.

Help the Children Grow Erect.

said he, "to see if in an informal talk we each berth are separate and distinct, and the If they kissed and made up after every bring the physical education of school children can sit upright. Every person occupying a If household expenses were proportioned are healthy and buxom when they begin tions, and for a comparatively nominal sum in round shoulders. If you require the children stated that Mr. Jay Gould intends putting other vital organs will have free and healthy | ing and finish. play. Another sample plan is to have the children bend over backwards until they can If women were as kind to their husbands see the ceiling. This exercise for a few boy is reported in a letter from Wakkerminutes each day will work a wonderful stroom, in South Africa. The garrison made If fuel and provisions were laid in during transformation. If a well-qualified teacher a raid for the purpose of capturing some cat-If both parties remembered that they development of the children the best results While falling back, a youngster about 15 would be seen."

has been produced at Milan with great suc- pursuit, he lay down behind some stones on If there were fewer silks and velvet street cess. Maurel and Mile. d'Angieri sang in the the slope of the hill. A few minutes aftercostumes and more plain, tidy house leading parts, and so pleased was the com- ward, four of the enemy came galloping up, poser with the performance of the former, when the boy let fly, knocking one out of his who sang here with Nilsson and Campanini saddle. The three men who were with him, several years ago, that he promised him a still thinking, in all probability, they were runlittle word to say, your brother interrupted better part in the unfinished "Otello," which ming into an ambuscade, wheeled and bolted he expects to have ready for the stage by the for their lives. The boy then crept on his THE present Czar is the first since Peter end of the year. Both librettos are oy Boito, hands and feet to the top of the hill, took to the Great who has not married a German wife. the composer of "Mefistofele."

LITTLE ONES.

A DINNER-HORN-a pint of claret. A GRASS-WIDOW is anything but green. MANY a man who thinks himself a great gun is nothing more than a big bore. WHEN it comes to descending a ladder, the bravest of us generally back down.

Don't judge of a man's character by the umbrella he carries. It may not be his. THE man who never furnished any chips to help keep it warm calls this a cold world.

WOMAN was the first side speculation on record. The dividends have been enormous. INDIANS never drink to drown sorrow. When they can get anything to drink they have no sorrow to drown.

"Is that cheese rich?" asked Bloggs of his grocer. "Yes," was the honest answer, A DOORKEEPER at the theatre would make

LATEST argument against tobacco-The

A MAN who lost his money in stock exchange speculations denied that he was either a "bull" or a "bear." He insisted that he was simply an ass. DISGUSTED man says: "Why don't hotels find some substitute for the everlasting beef-

AT a government office—(Bells ringing senger): "Let 'em ring, Robinson, let 'em

A PLUMBER stole $700 from a house in which he was working the other day. It was a great streak of luck for the house-owner, AND some people say it is injurious. She -You smoke an awful lot don't you? He-

"SHON," said a Dutchman, "you may say

"SETH," said Mrs. Spicer, "I wish you would go and see to the furnace; that Kate is putting in coal as if she was firing a locomotive." And when Spicer remarked that the girl was perhaps a railway-cinder-Kate. Mrs. S. grew warmer than ever. PROFESSOR (to student who writes, not for the masses, but for the educated few)-"You should write so that the most ignorant of your audience can understand all you can say." Student (puzzled)-"What part of my production is not clear to you, sir?" "HI! where did you get them trousers?"

Conversation between two mason's assist-

A LITTLE girl once took a letter from her mother to an old lady friend. "Many your mother that you are a good child and a faithful little messenger." "Thank you, ma-am; and I shall tell her too that I didn't ask you for ten cents, because mamma told

CARVING isn't fun. A young man was invited to carve a turkey at dinner, recently. and before the knife was finally taken from his shoulder, shot the bird across the table

"But, my dear fellah," said the newly-arived Englishman to the Galveston hack driver who had called him "colonel"-but, my dear fellah, I don't belong to the army, ver know." "That don't make any difference; here in Galveston we call almost every loafer and deadbeat colonel or major. Have a kerridge, general?' A LITTLE thing in Sunday school was asked by her teacher if she always said her prayers night and morning. "No. miss, I don't." "Why, Mary, are you not afraid to go to sleep in the dark without asking the good Father to take care of you and watch over you till the morning?" "No, miss, I ain't, cause I sleep in the middle.

WHAT is that on the table? That is cake. What are those things looking at it? Those things are children. Do children like cake? No, children do not like cake. Does cake like children? Yes, cake likes children. Where have the children gone? The children have gone up-stairs. Where has the cake saucer, or a pink plate, will coax a feverish | THE professional witness is a peculiarity

Let Us All Sleep.

A new car seat has been invented by which it is claimed an everyday passenger car can be converted into a sleeping car. Each seat has a double cushion, which makes it more William Blaikie, the author of "How to desirable for day travel. For making up the Get Strong and How to Stay So," spoke be- berths the box below is unfolded and supfore the Brooklyn Teachers' Association re- ported by movable iron rods to form the botcently on "Physical Education." "I want" tom of the lower berth. The curtains for can't hit upon some way in which we can occupant of either the upper or the lower berth down to a practical basis. Our children who seat will be entitled to sleeping accomodaschool work, come out pale, sickly, and with can have a whole berth to himself. It is under you to sit far back on a chair and to them in all the coaches of his lines, from the hold their chins up you will cure them of be- first-class passenger to the emigrant train, ing round shouldered, and the lungs and making a difference only in their upholster-

An instance of coolness and bravery in a years old was thrown from his horse, which ran off and left him. Finding he could not VERDI'S new opera, "Simon Boccanegra, escape from the Boers, who were in close his heels, and escaped.