A farmer friend ealls one of his early vegetables "Waterloo," bacause it is a big beet. It has been authoritatively denied that Gen. Hancock was coolest when on the point of a tack.

A western paper reports the birth of a male child with wings. Probably nature in-tended him for a bank cashier.

Proverbial Philosophy-One hair in the hash will cause more hard feeling than seven lluminated mottoes on the wall can overcome. The Hon. Phineas T. Barnum called at the white house the other day to pay his respects ! and leave a package of matinee tickets. The Lowell Citizen has discovered that "L. S." printed after the signatures on the blanks of legal documents means, "Lick the seal." To Friends at a Distance-We have no more room in our waste-paper basket for jokes about 'sound investments' being "Luying telephone shares."

A Mississippi man puts it thus: "At the earnest solicitation of those to whom I owe money I have consented to become a candidate for county treasurer."

A GIRL hearing her mistress ask her husband to bring "Dombey and Son" with him when he came home to dinner, set two extra plates for the expected guests.

HE was about 4 years old, but he was a hopeful youth. "Papa have you done anything down town that you think I ought to whip you for if I were as big as you are ?" A GOOD-NATURED traveller fell asleep in a train, and was carried beyond his destination, "Pretty good joke. isn't it?" said a fellow-passenger. "Yes. but a little too farfetched," was the rejoinder. "Who are you?" asked a police justice of LN

a drunken Irishman at the bar. 'Lord Beaconsfield, if it plaize yer honor." The justice thought the answer over for a mo- By the Author of "HIDDEN QUICKSANDS," ment and replied: "'Oh, I see. The whisky made you dizzy.

College: Dampening! Old Triggs: "Hello, Jones, got your feet sopping wet, haven't you? Why don't you wear rubbers, as I do? I haven't wet my feet for six months." Jones: "Well, I should think you'd be ashamed to BRITISH: At an "impassionist" painter's: "What sort of a subject are you going to paint on that immense black canvas?" "How, sir? That, sir is my greatest masterpiece." "Is it? What is it?" "A picture of nothing in FLASHER having had his portrait painted, "The ould wood would burn like tinder, you; but if you've paid $75 for it you've been Desmond, who is one of us, and we will. done. Why, there ain't half a pound of Work on with a will, boys !" paint on the whole thing!"

itself could not stand? Turkey has had war tain grew uneasy. The fourth door was down, or revolt or riot in every province, and been but there were five others; and every mounder the thumb of Europe, for the past four ment, if the tutor had escaped, placed their or five years, and yet she stands up like a necks in jeopardy. Still the men's blood decision of the Supreme Court.

comedy that is about to be presented in that not order a retreat. The fifth door ed up as she entered. city. The author, it is presumed, "steaks" took still longer to break open; the sixth, his reputation on its success, and the actress | which was wedged, was almost immovable, who speaks tender-loins will be "dressed to and the axes had to cut open the panel low kill," of course. The price of admission for down for the arm to go through and remove choice seats will be forequarters.

noon with the doctor's little daughter was one after two hours' toil. In the meantime given two pieces of candy. When he return- the pursuers had come back and warned them ed, his mother inquired if he gave the larger of danger approaching ; but the men, growpiece to the little girl. "No mother, I didn't. ing more and more dogged as the resistance was the charm to win you; and I knew, I felt phecy; but he read the truth in her eyes You told me always to give the biggest piece opposed to them was more provoking, would that I was a coward ! to the company, and I was the company over | not heed.

Pacific Coast-"Bong-tong audience. lionaire and congratulated him on his flow alone-had read her swoon aright. the spectators. "Magnifeck!" cried the colo- nearer, and the party could at last distin- Here are fifty pounds-all I have just nowree!" shrieked the colonel. "Toot sweet!" | blood !' cultured in the same hot-house.

Woman's Softening Influence.

" It's astonishin'," remarked the old Yankee forty-niner, as he nodded overhis glass to a friend, " what a coward a man is at home replied the stentorian tones of Captain Rock, -a reg'lar crawlin' sneak, by Jove! I've "Hillo, Misther O'Brien; are ye there?" travelled a good bit, and held up my head in most o' the camps on the coast since '49. I've ing to sudden life in her care for others, had been cut through. In his heart Coghlan got three bullets inside o' me. I've shot and answered loudlybeen shot at, an' never heard nobody say I "Yes, Mr. O'Brien is here." hadn't as good grit as most fellers that's goin'. But at home I'm a kyote. Afore I'd let the old woman know that her hot biscuit fill myself as full as a retort. I've done it scorn. lots o' times. Most o' my teeth is gone from tuggin' on beefsteak that the old woman D've think I roar out when I go over a chair in the dark? No, sir. While I'm rubbin' my shins and keepin' back the tears, to be so," sighed the poor fellow, thought- Open at once, or-you know the forfeit." fully, rubbing his shining scalp. "When tendent ; but after a year or two of argyin' stood with her back to the door. the pint. I settled down to shovin' the car at low wages. I kin lick any man o' my age said. von the starch comes right out o' me."

Business of the Bank of England.

The business transacted by the Bank England has no parallel with that of any other establishment in the world, inasmuch as it combines with an ordinary banking business the management of the National Debt and the issue and payment of the greater portion of the note-circulation of the country. Some idea of the magnitude of the work may be formed when it is stated that there are no fewer than 236,500 accounts open in the issued during last year was above 15,250,000. representing a sum of £338,000,000, and that a similar amount was cancelled, an accurate register of each operation being kept, so that any note paid into the bank during the last five years could be produced within a minute through which it had found its way back to the Bank, although the register represented 77,000,000 of notes, stowed away in 14,500 boxes If stitched end to end, those notes would extend to 12,500 miles.

Josh Billings' " Trump Cards."

AFTER a man gits to be 38 years old he kant form any new habits much; the best he can do is to steer hiz old ones.

ENNY man who can swap horses, or ketch fish, and not lie about it, iz az pius az men ever git to be in this world. Tun sassyest man I ever met iz a hen-peck - Glorvina who came to him and laid her hand as to mend these pens for me, Mr. Surridge.

ed husband when he ir away from home. Ax enthusiast izan individual who believes about four times az much az he kan prove, and he kan prove about four times at much ar any

Too long courtships are not always judicious. The partys often tire skoreing 'fore lips.

the trot begins. Young men, learn to wait; if you under- and the doctor went to him. I hope he will to sett a henn before she iz ready you live."

Senelon Salls Gazette.

VOL. IX.

FENELON FALLS, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1881.

NO. 11.

INTERESTING NEWS.

THE very candles and tapers selected at first to burn around the late Czar's bier, it has been discovered, were filled with nitro-

Specimen of fossil woods and lignite are reported to have been brought to the surface

from a depth of 191 feet while boring an ar-

A CINCINNATI boy, aged 12, not only disobeyed his father's injunction not to touch a gun, but used the weapon in such a way as to escape the threatened punishment. He

EXPERIMENTS have been made on animals with pure hydrocianic acid by M. Brame.

The bodies of those killed with it remained unaffected by decomposition for about a month. During that time the acid remained in the tissues, and especially in the stomach.

It could be easily separated by distillation, but much more readily from the tissues of

The removal of old Cetywayo from the entirely under the advice of Bishop Colenso, earth should have been adopted, "A cere-

THE London Sportsman having published a report that the American Paine had asserted that he was the only expert pistol shot in Europe, and would like to find somebody who would meet him in that description of marksmanship, the Sporting Gazette of Vienna replies with a letter from Joseph Schulhoff, a well-known sporting man of that city, who challanges Paine to a pistol match at 400 paces for £1,000, and says that he has long sought a man who is willing to enter such a match with him and dosen't care from what part of hests might be required of them. The tain these pecuniary means remains a mys-

THE appearance of the Marquis of Bland-as a radical land reformer has taken the town by storm in London. The Marquis has source of infinite trouble to his own family, on more than one occasion been compelled by real author of the essay to which his name is attached, which is in truth about the only respectable performance with which he has Since peace has been declared, the city of Cape Government makes known that the grants of this description—land at ten shill-of Dutch descent. The arrival of some thousands of English yeomen would serve to hitherto been credited.

herbivorous than of carnivorous animals.

glycerine and other explosives.

tesian well at Galveston, Texas.

comitted suicide.

Only. Only a baby, Kissed and caressed,

Gently held to mother's breast. Only a child, Toddling along, Brightening now its happy home. Trudging to school, Governed now by sterner rule.

Only a youth, Living in dreams, Full of promise life now seems.

Battling with life, Shared in now by loving wife.

Only a father, Burdened with care, Silver threads in dark brown hair. Only a gray-beard, Toddling again, Growing old and full of pain.

O'ergrown with grass,

"A RELENTLESS FOE," "MAGGIE O'CONNOR'S FORTUNES," &c.

CHAPTER XII., AND LAST.

last however, shivered to pieces by the axes advanced to him. of the rebels. But, when they found that the next door, and the next, demanded the same her sweetest smile. labor, they were infuriated. There was a cry several times of "Burn it down!" but respectfully. their captain interfered.

asks the opinion of his friend Dabbs, a re- he said, "and the sodgers would see the tired house-painter. Dabbs: "Well, it's like flames. Besides, we've promised to save Miss note.

But they began to think it strange that Who said that a house divided against the pursuers had not returned, and the capwas up; obstacles only roused and infuriated on his arms. His bonds had been removed A BERLIN butcher has written a five-act them, and the captain knew that he dared and food stood by the side of him. He look- -when questioned by James-that the apit. The doors were of a thickness not dreamed of in modern times; and thus the A LITTLE boy who was to pass the after- rebels had only just broken open the last but

The inmates were in the last room. Glorvina had revived, and now sat pale, mute, said Mr. Mackay to Col. Hungerford. "Wee" as if turned to stone, Eva trying to arouse with repressed contempt; "but now we have replied the colonel to our John. "Elect- her. Mrs. Coghlan, clasping her little ones no time for talk. These windows are so given to her by an unknown messenger, cram de la cram-hote tong, eh?" quoth John, to her beating heart, wept silently. Tim closely barred that no sentries were thought which informed her that Tim O'Brien had as his shirt bosom swelled with conscious O'Brien stood with folded arms leaning to be needed outside them. I bring you a reached America in safety. He told Glorvina pride. "Wee," said the colonel. The colo- against the wall and gazing at Glorvina with file"-she gave it to him-"and you can cut in it that he meant to begin a new life, and of French, The curtain went up and one And now the crashes, the imprecations, of the stars flashed like a meteor before the sound of hideous voices, drew nearer and nel. "Tray bean!" shouted Mr. M. "Onko- guish cries of "We will have their hearts' and let me hear in some way when you are peril to which she owed her husband.

yelled John. After the play, Mackay drew There was a nearer, louder crash, than a the colonel to one side and whispered in his blow on the last door, which seemed to fall ear: "I dont mind tellin' ye I spake Italian on Mrs. Coglan's heart as her little Norah as well as I do French-do you?" "Yes" re- screamed with childish affright. The sound, plied the colonel. "I guess we've both been | revealing how near the assailants had drawn to their victims, and hailed with a shout of fiendish glee from the Whiteboys.

Here they are, buoys, at last !" cried a Then something was muttered. " And that's true for you ; it'll save time, Tim made no answer. But Glorvina, start- had escaped, and that two bars of the window

She turned and confronted Tim. The

" It was for your sake," he murmured. "Traitor !" was her reply. But his friends outside were impatient. same commanding voice, "I order you by with me and my wife in my place in Eng- the whole, a "capital fellow." He is frank, head is caused by feeding corn. I'm likewise sweatin' fur fear the old woman your oath to open this door, and cause no land." has been woke by the upset. It didn't use more delay, which is risky for you and us. To both requests the father assented; in-fun o' doin it; but, when I hang my hat on the grief and indignation, suddenly seized him hear the old woman ask if that's me, I tell master's assistance, and the footman, with man to whom they owed their lives. He Rock. "Obey at once, or you shall die with the arm! It was wonderful, the doctor said, these traitors of Ireland! "I am bound hand and foot," muttered

"And we are saved!" shricked Eva. The Hussars-the Hussars!" Yes, there was the gallop of horses and the sound of the trumpet

Captain Rock threw down his axe, with an

Guided by a handkerchief which Eva waved from the window to their friends, the soldiers came right on the Whiteboys, and congratulations of the family. there was a hand-to-hand fight. A few or two, with information as to the channel broke through the Hussars and got away : but half or more of the band were taken, and were finally bound and confined in the lower touching ; even Norah abated her efforts at domesticated and very fond of his children, rooms of the house on the north side.

Then Captain Leicester knocked at the tutor as she was capable of. door to tell the family they were safe, and to ask admission. He entered looking as he was sitting writing in the new school-announced Mr. Coghlan wrung his hand, while Mrs. | burned upon her cheeks. Coghlan and her daughter could only thank him by their tears. The relief from that hand, and with a little nervous laugh she agony was almost too much to bear. His said-on his arm, saying in a strangely hoarse I am so stupid at doing it. " How did you know !" tidings," he replied. "He came covered request. She seated herself at the table and Thorn people who are trieing to get to Heaven on their kreed will find out at last on your speed!" We needed no other bidd

"Do you that they didn't have a thru ticket." with blood and could only say. 'Whiteboys played with her rings. By-and-by she said

"I really can't say. He was carried in will were time and confuse the hen be. Then suddenly his eyes fell upon the bound husband should be the bravest man I ever help believin', jedge, that I is innocent as a too. The second disappointment crushed er influenced by powerful electric shocks, I wus a rinozerus, tho' I spose if I wuz I

: Mr. O'Brien !" he exclaimed in amaze-Coghlan glanced down at the postrate can you, what do you mean ?"

my hospitality, thus insuring our destruction eyes into her blushing smiling face. had not my son's tutor risked his life for us."

committed the detected traitor. The exhausted family descended with him said, very shyly now. to the drawing-room. Murphy received "Then it is love! Oh, Glorvina, my sweet, orders to give the soldiers the best of food my darling, say that you love me !" and drink the house supplied. Refreshments were also brought to the chilled and weary ladies and children, and then Mr. Coghlan with a merry laughsuggested that they should go to bed.

Eya, as she said 'Good morning'-for day was was hopeless to leave matters to you, and l drawing near, through it was not yet light. | thought I would play Desdemona. "We watch over your safety." Mrs. Coghlan, Eva, and the wearied child- ly. "You so rich, so beautiful! I could ren were soon wrapped in slumber. Not so Glorvina. She had known Tim O'Brien from boyhood; she understood how with emotion. "Ah, James, the banshee vain and weak he was, and how the hope of prophecy is fulfilled! I shall marry the winning her by a sham rescue had lured him | bravest man I know." on. And then there was his old father. It would break his heart to have his son brought wards, of James and Glorvina, Eva and Capto a disgraceful death. She did not attempt | tain Leicester ; and, on their return from the to undress. She stole out towards the room honeymoon, which was spent on the Conti-The inmates of the Priory were in deadly were Tim was a solitary prisoner and watched. peril. The first door took longer to break Only one sentinel was at the door, and he open than the hall-door had; it yielded at was walking carelessly up and down. She over, the family returned to Ireland. By

> "Will you oblige a lady?" she asked, with "If it's in my power, ma'am," he replied

" I wish to say a few words to Mr. O'Brien the prisoner," she said. "Will you let me in?" And she offered him a five-pound he had acted as he did, and to understand The man's eyes sparkled at the sight of i

" I don't see that it can do any harm," he no longer active. answered; but, if I do, ma'am, you'll never " I solemnly promise you I never will."

"Then pass," he said unlocking the door and admitting her. "Glorvina?" he exclaimed.

"Yes, Tim; I have come to see if I cannot save you. utterly scorn and loathe me?" "I pity you-I pity still more your good and were anxious to save her and the tutor

"Oh, Glorvina, I did it all for love of you -because I wanted to appear to save you, to seem the bravest of the brave, since courage into marrying him by this pretended pro-

He bowed his head in utter shame as he "It was a terrible delusion," she said. door is thick. Once out you know how to escape from the grounds by one of the bypaths. But stay, you will need money.

He had fallen at her feet, and, seizing her hand, he covered it with kisses and tears. She drew it away with a feeling of loathing. " Make haste !" she said. "You have no time to lose. Then she advanced to the door and calle "Sentry," rapping on it at the same time, The sentinel, on the watch for her summons, opened the door, and she passed out swiftly. The man glanced in, saw that his prisoner was safe, and locked the door. was glad that his old friend's son had not to "Then bid him open the door for his and no great efforts were made to trace him. That morning Leicester had a long conver-Priory would be, and he besought him to Eva in mariage.

"When," added the young soldier, ready intelligence, drew out his knife, cut found him still weak and his arm painful; off pieces of the alarm rope, and bound Tim loss of blood had been the chief inqury, and hand foot, he making scarcely any resistance. | the flesh wound promised to heal well ; but | "Will you open again shouted Captain | what a wound it was-the whole length of

that he had not bled to death. The Hussars kept him with them till he was well, and nursed him with tender brotherly care. They thought him such a hero that they regretted he was not one of themselves. Captain Leicester was excesjourneyed to Dublin when he was well enough imprecation. He and the Whiteboys had to resume his educational duties. It was even public funds; that the number of bank-notes heard the approaching horsemen, and they then a very pale and weak young man who at once made off. But escape was not easy entered the handsome Dublin drawing-room behind his friend-now soon to become a bridegroom-and who received, with his old diffidence and bashfulness, the thanks and Teddy now looked up to Mr. Surridge as the greatest of heroes; and the boy's innocent admiration and hero-worship were almost teasing, and felt as much reverence for the

He had been back only three days, when, very lovely from the brilliant carnation that

She held two or three quill pens in her eyes lingered tenderly on Eva; but it was "I have come to ask if you will be so good

He took them from her hand, and, with ready "Of course, with pleasure," proceeded "That gallant fellow Surridge brought the | in a matter-of-fact way to comply with her

> "Do you know, Mr. Surridge, that I think stole those pullets," said the Galveston judge you are the bravest man I ever knew, or ever to the culprit. "Jedge," responded Jim, shall know ?" precatingly, and colouring deeply.

He sprang to his feet, his face aflame. ' Miss Desmond," he exclaimed, "what

"What I say"-with an arch smile, and "Yes, this gentleman," he said bitterly, holding out her hand, "Oh, don't be so "was a friend and ally of the Whiteboys. stupid !"-stamping her foot. "How can He was-I believe I have good grounds for marry the bravest man, if he won't ask me?" thinking so-kind enough to cut the rope of Another moment, and he was kneeling bethe alarm-bell at the time he was enjoying side her, looking up with happy incredulous

"Oh, Glorvina, it is impossible!" he cried "Then he must consider himself my "I-I adore you; but you-you cannot posprisoner," said Leicester haughtily; and, sibly love such an ugly fellow as I am. leaving the room, he soon returned with two is just pity, or generosity, or gratitude"or three of his soldiers, to whose charge he piteously-"that makes you speak thus." "It is neither pity nor gratitude," she

> And she murmured it in his arms. When at length they parted the girl said

"It was as near being a proposal on my "Sleep sweetly," whispered Leicester to part as well could be, James. But I saw " Dear how could I speak?" he said tender not have dared. "Yet you dared death for me," she said

A double wedding took place soon afternent, the Coghlans joined them in England. But by-and-by, when "the troubles" were that time popular feeling in the neighbourhood had undergone a revulsion in their favour. Mr. Coghlan had provided for the widow and children of O'Rouke, and the poor woman had told her friends how hard the Squire had tried to get a pardon for her Dan. that he did not love them less because he had done his duty. Moreover, the agitators were Glorvina and her husband often visited St. Kevin's Priory. James had, soon after their marriage, sent a handsome present to Kathleen, which enabled her lover at once to "speak to the priest," and, on their mar-Tim was sitting at a table, his head bowed riage, to set up in a little holding of their own. Here one day Kathleen owned to them pearance of the banshee had been planned by Captain Rock, and that the figure had been represented by an agent of his; also that she herself had been employed to wail beneath "You forgive me then? You do not Glorvina's window. For the people knew that the heiress's sympathies were with them, from the danger threatening the family. Glorvina in jest used to declare to her husband that she had been shamefully inveigled even before she added-

"Yet I shall always bless the Whiteboys for showing me that the man I already loved was worthy of a princess.'

She had, long before, received a letter, nel then shook hands with the Comstock mil- a sort of sullen despair. He-perhaps he through the bars, I think, unheard, for the "for her sake," try to keep at least an and not fed often enough. For a horse with Often, when children blessed their union, and their love, tried by years, grew only day is sufficient. This should be fed in at more tender, Glorvina would bless the happy least three meals, and is better if fed in not buy any land in Colorado."

Tho Average Russian.

of argument from many different points of drink immediately before eating. Neither to gain, who is sharp and shrewd, may man- the infusion of the English element. At the view. The most familiar, most ad captan- should he be watered immediately after eatdum, and perhaps the most unjust theory is ing, because he will drink too much and that even the better educated and refined of force some of the contents of the stomach in-Russians are at the very best only coated to the larger intestine, which will cause scourwith a thin veneer of civilization. The great ing. Scouring is also caused by too rapid master of cynical terseness in expression, eating, which can be prevented by putting The next day it was found that O'Brien weight of his celebrity and his repute for far- into the manger with the oats. Mr. Coghlan had gone, the day after their home from the dramshop the ecclesiastic, particles in their eyes. peg in the hall, an' take off my muddy boots, an' and pulled him down. Murphy flew to his rescue, to see and thank the heroic clergy- dead drunk, on a stretcher. Ivan himself gets tipsy whenever he has the chance of doing so: but he is the best-natured of sots, and too much beer or vodka scarcely ever makes him riotous or pugnacious. Inebriety the rather incites him to the shedding of maudlin tears, or to an excess of piety in expectorating to the right and left in order to Truthful he can scarcely be said to be He has been too recently a slave to be able to understand the moral culpability of telling a lie, but he is passing honest. He is. poses, and he is in particular, industrious, patient and submissive. He is not very inventive, but he has a curiously strong imitative faculty, almost Chinese in its concenbe imitated. Thence he can be taught to be an admirable cabinet-maker, an inlayer, an although he occasionally thrashes his wife. to live on the simplest and coarses fare. room, he heard a knock for admittance. At White bread he seldom tastes; "brick tea" "You are safe; I am thankful to say," he his "Come in," Glorvina entered, looking is, after corn brandy, his favorite beverage; half-pickled ogurts, or dwarf cucumbers, enter largely into his diet, and with bad drainand shaven, and put into a horden-gra and a rifle in his hand.

"You must admit, Jim Webster, that you "I dont really believe I stole dem chickens.

LAND TENURE.

Moncton Times

Prince Edward Island is the only British province in America that has been under a

The History of Landlordism in Prince Edward Island.

system of land tenure. In 1767, the Island, which was then an unsettled British colony, was divided into sixty-seven townships, the majority of which were awarded army and navy officers by the Government as a recognition of services. From that date up to 1853 the system of land tenure remained unbroken, and agitations similar to those that now exist in Ireland were frequently resisted, and the assistance of troops sometimes became necessary. In 1853 an Act was passed by the Local Legisla- porter. ture of the Island for the purchase of the estates of such proprietors as might be disposed to sell them. This Act received the assent of the Queen, but many of the proprietors refused to entertain the propositions of the Legislature, and the result was the purchase of the land proceeded slowly. The agitation for the abolition of the tenant system meantime gathered new force, and the proprietors, experiencing great difficulty in Island Legislature, and the Hon. Mr. Richie by the landlords. The award of the commissioners was objected to, however, by the landlords, and the award was set aside. The tenants' agitation then became alarming, a Tenant League was formed, and the collection of rents resisted to such on extent that a detachment of troops was forwarded to the Island from Halifax to assist in maintaining the law and to preserve the rights of the landlords. The question was not finally settled till 1875, when, Confederation having been secured, what is known as the "Land Purchase Act of 1875" was introduced. Since that date the Government has succeeded in purchasing the interests of the landlords in 203,847 acres, and compulsory land purchase being the rule, there are now no landlord interests in the island. That the change has been beneficial few doubt, though it is asserted that under the system of tenantry many of the farmers acquired considerable wealth. The grand total of seperate holdings in the province is 8,485, for which the Government paid $1,226,468.83, selling to the tenants, as a rule, at a lower price than the purchase amount. The great bulk of the holdings is in lots of from 50 to 100 acres each, and barely 125 contain more than 200 acres. These facts are principally gathered from a report, dated November 4, 1880, forwarded to the Gladstone Government by the

Feeding Horses.

Public Lands Office of Prince Edward Island,

the Gladstone Government having applied was being considered.

The horse has the smallest stomach in prosixteen quarts is its utmost capacity. This space is completely filled by four quarts of oats and the saliva that goes into the stomach with it. Horses are generally over-fed,

A horse's digestion is very rapid, and therefore he gets hungry sooner than a man. As for the Russians being "barbarians," wears out very rapidly. Water fills the sto-

Prince Bismarck, has lent the immense half a dozen pebbles, half the size of the fist, reaching sagacity in judging the characters! Give only a moderate drink of water to a and in her own eyes; very capricious and editors as their most implacable foes. The of mankind to the "vencering" and "bar- horse. A large drink of cold water before being strong-willed in carrying out her fancies and cool persistence with which they decline to barian" hypothesis in his famous dictum. driven will have a quieting effect on a ner- whimwhams. In the German fashion she avail themselves with contributions which endure the awful fate awaiting the rebels; . The Russian is a capital fellow till he vous horse. A race-horse always runs on an can leave rank aside and be very charming the contributor is convinced would make the tucks his shirt in." To understand the empty stomach. Digestion progresses mod-tremendous force of this merciless resume of erately during exercise, if the exercise is not so is her good pleasure. Capt. Middleton, who it—such blindness to self-interest—rouses sation with his host, in which he represented the Muscovite character one must have violent as to exhaust the powers of the horse, is her esquire on the hunting fields of Eng- pity in the breast of the worldly wise amawasn't A I when it's like stiff amalgam, I'd traitor's head dropped beneath her glance of to him how dangerous longer residence at the lived in Russia. Ivan Ivanovich, the moujik I consider bruised oats worth twenty per land and Ireland, had never reason to teur. He indites a letter of remonstrance - peasant. droschky driver, mechanic, cent. more than whole. They are more com- know that she is the proudest of the proud. to the misguided editor, and is promptly take the ladies to Dublin, and to give him laborer, or what not-wears his shirt- pletely digested. I prefer oats to any other With the circus girl Elise, who was last crushed. In some aless tender emotion than usually ared cotton one -outside his other gar- grain for horses. Cracked corn is very good vear the idol of the Parisian Gommeux, her pity is aroused by such conduct. Rage very ments. All those familiar with Russian under some circumstances, but I wouldn't Majesty is almost motherly, and is very often agitates the bosom of the rejected poet. "Now look you, Tim O'Brien," said the will sell out, and you can all come and stay humanity know Ivan Ivanovich to be, on use meal or shorts. The disease called big companionable. They smoke cigarettes to. Smarting under a sense of gross ill-usage, he

Too Many Lawyers and Too Many Fees.

The rock that the legal profession are in most danger of coming to wreck on is that of excessive charges. There is a continual low they had opportunities to approach her. yours an immense amount of rubbish, and growling in the community on this subject. The Chief of the French Executive called pays for it, there is a vast difference between The following, in an English lay newspaper, on her Majesty at the Hotel Bristol and was | well-written nonsense and the clumsily does not exaggerate the matter: "There are certain well-known firms of solicitors who can never be got to render a statement; they hair, which is still of a burnished hazel-brown are perpetually applying for checks on ac- shade and splendidly luxuriant, was coiled count, and generally have the faculty of asksively kind to him : and it was with him he in fine, "good wood," capable of being ing for these at some critical time in the fall down behind her. She was dressed in a seasoned and fashioned to many useful pur- procedure, when they know that the litigant plain black velvet costume, with a linen cannot help paying, in order that his case collar and an enameled broach. Elizabeth may go on. Other solicitors punish the in- speaks French well, but with a German quisitiveness of any who may wish for a detailed bill of costs by making it out to an tration and laborious fidelity to the thing to extent vastly in excess of the round sum originally demanded." It is notorious that ally very tired and lolls back in a deep, soft the charges are altogether out of proportion arm-chair, or lies on a sofa puffing cigarettes. enamelist, a pottery painter, and a worker in to the time given, the work given or the con- She has an album by her with photos of metals. Similarly his womankind are the sideration received, and all kinds of vexatious her horses, her favorite dogs, her grandchild most skillful of embroiderers. He is very obstacles are thrown in the way of any who and her children. She hates brilliant assemseek to effect a reform in this respect. The blies, has no wish to be popular, thinks parfact is, that the ranks of the legal profession liaments contemptible, abhors republicans Of strong liquor, as I have hinted, he is are overcrowded, and are being added to and cannot imagine how the world was passionately fond; otherwise he is content year by year to an extent which the public ever able to get on without steam locomointerests by no means require. Yet the ex- tion. Her traveling train is a miniature clusiveness that obtains with regard to me- palace. Bohemian glass is much employed thods of procedure, and the stringent rules in lending color and brightness to the little imposed upon all the members of the craft, dining-room. The couch in the bed-room is prevent that wholesome competition which suspended. A small oratory, opening and age, help to give him typhus and the cholera; exists in all other trades. The consequence shutting at will, like a press, testifies to the and he can sleep anywhere—the top of a is that the public are robbed, and that a orthodoxy of her Majesty, who is not, howstove is his most chosen resting-place—quite | comparitive few of the members of the legal indifferent as to bed-clothes. There is no profession obtain for themselves the chief braver soldier than Ivan Ivanovich when he portion of the spoil, while the great bulk of is drawn for the conscription, and cropped them struggle on as best they can. Our legal exchanges are filled with discussions on during his life time was tormented with the gaberdine, with a spiked hemlet on his head lawyer's costs. The community are bound to have cheaper justice, if they can .- Albany Law Journal.

be talked about.

him, and he committed suicide.

HEARTACHES AND REMORSE. Gambling in Chicago and Misfortunes Gamblers.

answer to an interrogation from a Chicago Morning News reporter yesterday: "Chica- fort where he had been held in such close was Chief of Police, and Joe Medill and nation as ever appeared on the face of the Colvin, Mayors."

"How do the gamblers manage to get on monial of talk" would have done more, he their feet after they have once been complet- thinks, to conciliate the Zulus than the imly and irretrivably broke," asked the re- prisonment of Cetywayo.

the collection of their rents, suggested a of their assets was twenty-five cents, and commission to enquire into the whole matter. In 1860 such a commission was constituted, the Hon. John H. Gray, of New The game was faro, and No. 1 sat down and The Moscow Viedomosty directs attention Brunswick being named by the British Government, the Hon. Joseph Howe by the Soon ran the quarter up to $5. No. 2 was to the profusion of money which the Nihilists then given a stake, and they both went in seem to have at their disposal, and observes: could never strike it again.'

faro, ain't there?" for it while the basis of land reforms in Ireland

Chicago at a legitimate game?" "Well, there is a well-known member of a liquor firm here who drew out some $12,- London is busily getting up an emigration on portion to his size of any animal. Fifteen or | 000. Al. Smith won $9,000 one time in this an extensive scale for the Cape of Good town; and speaking of losses, a capitalist | Hope, and holding out great temptations to from England passed through this city four all willing to risk the danger of the climate years ago on his way to Colorado to purchase and the prospect of being kicked out of the land. While here he became acquainted country at any moment. By last year's with an obliging young man who talked about statistics 2,607 emigrants from England land-England to him and took him up in the ed in South Africa. But agricultural laboroats and eight or ten pounds if fine hay a Kentucky block where he finally lost over ers did not number more than half. They $30,000. It is needless to remark that he did | could produce among them £10,743. The

"What is your opinion, anyway, of gam- most liberal terms will be offered to emi-

Whims of an Empress.

The Empress of Austria came to Paris much disposed to receive no official visit. She is a great, a very great lady in reality, - | Amateurs are very apt to look gether and talk gaily on equestrian subjects pours out the vials of his wrath upon that brave, generous, affectionate and docile. He | When a horse comes in hot I would give a | —the only subject which interests the incarnation of fraud, injustice, and wicked is a fervent devotee of the grossly idolatrous moderate feed immediately. If the horse is | Kaiserin. But Elizabeth holds in foul scorn | mess, the editor. Why should his poems be deed the ladies had vowed they would not rites of the Russo-Greek Church which some too tired to eat I would take his feed away. nouveaux on riches and self-made great rejected when so much trash is inserted? The coward actually moved to obey; but remain at St. Kevin's. It was settled that Anglican Ritualists are insane enough to A heatedbody is a reason against watering, and ladies. All her prejudices and what she deems Why is no reason for rejection youchsafed we first hitched, I thought I was the superin- Glorvina threw herself across his path and the Hussars should stay to guard them dur- think can, without much difficulty, be for feeding, for the system is then just in the her principles are on the side of feudalism to him? He hysterically demands satisfacing the needful preparations for departure, a brought into communion with the Church condition to begin digestion. A horse will and right-divine monarchy, which, by the tion. The amount of this sort of correspon-"You shall kill me first, vile traitor!" she duty which proved equally agreeable to Eva of England. He is grossly ignorant; but he not founder if fed moderately when hot. I way, never lived on good terms with the dence that goes on is surprising and dis and her lover; and, thus for a time united, has the utmost reverence for the offices of prefer dry feed unless a horse has some dis- barons of the feudal period. She looks- tressing. The bad taste as well as bad policy an' size," cried the old gentleman, banging | Perhaps Tim would have used his strength | it was almost with regret they saw the day | the church, and does not think the worse of | ease of the throat or lungs. Do not consider | although Austria is now under a free govern- of amateurs who adopt such a course of the saloon table with his wrinkled fist. "I'll and moved his slight opponent from his come when they were to leave their old home, his pope or priest when, in his village, he is it worth while to cut hay. I always feed hay ment—upon the English constitutional mon- action cannot be too strongly censured. If shoot, stand up, or rough-and-tumble for the path, but Coghlan, who had been stunned by though now full of such terrible memories. occasionally called upon to assist in carrying from the floor, then the horses do not get arch with pity mingled with contempt, and they really believe that their article, or poem, calls her a poor, poultry-yard fowl, who has or whatever it may be, is worth publishing. no wing-power to take a high and independ | let them send it the round of the periodical ent flight. When the French Republic was press, and if it fails to find a haven of rest represented at Vienna by parvenu Ambassa- from its wanderings somewhere, its proper dors, the Empress was scarcely civil to their | place is in the fire. It ought to be borne in excellencies on the rare occasions on which mind that although the reading public dereceived by her. The crowned Clorinda was hashed encyclopedia or overstrained senti surrounded by her household. Part of her ment of beginners .- [Tinsley's Magazine.] round her head, and the rest was allowed to

The Empress of Austria has little taste for reading. When she is at home she is gener-

A RICH Frenchman named Dugaste, who fear of being buried alive, bequeathed a large sum of money to the Academy of Sciences, Make weather predictions if you want to means of preventing too hasty burials. Ac- yu mus alwaze go up to him from before so az THE girl whom Tom Hancock wanted to | Siecle the problem has not yet been solved, al- | a place for a bullit to get in. His nose is "Oh, Miss Desmond !" he exclaimed de- In de fust place, jedge, nobody saw me take marry at Indianapolis was only 15, and she though several works have been written on the got a upper teeth that's got no buzinez ware 'em. In de next place dey could not be said that he must wait at least two years, subject. It is generally conceded, however, it iz, and if a boy shood set down on it he "And she continued, "don't you remem- found on my premises, because I had done Then he asked her to kiss him, and she de- that when the temperature of the body is but better sta plugd up with the tooth rels he'll ber that the banshee promised me that my hid dem chickens under de floor. I can't clared that he would have to wait for that 25 degrees, or when the muscles are no long- be all one pore. I'd rathar be a polliwog if death is proved beyond a doubt.

"Yes," said a well-known gambler, in go is one of the greatest gambling centres in captivity is said to have been accomplished the United States." "But,"he continued, "it isn't now so much who, knowing the Zulu character well, scrusoasit wassix or seven years ago. Itellyou the ples not to affirm that the very contrary means boys' had a good time when Jake Rehm to insure the faithful allegriance of so brave a

"Well, you see, they borrow from one another, and then pay back when they make a winning. A professional gambler when he does win generally wins a large amount but it is a fact that the majority are broke twenty-nine days in every month. I remember some five years ago that two waiters, who worked at the Commercial Hotel, went in one evening to a game on Clark street known as the 'Combination.' The extent and soon had $200 out. Not yet satisfied, "No pecuniary resources at all comparable they laid down their money, and at 6 o'clock to it has ever been possessed by the Socialists in the morning they had won between them of other countries. These latter have always $2,300. Being inclined to be sports, they attempted to carry out their plots in the took the money and opened a faro bank of cheapest way possible, generally with a knife their own, in the Nevada block, corner of or a revolver. With us (Russians), on the Washington and Franklin streets. Every- contrary, all anarchical attempts, of the last thing ran along smoothly for a few weeks, three or four years at any rate have proved until one night a drunken brakeman from to be the result of a complete system of revone of the railroads went up and won the olutionary organization, having adequate roll. The men then went back to their old | means for the support of its members and for business, and though they often tried they suborning persons to carry out whatever be-

"There is a great deal of cheating done at source from which the Russian anarchists ob-"Yes; at the time of which I am speak- tery; but the required funds are always at ing the West Side was filled with brace their service." games, especially Halsted street. They usually had men steer victims to the game. For instance, a man meets another on the ford in the pages of The Nineteenth Century street, enters into a conversation, treats to a faro-bank to try his luck and asks his never hitherto given the least indication of him, and then insinuates that he is going up friend to accompany him and look on. They himself or anything else, but has been a go up, the 'capper,' buys a stack of chips, with money which, of course, belongs to the bank; he stakes the victim and they both and of as much disgust to that of his wife, a play. For a short period they are allowed daughter of the Duke of Abercorn, who has to win, and then they commence to lose, on more than one occasion been compelled by capper' apparently losing as much as the victim. It generally ends in the 'sucker' from him. The turn he has now taken will be ascribed by many to a desire to put himlosing every cent, and after he has departed the 'capper' gets forty per cent. of the winnings, the dealer ten, the remainder doubtless be freely hinted that he is not the going to the bank. A good 'brace' dealer doubtless be freely hinted that he is not the commands a large salary in gambling cir-

"Who has made the largest winning in

"It is a profession of heart-aches and re- ings an acre, payment for which may be morse. If a man is in any business he had made by easy installments, and an annual better leave gambling alone, for in the end ground rent of one per cent. on the amount. and to a great extent incurably barbarous, mach, lower the temperature, and dilutes the he will come out a heavy loser. A man out It is perceived that the only chance possessthat is a position susceptiable of a great deal gastric juices; therefore a horse should not of business, who has nothing to lose and all ed by England of retaining her colonies is by age to live by gambling, but it is a very Cape two-thirds of the white population are precarious existence."

leaven the lump. Amateurs and Editors.

A gentleman calls at a French jeweler's London to have a memorial ring, containing the hair of relatives, repaired. The good man said; "Eh bien! Ya-as, it shall be done," continuing, "zare is notting lik ze hair, it last a l'eternite, wiz care. Now, here is pretty ting, vach chain, moch better zan gold : besides it make you tink. Suppose you are out witz friends, you look at your vatch vith gold chain, and you say it is 10 o'clock, and you put him back; zat is all. But suppose you have chain of madame's hair, zen you remembre; you say it is 10 o'clock, yere is my poor wife waiting for me, I shall go; chez mot. I shall go home -[Forney's Progress.]

John Bright has discovered a curious resemblance between the handwritings of Victor Hugo and Carlyle.

Prof. Swing says "the coming man will be temperate, chaste, merciful, just, generous, charitable, large-hearted, sweet-tempered, Christian, a good neighbor and a faithful citizen." And he might have added, he will be some time in coming

Bue's composition on the rhinocerous: The from which a prize of 2,500 francs was to be | rinozerus lives in Ashar and you kant stick given away every five years for the best trea- | a pin in 'im cause hiz weskit is bilt ov ole tise upon the real signs of death and the stoves. When a rinozerus is gonter be kild cording to the scientific feuilleton of the he'll kno something of it an' try to to' mak