It moved apparently to the north-east, and seemed to lower itself for a moment to the earth, and then lifted itself again to a higher elevation, and moved onward in the upper region of the air until it was out of sight. Reports from Assyria say that the cyclone visited that township, blowing down Henry Ellis' house and barn, but his stock was saved. The chimneys of the house of Mr. Baker, just east of Mir. Ellis', was blown off, and the barn uproofed. Mr. Cummings' windmill was demolished, his barn roof blown off, and all the tences in the course of the track of the cyclone was flattened to the ground. So far no personal injury is reported from this neighborhood. At Hickory Corners, in Barry county, the house of Mr. Roraback was unroofed, and he and his wife severely injured. > Europe was convulsed from one end to the other, and the funds everywhere were rising and falling with the changing fortunes of successive campaigns. Rumor, with its innumerable tongues, was mingling truth with falsehood in almost inextricable confusion, and making the wildest forecast of probabilities. At first Rothschild felt his way cautiously with an extraordinary tact. With constant practice his tact developed nto a genius which seized the occasions for its exercise when less prudent men stood hesitating and so missed the golden chance. As his speculations turned steadily to gains, he played his game with increasing assurance, by securing exclusive and early information. When once a man can make his game upon certainties, his gains are only to be measured by his credit. COMFORT BY THE WAY.

The small boy's idea of genuino comfort and happiness was to be pitched into a pond of ice cream whose shores were made of sponge cake. His misery was the absence of these pleasant substances. That boy simply represents humanity. Comfort is appreciated by contrast-we enjoy a thing in proportion to our conception of the disadvantages of our depriva-tion thereof. This applies to material things as well as to immaterial considerations. The fcicle, whose apleakness sends the shiver of discomfort through the observer, would suggest notions of the coolest comfort in hot and sultry days of the summer season. And in both seasons—that in which the icicle flourishes best and in the one wherein its absence is conspicuous-that most uncomfortable and torturing disease, rheumatism, plentifully abounds, causing pain and agony to myriads of people.
And yet it need not be thus afflictive
if sufferers would only use St. Jacobs OIL, the surest, safest and speediest remedy in the whole world for the eradication and cure of rheumatism and all painful ailments. The following from the R ochester (Ind.) Sentinel shows how some people attend to their rheumatism: "When a young husband had gone from home, and with fond solicitude telegraphed his little wife-'What have you for brenkfast, and how's the baby?' he received the brief, practical and suggestive reply— Buckwheat cakes and the measles. We have the report of a case in our midst, not where measles was in the bill of fare. Lut where sciatic rheumatism confined Mr. J.
