A 'Cute Bird.
A few days ago, says the Truro Sun, a little canary owned by a child in Maitland, N. S., gave a remarkable exhibition of intelligence. The little thing was evidently suffering from thirst. The water in its cup was very low, too low for it to reach it with its beak. After making several unsuccessful attempts to reach the water, it sat on the perch a moment or two evidently in a contemplative mood. It then suddenly turned around, pulled a feather from its tail, took it by the butt in its beak, dipped it in the water at the bottom of the cup, drew it up, placed the feather crosswise on the perch, put one foot upon it, then reached to the wet end, and with its beak took the moisture from the feather. It was seen to perform this feat more than a dozen times.

The Dominion Parliament is further prorogued till Sept. 16th.
A Westminster farmer fell in front of his mowing machine on Thursday and received fatal injuries.
The crops in the north-west of Ireland are reported to be in a frightful condition, owing to the prolonged wet weather.
The rumour that the Prince of Wales is again hard up gains ground. His liabilities are set down at £600,000, of which £100,000 are due to his wine merchant.

A young woman of Campbellford went to the circus in Belleville, and in exchange for a four dollar bill received some worthless advertising scrip and her ticket. She did not discover the fraud that had been perpetrated till she got home. The ticket was purchased from the circus agent.
The Morris Herald reports that the Mennonite straw furnace is being adopted in that vicinity, and with coal at $19 a ton, and wood at $7 a cord, and straw for nothing, one would suppose that every farmer would try it.
The surprising announcement is made that the Czar and Czarina of Russia are to visit Copenhagen some time this month, but the closest secrecy is to be observed as to the date and manner of their embarkation.

Archbishop Lynch announced on Sunday that the Pope had created a new diocese in Canada, that of Peterborough, with Mgr. Jamot, of Braxburgh, formerly Vicar-General in Toronto, and now Vicar-Apostolic of Northern Canada, as bishop. The new diocese will comprise the counties of Victoria, Peterborough, Durham and Northumberland, which are to be taken from the diocese of Kingston.
Mr. J. B. Abrams, of Savannah, Ga., writes under date of July 24, 1882:—
"I had the pleasure a few days ago of seeing a horse colt which I think is the smallest specimen of the horse family in the world. It was foaled a few days before I saw it at the veterinary stables of Mr. H. V. Farrell, and measured 13 inches in height and 3 1/4 inches from tip of nose to root of tail. This curious specimen of the equine genus is the produce of a Texas mare, six years old, belonging to Mr. W. Sneed, the editor of the Savannah Times, who takes pleasure in exhibiting it to his friends."

AND NOW TO THE FAMOUS BUSINESS.

You who work hard for your dollars, learn how to save them.

After the middle of July has passed the merchants generally concede that the bulk of their business is over. This is not the case at the City Store. We propose to sell as many goods during July and August as we did in May and June, and to effect that result we have marked down our goods so low, and constantly renewing our stock to meet the increased demand at about one-half the original cost, that we are now offering inducements that will crowd our store until the Fall Season sets in. Ladies' goods of all the latest novelties now in stock. We believe in keeping well assorted all the season through, so that our customers can always depend on getting all their wants supplied. Children's goods of all kinds makes us sell very close, in order to attract the older members of the family to the City Store.
