A LIBERAL CONVENTION.

It affords us, as well as every other reform journalist, much pleasure to announce that the Hon. Oliver Mowat, Premier of Ontario, has called a Liberal Convention to be held in Toronto on Wednesday and Thursday, the 3rd and 4th of January next, in order that a free interchange of views and opinions on various matters of Provincial importance may be had, and that the policy of the Liberal party on such measures may be brought as prominently as possible before the public. In order to secure a very numerous attendance of delegates, meetings for their selection will be necessary in every municipality, and it is suggested that such meetings be held not later than the week before Christmas. We have not yet heard of any preliminary steps having been taken, but shall no doubt have news to that effect in next Saturday's issue.

Hon. S. C. Wood's Retirement.

The announcement in this week's Post that the Hon. S. C. Wood is about to retire from the political arena to private life will surprise those who are not aware that he has had such a course in contemplation for some time past, and will cause a feeling of regret among reformers from one end of the Province to the other. When we first learned his intention two or three weeks ago, we also heard that the most strenuous efforts were being made, not only by his friends and supporters generally but by his colleagues in the Government, to induce him to forego that intention, and we are sorry to hear that those efforts have all been in vain. Mr. Wood's political career has been so brilliant and successful—so creditable to himself and satisfactory to his constituents—that no small degree of astonishment will probably be felt at his determination to bring it to an abrupt and premature close; but we are bound to admit that his reasons, which are entirely of a private nature, are sufficiently urgent to justify his decision.

Hotel Robbery.

Last Saturday three French-Canadians who work in a slanty in Somerville came to the Falls to see their employer, and put up for the night at the Simpson House, and after they had left on Sunday morning Mr. Simpson missed about $60 worth of his own clothing and a bag and three valises, all containing wearing apparel, which had been left in his charge by parties who had come to the village looking for work. The valises, cut open and empty, were discovered hidden under the Frenchman's beds, but the bag could not be found. A constable was promptly sent to the slanty after the suspected men, two of whom were arrested and brought back to the Falls, where they were put in the lock-up all night, and on Monday they were taken before Robert McFarland, J. P., but as none of the missing property was found in their possession and there was no evidence against them they had to be discharged. The third man had disappeared, and the supposition is that the bag (which would hold about two bushels) and the stolen clothing disappeared with him.

SOIREE.—A soiree in connection with the Fenelon Falls Presbyterian Church will be held in Ingram's hall on Thursday evening next. Tickets for adults 25 cents; children under twelve years of age 15 cents.

TEN CENT SOCIAL.—We are requested to give notice that a ten cent social will be given at the Rectory on the evening of Thursday, the 28th inst., the proceeds of which will be applied for the matting of St. James's Church.

WOOD WANTED.—Owing to the sudden and unexpected breaking up of sleighing last year we commenced the present winter with a much smaller stock of wood than usual, and it those of our subscribers who generally pay in that article will bring it in at once we shall feel much obliged to them.

HARD DRIVEN.—Between job printing, Jack Frost and Christmas advertising we have had a pretty hard week of it, as may be inferred from the appearance of the Gazette. It is good for us to have our readers, who we hope are not so selfish as to begrudge us an extra column or two of the paper during the holiday season.

STARTLED.—While Mr. Jno. Nugent and his wife and mother-in-law were seated at dinner on Wednesday, they were startled by a crashing of glass in the skylight overhead and the fall of a smooth, round stone that weighed about two or three ounces. Whether it was sent up from the canal, in which a terrific blast had just been fired, or was dropped by Venus in her transit, which she was then in the act of making, is an open question, but the first supposition is most probably correct.

NORTH VICTORIA.—Mr. James Dickson, president of the North Victoria Reform Association, has authorized us to announce that a Liberal Convention, for the purpose of nominating a candidate at the coming election, will be held some time during Christmas week. The place and date will be announced in the usual manner as soon as they have been decided upon. As the elections will come off in March, if not a month earlier, no time is to be lost, and Mr. Dickson's prompt action so soon after his return home is therefore to be commended.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.—Whether our town and councillors are to be re-elected en masse, or whether all or any of them are to be opposed we do not know; for there appears to be as little interest taken in the approaching municipal election as if they were three months instead of only three weeks distant. We dare say, however, that when the time comes there will be numerous aspirants to office; but as we haven't yet the faintest idea who they will be it is impossible for us to say anything regarding their merits or demerits. The present incumbents have excited very few comments, either favorable or unfavorable, and have probably run the municipal machine as well as their severest critics could have done it.

SNOW STORM.—Snow is a capital thing—at the proper time of year and in reasonable quantities, but just now there is a great deal too much of it. Early on Thursday morning a violent storm set in apparently from every direction, and covered the ground so rapidly that the train from the north arrived here more than an hour late and left with two engines attached, and the train from the south had to be cancelled, so that we were minus our mail. This (Friday) forenoon an engine and snow plough cleared the track sufficiently to enable the train from Lindsay to arrive about her usual time, 4:40 p. m., but snow has been falling steadily all day, with no appearance of intending to stop, so that another blockade to-morrow will not surprise us.

Distress in Ireland.

It has been officially reported to the Government that widespread distress is feared in Ireland this winter. The district most seriously affected through want of employment on the farms and the potato crop are Sligo, Ballina, Swinford, and the greater portion of Galway. There is much destitution in West Clare and Connaught. Owing to the continuously heavy demands upon Irishmen in America to support the Land League, there has been a considerable decrease in their remittances. This has reduced many to the condition of being unable to purchase new seed.

An Awkward Predicament.

DETROIT, Dec. 4.—During the low water in the river a day or two ago Denis Barron, a well-known Essex grain buyer, went shooting near the mouth of the Canard River. As he did not return at dark his friends became alarmed, and Thomas Reaume, of Ardorlon, and others went in search of him. They found the boat at the mouth of the river, and Mr. Barron stuck in the mud. The water being very low, he had jumped out of the boat to walk ashore, when he stuck in the clay, where he had remained. When found he was nearly famished, having been in that position several hours, unable to free himself. He was taken to the nearest house, and with the aid of a physician and considerable muscle was rubbed into shape again. If he had remained a few hours longer he would surely have been drowned by inches, for the water backed up several feet shortly after.

A Terrible Tragedy.

A terrible scene was witnessed last week at the Coliseum, in Cincinnati. The play was St. Slocum, a picture of California's life, presented by Frank I. Frayne and his company. In the fourth act it becomes necessary for Ruth Slo cum, the part taken by Miss Anna Von Behren, to save her husband's life, to allow an apple to be shot from her head by her husband. When the play reached this point there was a breathless silence in the theatre. Every eye was fastened on the stage when the pretty young actress stood immovable with the apple upon her head, while thirty feet backwards over his shoulder. Every ear was strained to catch the report. Frayne was unusually deliberate. For a moment he stood adjusting the weapon and steadying the sight. At last, after what seemed minutes to the spectators, he pulled the trigger. Instead of the sharp report that the rifle should have made, there came a muffled explosion like a shot heard from afar, and a little puff of smoke came from both the muzzle and the breach of the weapon. Ruth stood for a second and then fell backward on the stage. The ball had entered the young woman's forehead and caused instant death. The man has since been put on trial, and liberated, as the accident was caused by the snapping of a pin which held up the barrel of the rifle. The victim was a beautiful girl, 23 years of age, and was engaged to be married to Frayne, who is said to be nearly crazy with grief.

A net-or weighing about 300 pounds fell at Mount Airy, N. C., on Friday. The evidence against Arabi is accumulating in a manner that bodes little good to his case.

The coroner's jury on the Halifax poorhouse tragedy has returned a verdict censuring the officials of the institution for neglecting to provide for the escape of the inmates of the hospital ward.

The Marquis and the Farmer.

INTERVIEW BETWEEN A SURPRISED NEBRASKA FARMER AND LORD LORNE.

The following letter, descriptive of an interview of a Nebraska farmer is published by the Ardisson Herald—

VALLEY STATION, DOUGLAS COUNTY, Nebraska, October 6, 1882.

DEAR SIR.—I have had a visit from the Marquis of Lorne, the Governor-General of Canada. Along with him were the Princess Louise and suite, who were on a tour through the country to the Rocky Mountains. They came up to my house and stayed for three hours, and the Princess took a sketch of my whole place—farm house, stabling, wire fence and all the trees I had planted myself about three years since. The Marquis and the Princess both shook hands with me when they came up, but did not say who they were for over an hour. He asked me where I came from, I told him I came from Kilsinning, Ayrshire, Scotland. He said he was a countryman of mine, and Lady Campbell, his sister, was a countrywoman of mine. So then he asked me how long I had been in this country; so I told him I had been six years; and he asked me if the farm was in cultivation when I came to it. I said no, it was all wild prairie. I asked him how long he had been in this country. He said he had been four years. I said: Where have you been putting yourself all these four years? He said he had been in Canada. I have a large picture of the Prince of Wales and Princess of Wales, in a very fine black walnut frame. He looked all around the room, and then he said—You have got my wife's brother here. Your wife's brother? Do you know who that is, sir? Yes, I do, he said. Well, I ran out of the house to look at the Princess Louise, for I had seen her before. Then I said—good Lord, is it possible! I am talking to the Marquis of Lorne and don't know it. Then I was astounded myself after the way I had spoken to him, and he laughed at me and told me then that he was the Governor-General of Canada. Then he asked me what family I had. I said I had two sons here, 18 and 20 years old. "Then," said he, "if you will send them over to me in British Columbia, I shall give you 320 acres of the best land that is in that country for nothing." He took my address and asked me if I would come. I said I would think about it. So since he went I had a letter from him last week to see if I had made up my mind to come, and he sent me about 400 pamphlets to distribute among farmers in my neighbourhood. I have given the conversation as spoken by the Marquis and myself, but in very broad Scotch, I am, etc. JOHN REID.

Killed by a Threshing Machine.

THOS. McLEAR, a young man of the village of Victoria, came to his death last week in a terrible manner. He had asked permission to feed a threshing machine for a few minutes and was allowed to do so. Taking a sheaf of wheat with his right hand he proceeded to feed it in the cylinder with his left, when to the horror of the bystanders his left arm was caught by the teeth and literally jerked from his body. The bone of the arm came away at the shoulder socket, and the flesh was torn and the sinews and tendons were drawn from away across the back and down the side before they broke. The blood spurted out in a stream, while the arm went through the machine and was delivered in fragments by the straw carriers. McLEAR stepped down from the foot-board and started to walk home, a distance of about a mile, while a messenger was at once despatched for a doctor. The wounded man trudged along manfully, the blood flowing in torrents. On the road a man—or brute rather—drove past, but refused to give McLEAR a ride because "his blood would dirty the buggy." Reaching the hotel the wounded man stopped for a few moments, and then walked into his father's house. Dr. McARTHY and Oldright soon arrived, but found upon examination that the main artery had drawn so far out before breaking that it could not be reached. Internal hemorrhage was the result, and the patient died next morning. McLEAR was a promising young athlete, highly esteemed for his excellent qualities by all who knew him, and his terrible death is therefore all the more regretted.

Arabi's Trial Ended.

CATRO, Dec. 3.—Arabi pleaded guilty to the charge of rebellion before the court-martial this morning. The proceedings lasted only a few minutes. This afternoon the court re-assembled and pronounced sentence of death on Arabi. The Khedive subsequently commuted the sentence to exile for life. It is believed Arabi will retire to some part of the British Dominions. His demeanor before the court was very dignified. Arabi will be amenable to the sentence of death if he re-enters Egypt or its dependencies.

A little pup that has created much interest among the dog-fanciers of Picton, N. S., at the age of three days weighed one ounce and a half. It is brown in color, strong, active, and perfectly formed. It is about the size of a full grown mouse.

News is to hand of the burning of the steam barge R. G. Petes on Lake Michigan, off Milwaukee. The captain and crew of twelve men were all lost. The schooner H. Folger has become a total wreck on the shoals off Salmon Point, with all hands lost.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful Cough Medicine we have ever sold, a few doses invariably cure the worst cases of Cough, Croup and Bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a Cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cts. 50 cts. and $1. If your Lungs are sore, Chest or Back lame, use Shiloh's Pectoral Plaster. John Nugent, Wholesale and Retail Agent.

A parrot has just died in Quebec that could talk in three languages—English, French and German, and could also recite long quotations from Shakespeare and other writers. It was a very clever bird.

SHILOH'S CATARRH REMEDY. A marvelous cure for Catarrh, Diphtheria, Canker Mouth and Head Ache. With each bottle there is an ingenious nasal Injector, for the more successful treatment of these complaints, without extra charge. John Nugent, Wholesale and Retail Agent.

One of Kingston's citizens is inventing a machine for plucking feathers out of fowls. If he perfects his invention, says the Daily News, he will make a fortune out of it, as it is economical as well as labor saving.

The shocking spectacle of a child only eight years old helplessly drunk was seen upon the streets of London, Ont., the other day. When taken before the Police Court he confessed to having used whisky on previous occasions.

Answer This Question.

Why do so many people we see around us prefer to suffer and be made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, Dizziness, Loss of Appetite, Coming up of the Food, Yellow Skin, when for 75 cts. we sell them Shiloh's Vitalizer, guaranteed to cure them. John Nugent, Wholesale and Retail Agent.
