A Level-Headed "Crank."

Congressman Robinson, of New York, has long been the target for sneers and misrepresentation at the hands of the colonialist press and the Anglomaniaes among his own countrymen, but all the same he is one of the most level-headed members of the Washington house. He has introduced a resolution into congress providing for a return to the Democratic simplicity of the ceremonies on the inferable to runners. It prohibits the erection of triumphal arches, the military display and the ostentation in equipage and decorations which have been since introduced, and savour more of a coronation than the installation of a Democratic president. The resolution is not likely to pass, for the Americans have departed greatly from the simple habits and ideas of the founders of the republic. But Congressman Robinson's action in offering it, in face of the ridicule of the snobs and would be aristocrats, who are tickled by the nickel plated imitation of monarchical style, is none the less commendable, and shows true Democratic spirit in an age of flummery and apish pretension. Robinson is often called a crank, but it would be a good thing for the American people if there were a few more such cranks in high places .- Toronto News.

Dynamiters Active.

LONDON, Dec'r 9 .- The Government namiters, and from present indications must have received some startling intelbeen taken for protecting all the members of the royal family from outrage. The guards at the Government buildings and railway stations have also been increased, and the Scotland Yard detectives are displaying an unusual amount of activity, which indicates that the Home Secretary must really believe that ted. It is rumoured the real cause of this display of precautionery measures by the authorities is that a large quantity of dynamite is missing from one of of which are not guarded during the night, and no measures have been taken to prevent their being robbed, although over them or compel the Company to employ watchmen for that purpose. COMMUNICATIONS.

To the Editor of the Fenelon Falls Gazette. You have done us the honour to devote the editorial in your last issue to a criticism of our article on the village council. You seem to complain that so few take advantage of your columns to discuss public matters. You say: "It is only before election times the indignation of some observant ratepayer gets the better of his modesty or laziness, and then you get something calculated to make the members of the council shiver in their shoes." We have taken the Gazette ever since it was first published, and do not believe a search of its old files would bear out this statement. You then taunt us with being "critical beyond use." and seem to think the subjects we spoke about as of so trifling a character as not to be worth noticing. It is quite evident you have taken the reputation of the council under your editorial wing, to defend them if you could by any line of argument justify their actions; but, knowing you cannot consistently do so, you have only one choice left, viz, adopt the role of a lawyer having a bad case and try to belittle the other side, and confess you know little ty cartridge case, and ejecting it from about the finances of the village, partly from a distaste for figures, partly because you had no idea that they were in such a bad state as is alleged, and chiefly the care of your own private affairs. We must confess we are deeply grieved at this lack of Mortgages and Notes negotiated. Collecassistant, will be at the McArthur ables it to keep up a continuous fire. lieve there was any individual of your intel- cuted at once. You were present at the nomination in December last, and you were present at the fire-protection meeting in May, and we did not think the astounding revelations of those two occasions would so soon have been loosed from the bonds of your memory. Apropos of the improvements, the question simply resolves itself into this: Can we afford it? Is the Sixty years ago not one person in Mad- council justified in incurring the outlay while they are making no preparation to meet it? Many private individuals would be glad to have better houses, better furnifact of getting a little help to load the carts and an occasional load drawn is no valid reason for rushing into debt. You cite the fact of Mr. Jackett being willing to wait 'till next year for part of his pay as one reason to justify the council. A year from next summer debentures to the amount of $2,000 will have to be met. The largest part of this has already been raised and illegally spent; the council are at present engaged in framing a by-law to raise $3,-000 more, and these amounts will have to be met as well as Mr. Jackett's bill. How are these, especially the $2,000, to be raised? We shall not be surprised to hear the reeve get up and boast at the next nomination of the large amount of improvements done without increasing the rate in the S; but a future council, and that at no distant date, will have a difficult task to perform You seem to think the erecting of one or two good buildings on a street a sufficient reason for an eleven plank sidewalk. We, on the other hand, are of the opinion that wherever the largest amount of travel is there also should be the best and widest sidewalks. When the two little "squirts," as you call them, were purchased, it was only after they had been well tried and found to be an excellent article in other places, and when kept in proper order they have in every instance proved themselves a good investment. But what can be said about the "toy"? It in its earliest days figured in Toronto, and after various perambulations reached Midland, where it was gladly disposed of simply because it was worthless; and, to say the very least, the council, before purchasing it, should have had it thoroughly tested by an expert; had they done so, it would not now be a tenant in the new house on the market square. We have no hesitation in predicting that if ever we are so unfortunate as to need its services, the little "squirts" will have to bear the brunt of the battle. Referring to the "joke" on Francis St. East, it might be authorities continue to receive alarming | well to inquire how many days elapsed afinformation as to the working of the dy- ter the purchase by McArthur & Thomson before the grading was begun.
