INVENTORY SALE.

Of Dry Goods, Carpets, Ready-Made Clothing, Millinery,

Mantles, Furs, Buffalo Robes, &c.

AT THE CITY STORE.

We take stock the 1st February—between times the prices will melt like ice in a bucket of hot water. Taking stock means a general overhauling of all goods in the store; and there are always some goods that have been overlooked, and some that have been a little off the colour most in demand, some remnants, some odd lines of this and some of that. At this season it is our usual custom to get all such goods together, and mark them at a price low enough to cause a stampede. This year is no exception, and we have only two weeks of January left to apply the pressure of our reduced prices on all classes of winter goods, we must act suddenly; and in order to do so, the prices have been lowered sufficiently to induce our customers to do likewise. Goods that should move in January are better sold for what they'll fetch than to carry them over until next winter. Our stock of Furs is very small, but what there is must go, 3 or 4 Buffalo Robes, 5 or 6 Ladies' Fur Mantles, a very few Fur Lined Circulars, 2 or 3 Men's Fur Coats, about a dozen Ladies' Muffs, and 12 or 15 Fur Caps comprise the balance of our stock. These are among the goods we mean to clear. We've Blankets, Comforters, Wines, Flannels, Cloth Mantles, Mantle Cloths, Woollen Goods, Shawls, &c., to meet the same fate. Shall we be frightened at a little present loss? That is not the way the business of the City Store was built.

We have Ready-Made Clothing, particularly Overcoats and Suits, that ought to be sold this month. It loses value every day it waits. That's why we put the price down. Call it advertising if you like. We want all the trade that is to be got, and may as well pay you for it as the newspapers. If you have not lost faith in advertisers, we ask you to consider the above remark. Come to the City Store and test for yourself their truthfulness. We invite your criticism of quality and price, and your verdict will be that they are as honest and square as the face of a new-born dollar bill.
