

DIAMONDS AND RUBIES

CHAPTER IV. (CONTINUED). While she sat like this, a silent figure of despair, something came to her—a sound—a very soft sound—which startled her intensely. She became another being on the instant—from an image of sorrow, with white cheeks and heavy eyes, she changed into a creature full of eager excitement; a flush came upon her face, her eyes were suddenly all aflame; for she recognized that song; it went to her heart and woke it.

me, do you know who it was that saw me leave the house that night? No one has told me; do you know?" "Yes," said George, "I do; it was Mrs. Riddell."

FOR THE FARMER - Sun Up Once A Year. The taking of an annual inventory will do as much for you as anything else to encourage good farming. Most farmers do not know exactly how much they make or how they lose money. They keep on in a certain line because they are used to it, and only change when necessity obliges them to do so.

SUNLESS LONDON. A Wall in the Fog. You wake in the morning, or are awakened, and find that the fog is so thick that you can see only a few feet in front of you. Only the growing sound of wheels, the increasing echo of street cries, and such like agreeable indications, persuade you that it is really 8 o'clock.

Origin of the Prairies. How were the prairie lands of the Northwest cleared? It is probably a question which has puzzled many. Mr. Ernest E. Eaton, of Carbury, has contributed a paper to the Winnipeg Historical Society, with the object of explaining it. He thinks the clearing was done by fire, and that the fire was the work of man, lightning being the only other admissible agency; but, as the fire took place in spring and fall, when lightning is very infrequent, and hardly ever destructive, this is almost precluded from consideration.

"Over and Over Again." Repetition is somewhat the only way to impress a truth upon the mind. Accordingly take notice that Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets," (his or girl Little Liver Pills) continue to be wonderfully effective in cases of sick and nervous headache, constipation, indigestion, rush of blood to the head, cold extremities, and all ailments arising from obstruction of the bodily functions. Their action is thorough yet gentle, and the ingredients being entirely vegetable, they can be taken with impunity into the most delicate stomach. All druggists.
